CLEAR 260 ACRE PARKING LOT FOR WILLKIE FETE

Arrange Space for 28,650 Autos.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Elwood, Ind., Aug. 5.—Fences were being removed today to convert wheat, clover and corn fields into a 260 acre parking area with a capacity of 28,650 automobiles. Highway crews are going to work tomorrow morning, oiling and scraping six miles of gravel road to form the approaches to this huge parking field.

These activities are part of a general hustle and bustle in this town of 11,000 population in preparation for at least 100,000 visitors on Aug. 17 when Wendell Willkie is to accept the Republican Presidential nomination in a speech here.

The 100,000 figure is just guessing. The local arrangements committee guesses 300,000, and one guess is as good as another.

The throng will move here free of any military discipline, and free of the compulsion or orders such as have been introduced into American political demonstrations during the last eight years.

Recalls Lincoln-Douglas Era.

The event is to be more like the gatherings from the countryside that attended the Lincoln-Douglas debates. Instead of coming from one or two counties in slow buggies and wagons, the bulk of the crowd will assemble from a radius of 300 miles, coming in fast automobiles over smooth pavements.

From more distant parts of the country—and also from some of the cities, including Chicago, within this 300 mile radius—there will be special trains bringing thousands. The outlook is that the two railroads which cross here will bring about 40,000 passengers. This is approximately their capacity with the most efficient use of their rails. Freight trains are being detoured for the day.

Only two highways, Indiana 28 and 13, pass thru this home town of the Republican nominee, where he is to launch his campaign.

Highways Are Reserved.

Indiana state police have assigned 140 troopers to ease travel on these highways within a radius of 25 miles of Elwood. From early in the morning of Saturday, Aug. 17, until late that night the pavements will be reserved for the exclusive use of travel to and from the celebration. Every street in the town has been closed to all traffic except that related to the event.

Visiting automobiles will be guided over one-way routes directly to the parking fields contiguous to a park of 40 acres where Willkie will deliver his acceptance speech.

In addition to the 260 acres abutting the city park, the arrangements committee headed by Homer Capehart of Washington, Ind., has taken option on 100 acres of adjacent field for any overflow. Under the parking scheme adopted for this event, an acre will accommodate 150 automobiles, but some rough spots cannot be used.

Park Without Charge.

The plan is familiar to farmers who have attended Indiana's big husking bees. In the 260 acres, 40 miles of wire will be strung between 4,000 posts set in long rows 58 feet apart. Cars will be parked with front bumpers to these wires. The parking attendants will total 112 afoot and eight on horseback. The parking is free.

The cars can be lined up in the fields faster than they can arrive on the approaches. In building the special roads, the capacity of the approaches has been doubled to accommodate approximately 10,000 automobiles an hour.

To invite early arrival, an entertainment program of band music and singing by radio, screen, and stage stars will start at 10 o'clock in the morning, five hours before Willkie is scheduled to appear in the park after receiving his notification before a necessarily limited audience on the steps of his old high school, beneath the inscription, "The Hope of Our Country." Entertainment will continue after the candidate leaves the park, in an effort to spread the dispersal of the crowd over several hours.

A proposal that motorists leave their automobiles at cities within a range of 50 miles and travel to Elwood by bus was abandoned. It was found that not enough buses would be available, and the committee recognized a peculiarity of American travel habits favoring use of private automobile from home to ultimate destination.

Over streets freed of vehicles, arrivals on the special trains will march behind bands to the celebration park, about three-fourths of a mile. In the park, shaded by giant elms, maples, and beach trees, will be 30,000 seats and an almost unlimited area for standing or sitting, in the grass, with amplifiers bringing every word from the speakers' stands.

Special mains carry water to drinking fountains in the park. Restrooms are being built under army specifications as to number. Lunch counters will sell food and cold drinks.

FARM BELT CITY CHEERS WILLKIE AND HIS VIEWS

Experts of 10 States at Iowa Parley.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 5.—Wendell L. Willkie met with farmers, editors, and politicians of 10 midwestern states here today as a preliminary and educational move in his campaign for the Presidency, which will begin in earnest next month.

The Republican nominee, who is himself a farm owner, learned at first hand from practical farmers the problems which must be solved and listened to dozens of theories and plans. Whatever decision he has reached will be announced in his acceptance speech of Aug. 17.

In the home state of Secretary of Agriculture and Vice Presidential Candidate Henry A. Wallace, Willkie praised Wallace as a gentleman and scholar, but said that he disagreed with him in his New Deal agricultural policies. He would conduct the campaign on these issues, he said, not on personalities.

Given Warm Welcome.

Willkie was given a warm welcome in Des Moines. He was the center of crowds all day. Statehouse and hotel lobbies and street cars were jammed with people wherever Willkie appeared. Some 4,000 gathered at the capitol steps at noon to cheer him. There were crowds on the street corners near his hotel.

The chief political importance of this appearance of Willkie in Des Moines is the effect which he left on the 60 or more agricultural experts and farmers who attended the conference in the governor's office. Willkie impressed them with his quick grasp of their problems and his sympathetic attitude. He held out a hope to them that the farm might be made to pay, that there is a new horizon opening to farmers and new uses for their products which eventually may make government aid unnecessary.

Build New Farm Economy.

There is no question of the immediate discontinuance of federal aid, but rather of a decentralization of control, and who shall be trusted to administer the farm program, with the building of a new farm economy as the basis of the Republican viewpoint.

Willkie's chief public appearance was on the steps of the gold-domed capitol shortly after noon.

With the governors of four states present, Republican candidates for governor, and representatives of six other states, Willkie walked down thru a cheering lane of people to face the crowd on the steps.

Shout "We Want Willkie!"

"We want Willkie!" many of them yelled. Willkie saluted them by waving his $1.50 straw brimmer in gay salute.

Gov. George A. Wilson of Iowa presented him as "The next President of the United States," which raised a new cheer.

Willkie recalled that he had spoken here on May 17 last, in his second preconvention campaign speech. It was during this week that he began to take his campaign for the nomination seriously.

"You are half responsible for all my

FRENCH PREPARE TO TRY DALADIER AND OTHER LEADERS ACCUSED OF PLUNGING AN ILL-PREPARED NATION INTO WAR AND DISASTER

A useful warning not to go to war when ill-prepared.

We all remember what a grand fight he made to hold his American troops together as a national unit in spite of efforts to dissipate them as allied replacements.

There are still cheerful souls who wonder if they are still biting up in Wisconsin as well as in Washington.

Writers See 'Scream Bombers'

BY PRESTON GROVER.

GHENT, Belgium, Aug. 5 (AP).—At one of the hidden bomber bases from which Germany strikes across the English channel I have seen the Stukas [dive bombers], called the Nazis' most powerful air weapon, rehearse their screaming attacks.

With a party of other foreign newspaper correspondents I saw the hidden airdrome with its camouflaged guns and planes at the end of a flight along the Belgian-French shore of the English channel in a Messerschmitt escorted transport plane.

We landed, inland from Boulogne, in northern France on a cloverfield used as an attack air base.

Not until we were on the ground could we see the rows of antiaircraft guns guarding the field or the fighter planes parked under trees.

At a rocket signal six of the planes roared out from shelter. The last was in the air within 50 seconds. We were told pilots in relays sit by six or more of the planes day and night, ready for instant action aloft.

Main Job to Escort Bombers.

"Our main job," the flight commander explained, "is to accompany bombers which come from farther inland for business over England."

A young flyer told me that he had brought down three of 73 planes credited to his squadron since the war began.

I watched the dive bombers in a demonstration. They have sirens attached to each wheel support, operated by tiny propellers.

They climbed to 15,000 feet, then screamed down at us making the most horrifying noise I ever heard. The sound swelled as the planes came down until the whole sky seemed filled with it.

The planes pulled out of the dive and went over us at a hedge clipping elevation, wavering and dodging to show how they evade antiaircraft fire.

Terror to Troops and Ships.

German officers said the Stukas are of tremendous effect because of their extreme accuracy, the awful force with which they hurl their bombs, and the demoralization they cause among troops.

Thirty Stukas in the group we saw were claimed to have sunk "several times 10,000 tons" of English shipping, and forced the surrender of 18,000 Netherlands troops within an hour near Dortrecht.

We started near Ghent, flew to the coast, went over Dunkirk, but turned inland before we reached Calais, nearest German-held coastal point to England and possible take-off center for a long-awaited invasion.

We met no English planes. I saw no ships afloat—only the partly sunken wreckage of boats at Dunkirk from which the British embarked in the last hours of the battle of Flanders early in June. Dunkirk, itself, was like a spectacle from a nightmare. Amid its ruin of buildings not a single person could be seen.

Lying in the mud of drained canals or just offshore with only their masts showing above the water were 11 large sized vessels. The shoreline was strewn with dozens of smaller ships from launch size to light coast patrol boats rushed across the bomb churned channel from England to save stranded troops.

There was no way of telling how many other ships were sunk farther off shore where the water is deeper and their masts would not show.

Advantage Over Troops.

Field Marshal General Albert Kesserling, in charge of the Nazi airforce of the northwest district opposite England, said fully 40 per cent of the British ships which reached Dunkirk never got away.

From the air we could see the advantage warplanes have over ground troops. Over the ground where the British fell back toward Dunkirk we could see clumps of trees where soldiers apparently had sought shelter from planes. Bomb craters could be seen around them.

Around Courtral [Belgium], however, there was little sign of severe fighting. Fields were dotted with rows of bundled grain. We saw no houses wrecked, but the bomb craters made it easy to trace the battle lines.

Village after village of central and western Belgium and northwestern France showed no signs of fighting nor preparations for further activity.

PUT CENSORSHIP ON NEWS OF LAKE SHIP MOVEMENTS

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 5 [Special].—Distribution of information regarding the movements of lake ships was restricted today by the Great Lakes Towing company "in coöperation" with the government.

Robert A. Lovelace, manager of the Hand & Johnson Tug Line, Buffalo subsidiary of the firm, could give little information regarding the move, other than to say that it was in line with national defense activities.

In Cleveland, Chester W. Willett, president of the Great Lakes company, said: "We are now refusing to give out information promiscuously. We shall not give answers to telephone calls for information, unless we are sure to whom we are talking." Willett denied the government ordered the action.

STREICHER, NAZIS' NO. 1 JEW BAITER, REPORTED DEAD

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—A Reuters, British news agency, dispatch said tonight Julius Streicher, governor of Franconia and Germany's No. 1 Jew baiter, was dead, according to reports from a well informed source in Germany. The news agency dated its story from the "German frontier."

Streicher, 55 years old, was with Adolf Hitler in Munich last Nov. 8 when a bomb exploded in a beer hall soon after Hitler departed. He was with Hitler in the abortive Munich putsch in 1923 and was imprisoned with Hitler.

Streicher had considerable influence with Hitler. He advocated the removal of Jews from German business. He also demanded the razing of synagogues. Those at Munich and Nuremberg soon were demolished. Streicher founded the newspaper Der Stuermer [The Stormer], using it for violent attacks on Jews. At other times he likened Hitler to Christ.

4 MEN DIE, THREE IN FUTILE EFFORT TO SAVE OTHERS

Bristol, N. H., Aug. 5 (AP).—Four men—three of them firemen attempting rescues—died today at the bottom of a 50 foot well when they were overcome by gas fumes and toppled into seven feet of water.

First of the victims was a workman engaged in pumping out the well with a gasoline pump. The three firemen, one of them a bridegroom of a week, were overcome, one by one, as each descended when he saw the other topple over.

The dead were Martin Kease, 45 years old, the workman; Earl R. Wells, 22, who was married a week ago; Forest H. Martin, 40, Wells' brother-in-law, and Verne A. Tilton, 45.

A fourth fireman, Albert Paddleford, 50, was overcome in the rescue attempt, but was revived at a hospital. All five were taken from the water by gas-masked rescuers. Firemen tried for several hours to revive the victims with inhalators.

German Radio Goes Off Air to Make 'Alterations'

New York, Aug. 5 (AP).—The entire German radio system is going off the air until 4:15 a. m., Chicago time, Tuesday, for "technical alterations," according to an English language broadcast of the German radio heard here tonight by NBC. The station went silent immediately after the announcement was heard at 10:22 p. m., Chicago time.

DEBATE ON MOBILIZATION OF GUARD ROUSES STORM

PROBE NEW DEAL PRESSURE TO PUT PERSHING ON AIR

(Picture on page 2.)
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—James L. Fly, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, admitted tonight that he "discussed" in advance the allotment by three major broadcasting systems of free time for Gen. John J. Pershing's radio speech last night.

Climaxing an extraordinary campaign by interventionist forces in and out of the Roosevelt administration for immediate action to "stop Hitler," the world war commander of the American Expeditionary force urged that at least 50 American destroyers be turned over to Great Britain.

Promises Senate Inquiry.

Reports that Chairman Fly virtually ordered the radio chains to allot free time for Gen. Pershing's speech brought from Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], chairman of the interstate commerce committee, the announcement that a senate investigation will be conducted.

"If Mr. Fly put any official pressure on the broadcasting companies he violated the law because he has no such authority under the federal communications act," said Wheeler, whose committee handles all legislation affecting the FCC. "Such a thing would be outrageous. I certainly intend to go to the bottom of this thing."

The investigation will begin tomorrow, Wheeler said, when the committee questions David Sarnoff, president of Radio Corporation of America and chairman of the board of the National Broadcasting company. Sarnoff has been called to testify in connection with President Roosevelt's reappointment of Thad H. Brown as a member of the FCC.

Fly May Be Called.

Chairman Wheeler indicated that Fly will be called later if the examination of Sarnoff and possibly other broadcasting officials tends to corroborate the reports of improper official influence in arranging the Pershing broadcast.

Reached by telephone in San Francisco, Cal., where he is attending the convention of the National Association of Broadcasters, Fly denied tonight that he either ordered or requested the radio officials to allot time for the Pershing speech. But he did not deny that he "discussed" the proposed broadcast.

"I discussed it but I did not make any appeal," he said. "I was aware of the matter, as were many others. Of course Gen. Pershing would get the time anyway. It was an educational speech, the type that the broadcasting companies should be glad to get. It was a public service for them."

Admit It's Unusual.

Fly was informed that some radio officials said they were reluctant to allot time for the speech. He was asked whether it is not extraordinary for all three major broadcasting systems to allot free time to any speaker other than the President.

"Yes, it is an extraordinary thing, but of course Gen. Pershing is an extraordinary character," the FCC chairman replied.

Fly conceded he has no authority under the federal communications act to use his official influence to obtain time allotments by the radio chains. He steadfastly refused to identify any of the persons with whom he discussed the Pershing broadcast. Asked specifically whether he discussed it with Joseph W. Alsop Jr., newspaper columnist and a distant cousin of President Roosevelt, Fly was noncommittal. "I don't think it's necessary for me to discuss that," he said.

Report Pepper Activity.

According to reports emanating from broadcasting circles here and in New York, Alsop, Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], the senate's foremost interventionist, and representatives of William Allen White's committee to defend America by aiding the allies, made arrangements for the Pershing speech and the allotment of radio time. Alsop was described as the go-between in negotiations with Charman Fly and the broadcasting officials.

Radio officials also said they understood that Alsop received his "inspiration" for the Pershing broadcast from the White House. It is known that advocates of the proposed destroyer deal have received sympathetic consideration in discussing it with the President.

Draft Bill Approved by Committee, 13 to 3.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] led a bipartisan attack on alarmists, war propaganda, and war hysteria today as the senate began debate on President Roosevelt's request for authority to mobilize the National Guard and to raise a mass conscript army.

Senator Wheeler said the people have heard the cry of "emergency, emergency, emergency" so long that it had ceased to mean anything.

"The only emergency I see is that an election is coming on," he declared.

Altho the noninterventionists did not mention it in today's debate, except in general attacks on efforts to foment war hysteria, a subject that was uppermost in their minds was the administration's new campaign for authority to release 50 or more American destroyers to Great Britain.

Assail Pershing Proposal.

The noninterventionists characterized the radio speech delivered last night by Gen. John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Force in the world war, as an administration project to foment alarm, set the congressional stage for consideration of the National Guard mobilization and conscription schemes, and soften opposition to the drive for further participation in the European war by releasing American naval vessels to Great Britain.

The 79 year old retired general of the armies delivered his speech urging the release of at least 50 destroyers to Great Britain over the national networks of all three major broadcasting systems, the officials of which yielded to administration pressure and donated the time.

Bone Deplores Hysteria.

Commenting on the Pershing speech, Senator Homer T. Bone [D., Wash.] declared: "Assuming that the condition now confronting us is as dangerous as it is pictured by the responsible heads of this government, then unquestionably we will need all the defensive equipment we now have, plus a lot more.

"This is a studied attempt to thrust us into the conflict. Never in my life have I seen so much propaganda and so much hysteria whipped up in such a short period of time. It is propaganda not for the defense of America but actually to get us into the war. In the face of the argument that our own defensive forces are utterly inadequate, the American people will have to decide for themselves what this propaganda for the release of our naval vessels to Great Britain means."

Pittman Backs Pershing.

Further evidence that the Roosevelt administration is behind the drive to turn over United States destroyers to Great Britain was provided today by Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the foreign relations committee and an official administration spokesman on foreign policy.

Pittman issued a statement in which he indorsed what he described as Gen. Pershing's "appealing argument on behalf of making 50 destroyers available for Great Britain."

"No one can doubt the soundness of his statement that 'If the destroyers help save the British fleet they may save us from the danger and hardships of another war'," Senator Pittman asserted.

Suggests Trading Vessels.

Recalling the recent statement by Lord Lothian, the British ambassador, that Great Britain may be forced to surrender her fleet to Hitler, Pittman declared: "That spirit does not encourage the United States to make 50 destroyers available to Great Britain. If such a surrender is possible, we had better have our ships on this side of the ocean and under our own control."

Pittman, however, observed that battleships apparently are not suitable for fighting in the narrow waters of the North sea and the English channel, that the British need more destroyers and the United States could use more battleships. He suggested the possibility of trading destroyers for battleships.

Altho only the Guard mobilization bill was before the senate today, the debate also embraced the administration's conscription scheme. The senate military affairs committee reported the conscription bill by a vote of 13 to 3 this morning, and the senate will take it up later this week, after the Guard mobilization bill is disposed of.

As reported by the committee, the bill authorizes the President to require all the 12½ million men between the ages of 21 and 31 to register for possible compulsory military training and service for one year. The war department estimates that about 4½ million of this number are available for service; that is, men who are physically fit, have no dependents, and hold no key jobs in vital industries. The war department's plan calls for the drafting of 400,000 men on Oct. 1 and a total of 1,500,000 by Oct. 1, 1941.

Philippine Issue Raised.

The Guard mobilization bill authorizes the President to order the National Guard and the reserve and retired personnel of the regular army into active federal service for a year of intensive training and possible duty anywhere within the limits of the western hemisphere or overseas in the American possessions and territories, including the Philippine Islands.

There is considerable opposition to the provision authorizing the President to send the Guard troops to the Philippines because of the crisis in relations between the United States and Japan, which was precipitated by the administration's embargo on the exportation of aviation gasoline.

Senator Alva B. Adams [D., Colo.] offered an amendment which would forbid the President to send the guard anywhere outside the continental limits of the United States and its territories and possessions. This amendment, if adopted, would rohpibit the dispatch of Guard troops to Latin America or to the Philippines, which neither is a territory nor a possession.

In the debate on the guard mobilization resolution Senator Wheeler asked Senator Morris Sheppard [D., Tex.], chairman of the military affairs committee and manager of the bill, to define the emergency he was talking about.

Sheppard Tells Fears.

"It is the well known determination of the dictators of the world to destroy democracy thruout the world," Sheppard replied.

"Does the senator think that the German government is coming over here to take over the United States, to attack us?" Wheeler asked.

"That they will try it," Sheppard declared.

"The senator really believes that Mr. Hitler is coming here to attack the United States?" Wheeler persisted.

"He will try to attack the United States," Sheppard declared. "That is my firm belief or I would not be here advocating this measure."

Senator Wheeler insisted that the mobilization of the 242,000 men of the National Guard, in addition to the regular army's reserve personnel of some 158,000 officers and men, would make it unnecessary to adopt conscription.

Voluntary enlistments already are running ahead of the quotas set by the army, and they could be greatly increased if men were permitted to enlist for a year, instead of the three year minimum as now required, and were paid $30 a month, the same as CCC enrollees, instead of $21, Wheeler contended.

Urges Trial for Plan.

"At least it seems to me that that system ought to be tried before we violate every tradition and every principle upon which our government was founded and conscript the youth of the nation when we are not facing a war," Wheeler said.

"Something has been said about an emergency. My attention has just been called to a statement by Maj. Gen. James K. Parsons, commander of the 3d corps area. He was speaking before 231 business men at Fort Meade. He said:

"'America can be defended by an army and navy of moderate size. There are alarmists who think we are wide open to attack. We are not. They are merely the victims of nightmares and ignorance. Such people are dangerous. We need calm intelligence now as perhaps we have needed it never before.'"

Cites Knox Statements.

"That is what I have been saying repeatedly," Wheeler continued. "We have a lot of alarmists about the country who are trying to tell us that we are open to attack and that we are going to be attacked, and that we must have conscription, and that we must have an armed camp over here. Here is a major general in the army now who cautions the people against alarmists.

"Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox says:

"'If we are to protect ourselves, our integrity, and this hemisphere, we can take but one action—adopt compulsory military training now.'

"Yet when he was up for confirmation before the senate committee this is what he said:

"'With such a navy as I have described we should never need more than a moderate size regular army of 300,000 men, supplemented with a well trained, well equipped National Guard. This would give us a first line of defense of 600,000 men, all that we require to supplement our naval forces.'

Barkley Gives Reply.

"Now all of a sudden, the minute he is confirmed, he joins in the cry that we must have conscription in order to preserve the integrity of the United States."

Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, replying to Wheeler, said he did not know Maj. Gen. Parsons. He said he wondered whether Gen. Parsons looked upon his superior officer, Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, as an alarmist.

"I am wondering whether this Gen. Parsons in his diatribe against alarmists includes his superior officer, the chief of staff," Barkley added.

"So far as this conscription bill is concerned, I do not believe it is necessary and I approve entirely of the statement made by Gen. Parsons," Wheeler retorted. "He is Maj. Gen. James K. Parsons, commanding officer of the third corps area, and I assume that he is in good standing in the army at this particular time."

Pepper Assails Lindbergh.

Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], foremost senate interventionist, took the floor to second Gen. Pershing's speech and to revile Col. Charles A. Lindbergh for the antiwar speech he delivered in Chicago yesterday. Pepper has denied assertions by Washington radio officials that he helped arrange the Pershing broadcast.

The Florida New Dealer assailed Col. Lindbergh as "the chief of the fifth column in this country."

"I do not suppose he would be terribly frightened if news came that Hitler was at the boundary of America because Col. Lindbergh would know that at least he would not be harmed under the Fuehrer of Germany," Pepper said.

"I suspect that Gen. Pershing is a wiser councellor to the American people about their security than Col. Lindbergh, because Gen. Pershing has felt German steel. He has been in the armed service of his country. He knows the sinister mechanical policy of Germany and its ruthlessness. He has seen what the German army can do upon Europe's soil. Gen. Pershing is bequeathing to his people the legacy of his affectionate counsel, not to let the horror of that thing ever venture to come to their soil."

Lee and Neely Join.

Senator Josh Lee [D., Okla.], and Senator Matthew M. Neely [D., W. Va.], both New Deal yes-men, joined Pepper in attacking Col. Lindbergh.

Senator Rush D. Holt [D., W. Va.], answering the New Dealers, said: "If we turn back the pages of history to 1917 we can find almost the same words which have been uttered here this afternoon against Col. Lindbergh, but they were uttered then against his distinguished father, Representative Lindbergh, who was also against war. We could find almost the same sentiment, almost the identical sentiment, and I fear the same result may occur in 1940 as a consequence of the same war mongering."

Restriction by Edict Only.

Introduction of combat training in CCC camps has been opposed by radical groups, whose views always have been upheld by Mr. Roosevelt. There is nothing in the law which prohibits it; it is a matter of New Deal policy laid down by the President.

Controversies over this question have flared up in congress every year since creation of the organization in 1933. New Dealers have blocked all previous attempts to introduce even the most rudimentary army training, such as instruction in military tactics, for a few hours per day.

An amendment to the last relief appropriation permits training of youths now in the corps in such endeavors as road building, cooking and baking.

GEN. PARSONS AMONG MOST DISTINGUISHED OF U. S. COMMANDERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5—President Roosevelt's "Dear Alben" Barkley, majority leader of the senate, intimated in the senate today he had never heard of Maj. Gen. James K. Parsons, commander of the army's Third Corps area with headquarters in Baltimore. Barkley was referring to a recent speech by Gen. Parsons assailing alarmist talk that the United States is wide open to attack.

Gen. Parsons.

Gen. Parsons is one of the most distinguished of the 21 major generals in the army. An officer who came up through the ranks, he served in the Spanish-American war and in the world war. He participated in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives and was awarded the distinguished service cross, the distinguished service medal, and the purple heart.

Gen. Parsons was a member of the general staff from 1926 to 1929. In 1929 and 1930 he was commandant of the army tank school and commanding officer of Fort George G. Meade in Maryland. He commanded the 23d Infantry brigade from 1931 to 1933 and the 5th Brigade from 1933 to 1936, when he was promoted to major general and placed in command of the 2d Division and Fort Sam Houston. Since 1938 he has commanded the 3d Corps area.

Following his service as commandant of the Tank school, Gen. Parsons urged the creation of armored divisions such as those employed so successfully by the Germans in the present European war. His recommendations, however, went unheeded. Born in 1877, Gen Parsons will reach the compulsory retirement age of 64 next Feb. 11.

TWADDLE, FLYNN SAYS IN REPLY TO WILLKIE CHARGES

New York, Aug. 5 (AP).—Edward J. Flynn, new national Democratic chairman, today characterized as "this twaddle," Wendell L. Willkie's description of him as "Boss Flynn" and accused the Republican standard bearer of "hypocrisy."

He said Willkie had been a "paying member" of the Grover Cleveland Democratic club in New York and had run for county committeeman—with Mrs. Willkie—on the same ticket as Postmaster General James A. Farley and Frank Walker, former treasurer of the Democratic national committee.

"This twaddle about this, that, or the other boss or political machine is silly," Flynn said in a statement. "If Mr. Willkie thinks that he can convince the American people that President Roosevelt is being guided or influenced by any political bosses or political machine he is due for a very sad awakening."

Flynn's statement followed a conference with Farley.

KILLED IN FACTORY MISHAP.

CCC GIVEN EASIER RULES IN RECRUIT RACE WITH ARMY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—As members of congress continued their struggle to devise a means for raising an army to defend this country in case of emergency, an amazed capital today learned that the entrance requirements for the Civilian Conservation corps have been broadened to attract many additional young men into the CCC, where combat military training is expressly prohibited by the Roosevelt administration.

Heretofore only youths whose families are on public relief rolls or are eligible for relief or whose incomes are below the standard of the community have been eligible for the CCC.

The new policy, made public by Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, opens CCC enrollment to boys whose families are in "the moderate income group."

This will include young men attending colleges, according to an announcement from McNutt's office, as well as unemployed college graduates. Observers commented that the army probably would be glad to get such men to increase the general standard of the enlisted personnel and for training as officers necessary in time of crisis.

Army at Disadvantage.

Replying to the New Deal assertions that the army's voluntary enlistment system has broken down, leaders of the anticonscription bloc in congress have called attention to existing extra inducements for CCC enrollments which have placed the defense forces at a great disadvantage in their enlistment drives.

In his letter to Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] condemning the administration's conscription program, former Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring last week stressed this point and suggested that the army and navy at least be permitted to compete for young men on an equal basis with the CCC.

"The same youth who is asked to join the army at $21 per month basic pay for three years sees his neighbor join the CCC for one year at $30 per month and in many instances the CCC and the army camp are side by side," said the former secretary.

DONOVAN MAKES REPORT TO KNOX ON SECRET TRIP

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5 [Special].—Col. William J. Donovan, who arrived in New York Sunday from England, where he went on a confidential mission for Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, reported today. Col. Donovan was closeted with Secretary Knox for more than an hour. Following the conference he said he was not in a position to say anything regarding his visit to England. Secretary Knox also declined to comment.

The mission on which Col. Donovan journeyed overseas is one of the present day mysteries of the navy. Outside of Col. Knox, Col. Donovan, and certain high officers of the navy no one knows anything about it.

FLETCHER URGES JACKSON CLARIFY HATCH ACT STAND

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5 (AP).—Henry P. Fletcher, Republican general counsel, tonight demanded to know whether Attorney General Robert H. Jackson is attempting to intimidate contributors to the campaign of Wendell L. Willkie, Republican Presidential nominee.

Fletcher had issued an interpretation of the Hatch act's restrictions on campaign contributions, and Jackson had characterized the interpretation as a plan "for avoiding the limitations" of the act.

In reply Fletcher said the Republican national committee has no intention of "evading or skirting" these provisions. He challenged Jackson to say specifically wherein the interpretation was wrong.

Fletcher made public Saturday his opinion that the act's provision regarding $5,000 maximum campaign donations applies only to contributions to a party's national committee, or its senatorial or congressional committees. Donors are free, he said, to make additional contributions to state or local organizations.

CANADA INTERNS MONTREAL MAYOR AS FOE OF DRAFT

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 6, Tuesday (AP).—Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal has been taken into custody under the war measures act, it was announced early today by Supt. H. R. Gagnon of the Royal Canadian mounted police.

Opposition Leader R. B. Hanson had charged in the house of commons on Saturday that Houde had "openly defied the law of Canada" by urging the public to disregard national registration Aug. 19-21.

"Mr. Houde has already left for an internment camp," Gagnon said. "He was taken into custody shortly after 11 o'clock last night in a joint action of the provincial police and the Royal Canadian mounted police."

FULL REPUBLICAN ORGANIZATION OF WOMEN STARTED

The task of organizing Republican women's groups in every ward and township in Cook county was started yesterday by the women's division of the Cook county Republican county central committee. Offices of the division were opened at La Salle hotel headquarters. Plans for the women's phase of the campaign were taken up at conferences between John T. Dempsey, county chairman, and Mrs. Edward B. Hall of Winnetka, chairman of the women's executive committee.

One of the first acts of the women's branch was to reserve a train for the Willkie notification day celebration at Elwood, Ind., Aug. 17. Mrs. Irene Blauvelt has been placed in charge of arrangements.

Four other women who will serve on the executive committee with Mrs. Hall are Mrs. Harry Hart, Mrs. Elmer Jones, Mrs. Henry Justeson, and Mrs. Frank Specht. Mrs. Hall is to be in charge of the women's activities until the return from the east in September of Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, who has been named as chairman of the women's division.

PRESIDENT'S SON WILL TAKE JOB IN N. Y. LAW OFFICE

New York, Aug. 5 [Special].—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. has accepted a job as clerk in the law office of Carey & Carey, 63 Wall street, it was disclosed today.

The President's son and namesake, who is 26 years old, was graduated last June from the University of Virginia law school at commencement exercises made notable by his father's speech which charged the Italian government with plunging a knife "into the back of its neighbor."

The law firm which young Roosevelt is to join as soon as he returns from duty with the naval reserve and completes his bar examinations is headed by Eugene L. Garey, one of the most outspoken Wall street critics of the New Deal and particularly of the SEC, which he has opposed in numerous court cases. The firm's clients include many big corporations and brokerage houses.

HEED LINDBERGH WARNING ON WAR, BROOKS ADVISES

Prepare and End Meddling in Europe, He Urges.

Wayland Brooks, Republican nominee for United States senator, yesterday urged that this nation follow the advice of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to prepare an adequate defense and to stop meddling in European affairs. Lindbergh addressed between 35,000 and 40,000 persons at a Keep Out of War rally in Soldiers' field Sunday.

Brooks also commented upon the speech of Gen. John J. Pershing, 79 year old retired commander in chief of the American Expeditionary force in the world war. Pershing, whose talk was broadcast from his New York hotel room, personally decorated Brooks with the Distinguished Service Cross in June, 1918. Brooks was one of the first to win the decoration.

Warning Called Timely.

"I believe that every liberty loving American is indebted to Col. Lindbergh for the contribution of his knowledge gained by first hand observation of the conflict in Europe," Brooks said. "The true salt of statesmanship is to see and recognize things as they are, and America should be grateful for his timely warning.

"If the head of this nation, instead of talking about 'quarantining' war two years ago, had started to prepare us with a modern mechanized and motorized military force, and kept our relations with other countries on a high plane, we might have been in a position at the present time to make a great contribution toward the bringing about of peace in Europe.

"But we are not now able to speak with any effectiveness in the general cause of peace. The democracies of the Old World were led to believe by the suggestions coming out of Washington that we were able and would help them, but because of our expressed antagonism toward other nations we find ourselves ineffective in this critical hour to aid materially in achieving peace.

Urges Defense Preparation.

"We had better follow Col. Lindbergh's warning that we should turn our eyes in the direction of security by preparing our own defense so that no foreign nation can invade us, and his warning to us to stop trying to interfere in European affairs, so that no nation will desire to invade us.

"Twenty years ago we interfered in Europe's affairs at the cost to America of 127,000 lives, 238,000 wounded—many of them maimed for life—and the financial cost of $32,000,000,000, only to see Europe's sons of the last war meeting in a more deadly war today.

"I believe that every man who served under Gen. Pershing has always maintained the highest regard for his military leadership in the last war. But many of us believe that he is being used as a shield by interventionists to encourage the American people to participate in overt acts which might involve us again in European war."

Refers to Proposed Ship Sale.

Brooks was referring to Pershing's advocating that the United States sell Great Britain at least 50 of its naval destroyers.

"The people of America are overwhelmingly opposed to our interference or participation in Europe's war, and they want no overt act committed which will directly or indirectly involve us in that war.

"We still have an opportunity to carry out America's destiny to maintain the supremacy of our western civilization by reëstablishing a strong private enterprise, and a faith in our own free government, with a military power adequate to defend both."

Brooks returned last week from Colorado where he conferred with Wendell L. Willkie, Republican nominee for President.

LIGHTNING KILLS ONE AS STORMS STRIKE CHICAGO

Thunderstorms struck the city and suburbs yesterday, leaving one man dead and a number of trees blown down.

The dead man was Aleja Molina, 38 years old, 3680 Milwaukee avenue, a section hand for the Milwaukee road. He and two other men were on a small motorized car near Lehigh and Touhy avenues when lightning struck them. Molina died instantly. Dan Drane of Deerfield, a section foreman, was shocked but apparently not seriously hurt. Alex Kouris of Forest Glen was uninjured.

What local residents described as a "twister" hit in Niles Center in the vicinity of Niles Center road and Touhy avenue and along Willow road, Winnetka, blowing trees across electric light and telephone wires. Service was interrupted for about an hour.

Shortly before 7 p. m. a heavy rain fell in the loop area, sending the mercury from 87 degrees at 6 p. m. to 76 at 7:30. Forecaster A. J. Knárr said today's outlook was for cooler weather.

What the Two Parties Say About War Aid

REPUBLICAN.

"Our sympathies have been profoundly stirred by invasion of unoffending countries and by disaster to nations whose ideals most closely resemble our own. We favor the extension to all peoples fighting for liberty, or whose liberty is threatened, of such aid as shall not be in violation of international law or inconsistent with the requirements of our own national defense."

DEMOCRATIC.

"In self-defense and in good conscience the world's greatest democracy cannot afford heartlessly or in a spirit of appeasement to ignore the peace loving and liberty loving peoples wantonly attacked by ruthless aggressors.

"We pledge to extend to these peoples all the material aid at our command, consistent with law and not inconsistent with the interests of our own national self-defense—all to the end that peace and international good faith may yet emerge triumphant."

QUIZ WOMAN FRIEND AND 3 MEN IN SOUTH SIDE SAFE CRACKING

Police last night were questioning three men about a week-end safe-cracking in a market at 6817 Stony Island avenue. The yeggs knocked the safe open and made off with an inner strong box believed to contain more than $1,000. Hyde Park police were informed yesterday that a strong box had been seen in a garage at the rear of 5480 Cornell avenue.

Josephine Johnson.

Detectives under Sergt. Joseph McCabe stationed themselves in a nearby building and arrested Wincel Urban, 45 years old, of St. Louis, and Emil E. Weis, 1719 East 67th street, a safe expert, who they said had entered the garage where the strong box was. Urban admitted he had served time for burglary in Missouri. Both denied knowledge of the safe robbery.

Stanley Warwick, 34, of 3539 South Francisco avenue, who said he had served four years in Leavenworth penitentiary for counterfeiting, was found loitering in the alley and also was arrested. A set of safe-cracking tools was discovered in the garage. Josephine Johnson, 6315 Harper avenue, a friend of Warwick, was taken to the detective bureau later for questioning.

THEATER CHAIN TO BUILD STATION FOR TELEVISION

A permit to erect an experimental television station in Chicago was granted to Balaban and Katz corporation by the federal communications commission yesterday in Washington. The theater chain recently announced plans to start regular transmissions of television programs early in 1941.

The location of studios and transmitter has not been decided, an official of the corporation said yesterday. Receivers will be placed in many of the theaters of the company in and near Chicago.

Meanwhile, the Zenith Radio corporation has announced that it will close down temporarily its station, the only one in Chicago, this week. The shutdown is required by the reallocation of the short wave facilities now occupied by Zenith, Radio Corporation of America, and the Don Lee broadcasting interests of California for television experimentation, to frequency modulation, the new high fidelity static free system of broadcasting. The switchover will take six weeks or two months.

BANDIT SEIZED AFTER SHOOTING OWNER OF STORE

Oscar Kibort, 48 years old, owner of a delicatessen at 6105 University avenue, was wounded last night in a gun duel with one of two robbers who entered his shop. In the exchange the bandit dropped to the floor, yelling he had been hit, but when police arrived they could find no bullet marks on the man. He gave his name as Tom Masters and said he was from Des Moines, Ia. The second robber, a Negro, escaped. Kibort was taken to Woodlawn hospital, where the wound in his right side was said not to be serious. He lives at 1145 East 61st street.

CARPENTER, 68, DIES.

Joseph Bach, 68 years old, 1507 Hollywood avenue, a carpenter, who suffered a heart attack July 24, died last night in Ravenswood hospital.

Experts Bewildered by New Deal Proposal.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Chicago's lawyers with a touch of bewilderment yesterday compared the New Deal proposal to relinquish 50 American destroyers to Britain with the foreign policies declared by the recent Democratic and Republican national conventions. One comment strongly advanced was that the project is in conflict with international law and in contradiction of the national platforms adopted by the two great parties within the last six weeks.

Both platforms [see excerpts printed above], it was pointed out by the legal experts, favored the extension, with limitations, of aid to foreign nations fighting for liberty. The Republican platform adopted June 26 at Philadelphia declared for such aid "not in violation of international law." The Democratic platform adopted in Chicago July 17 pledged aid "consistent with law."

Quote from Hague Convention.

Some lawyer critics said the destroyer project is not "consistent with law." To back up their opinion they quoted from international law, Article 6 of The Hague convention [1906] binding America to the following doctrine:

"The supply, in any manner, directly or indirectly, by a neutral power to a belligerent power, of warships, ammunition, or war materials of any kind whatever is forbidden."

Thomas James Norton, for many years professor of constitutional law at the John Marshall Law school, dwelt upon the present situation:

"We can't give any help now," he said, "if we get into Europe's wars now, the load will fall upon us. If we get over there, we'll have the whole load. Military experts have shown we were not ready to go over last time and we're not ready now.

"If we consider that international law is still in force, this proposal of making 50 American destroyers available for Britain can be put thru only by subterfuge. It's illegal if international law is in existence.

"If we had been prepared to back it up, the thing would have been to proclaim to the world that Europe had junked international law, and we would proceed as if there were no international law. But we're not in that position. We should keep out of it—we can't do a damned thing over there."

1917 Law Reaffirmed.

Some lawyers pointed to a domestic law passed in 1917 and recently reaffirmed by congress, which prohibits turning war vessels over to a belligerent in a war in which America is a neutral.

Concerning airplanes, guns, and ammunition, there was a postwar statute which permitted aircraft and motor vehicles to be traded back to manufacturers for new equipment to be delivered later. The manufacturers could then sell to any foreign power.

A recent amendment authorizes the secretary of war to trade in guns and ammunition so they also can be sold by the makers to belligerents. The officials get around international law by arguing that the manufacturers actually sell the war materials to the belligerents. Lawyers who spoke in favor of the destroyer proposal, spoke of this practice as subterfuge. They argued it was justifiable because of Europe's violations of law.

John H. Wigmore, dean emeritus of Northwestern university law school, said "it is a border line case."

"One's opinion depends on one's sympathies," said Wigmore. "If you believe in helping Britain, you believe this plan is all right."

Kenneth W. Colegrove, professor of international law at Northwestern university, expressed the view that Europe has scrapped international law and that retaliation is justified.

CRIES FOR HELP ROUT 2 ACCUSED ROBBERS; POLICEMAN NABS ONE

Cries for help came from the third floor at 109 East Oak street last night. Policeman Robert O'Connell ran to the entrance and saw two men dart out. One had a gun. They separated. O'Connell followed the one with the gun and halted him after firing a shot in the air.

Policeman Robert O'Connell [top] and James Dewey.

The prisoner, James Dewey, 38 years old, 1940 Lincoln avenue, had a loaded .45 caliber army automatic. Dewey and his companion were accused of tricking Fred Rusch, 68 years old, into admitting them to the Oak street building by pretending one of them had been hurt. Rusch, a retired dealer in watchmakers' supplies, said he was beaten on the head with a gun when he protested he had no money.

He said his shrieks frightened the two and they clattered down the stairs. Rusch was treated in Henrotin hospital for a scalp wound.

2 EX-INMATES OF ST. CHARLES HELD AS BANDITS

New City police believed last night they had put a stop to the recent wave of lovers' lane holdups on the southwest side. They seized two "graduates" of the St. Charles School for Boys and 15 complaints were promptly signed against the pair. Police estimate they staged 40 holdups since July 2.

The prisoners are John Yurkus, 18 years old, 517 Arthington street, and Edward Zeeman, 18, of 4040 South Richmond street. They were released from St. Charles a year ago. Yurkus returned from a cross-country bumming trip July 2 and looked up Zeeman, he told police. In robbing couples found in parked cars the bandits customarily stole their automobiles as well as cash and jewelry.

Detective Edward Farr found one of the stolen cars and waited patiently until Yurkus entered it. He collared Yurkus and obtained the name of Zeeman, who was picked up by Sergt. John McVeigh and Policeman James McCann. One of the guns used by the pair was taken when they held up a Bridewell guard, Ralph Cecario, in front of his home at 5203 South Spaulding avenue on July 6.

Not all the victims who identified the bandits had been robbed in lover's lanes. Miss Lillian Lukitsch told Lieut. William Reid that she and her escort were held up June 14 in front of Miss Lukitsch's home at 6117 South Albany avenue.

BURGLARS LOOT SALESMAN'S HOME.

Burglars yesterday broke into the home of Hyman M. Schaffner, 7660 Essex avenue, a salesman, and stole furnishings valued at $1,035.

Calls Air Hero's Peace Plea a Paradox.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—Continuing the Roosevelt administration's attack upon Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] tonight, in a radio speech here, replied to the noted flyer's peace plea which touched off an enthusiastic demonstration yesterday at a gigantic peace rally in Chicago.

Senator Lucas characterized Col. Lindbergh as "one of the world's best air pilots," but charged that the flyer is one of the many who have tried to pin the label of war on the President.

Picked On His Record.

The Illinois senator was chosen by the administration to give the official answer to the nation's air hero, an outspoken foe of New Deal foreign policy. Senator Lucas voted for repeal of the arms embargo and has gone along with other legislation affecting foreign policy, but he is known to be a less rabid interventionist than many of his senate colleagues.

Therefore, it is said, administration leaders felt his words would carry more weight with Col. Lindbergh's wide following than would a speech by one of the recognized New Deal war mongers.

Calls Speech a Paradox.

"When old world hate and destruction have been fanned into roaring flames by war we find Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, one of the world's best air pilots, advising the United States to offer Europe a peace plan to end the war," Senator Lucas said.

"However, in this same address the colonel admonishes the nation not to interfere in the affairs of a foreign nation. What a paradox! Col. Lindbergh seems to think that offering a peace plan to the warring nations of the world would not be interfering with their internal affairs."

The senator professed to have been shocked at what he terms Col. Lindbergh's "complacency" toward Adolf Hitler.

WINDSOR'S SHIP SEES NO BRITISH NAVAL ESCORT

ABOARD S. S. EXCALIBUR AT SEA, Aug. 5 (AP).—No British warships to guard safe passage for the duke and duchess of Windsor have been sighted since this ship left Lisbon on Thursday, it was stated tonight. The duke and duchess spent most of today sunning themselves in deck chairs and had their meals served privately in their suite. They are scheduled to land in Bermuda on Thursday en route to the duke's new post in Nassau as governor of the Bahamas.

A. F. L. Against Draft Until Required for U. S. Defense

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor announced today that it is opposed to compulsory military training until a time when such action became "necessary to defend, protect, and preserve America." In a statement by President William Green, the federation said that a voluntary enlistment program should be launched to create an army of a million and a half men. "In providing an adequate army for defensive purposes," Green said, "the American way should be followed first."

Divorce Final

VIVIEN LEIGH.

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—A conditional divorce decree granted Actress Jill Esmond Jan. 29 against her actor-husband, Laurence Olivier, was made absolute today. The actress Vivien Leigh was named as co-respondent in Miss Esmond's suit, which was uncontested. Miss Leigh's husband, Herbert Leigh Holman, a barrister, subsequently won a conditional divorce in a suit in which he named Olivier as co-respondent. Miss Esmond, who was awarded custody of her child, arrived in Toronto, Canada, July 13.

CATHOLIC LABOR RALLIED AGAINST DRAFT MEASURE

Members of Catholic labor organizations of the country are being rallied against the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill by the Catholic Worker, national journal of Catholic labor groups. The journal calls for protests against the bill's passage to members of house of representatives and the senate on the ground that the bill violates the basic Christian moral principle that every man should be free in his choice of a state of life.

The current issue of the journal, while quoting Catholic authority against the bill, also makes public a hierarchical statement that "as soon as a million men are under arms in the United States, just that moment does America become a totalitarian state and no power of democracy can change it."

This prophecy, credited by the journal to Bishop John Duffy of Buffalo, N. Y., is contained in the statement of official position of The Catholic Worker.

The authoritative statement bearing on moral principle was credited to the Rt. Rev. Msgr. G. Barry O'Toole, professor of philosophy in the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.

VOLIVA TO TAKE HIS RADIO SPEECH FIGHT INTO COURT

Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, disclosed yesterday he will file an injunction suit in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan today to prevent radio station WCBD from interferring with his broadcasts.

He will charge, Voliva asserted, that after he attacked President Roosevelt's third term aspirations on July 21 Gene T. Dyer, president of the station, ordered that he submit copies of his talks 48 hours in advance of giving them. This, the overseer contends, is interference with freedom of speech.

When he sold his interest in the station, in 1934, Voliva reserved the right to speak on it without submitting scripts and to discuss social, political, and economic topics, he said yesterday. Dyer asserted the restraint was placed upon Voliva because he had violated repeatedly his promises to refrain from airing his personal political views in broadcasts.

200 YOUNG MEN STAND IN LINE TO JOIN ARMY

Two hundred young men stood in line at the United States courthouse yesterday to apply for enlistment in the army. Lieut. Col. Edward F. Shaifer, in charge of enlistment, said the applications were the largest number received here in one day since the army expansion program began.

DEMOCRATS BOLT PARTY IN BIGGEST ROUT OF HISTORY

G. O. P. Estimates Swing at Tens of Thousands.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—Tens of thousands—perhaps hundreds of thousands—of Democrats in every state will support the Republican ticket of Wendell Willkie and Charles L. McNary, on the basis of prominent bolters from the Democratic ranks in slightly more than two weeks since the Democratic convention renominated President Roosevelt, the Republican national committee predicted today.

"Never before in American politics have so many present and past leaders of a national party declared openly that they will join hands with the opposition party in the election of a President," said the committee statement.

At almost the same time, Republican headquarters in New York announced the volunteer support of Dr. Stanley High.

Gives Reason for Bolting.

Dr. High, who four years ago was a prominent New Deal missionary, offered his support in a letter addressed to Willkie.

Dr. High, former editor of the Christian Herald and in 1936 head of the Good Neighbor league, formed to promote the Roosevelt candidacy among independents, based his opposition to President Roosevelt's re-election on three grounds: First, the dominant position occupied at the moment by the extreme New Dealers; second, the bid for control by powerful city machines, and third, the doctrine of "indispensability" fostered by the President's acceptance speech in Chicago.

Dr. High, for a time after the 1936 campaign, was regarded as a spokesman for the administration. In 1937 he wrote a book entitled "Roosevelt and Then?" favorable to the Roosevelt administration, and interpreted then as being favorable to a third term.

Lists Prominent Bolters.

The national committee issued a recapitulation of leading Democrats from all parts of the nation who have stated their support of the Willkie-McNary ticket or have voiced opposition to a third term for Mr. Roosevelt. Those best known to the public follow:

Former Democratic nominee for President of the United States:

Former Governor George White of Ohio.

Vance C. McCormick of Pennsylvania.

John J. Raskob of New York.

Former chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic national committee:

Jouett Shouse, who also is a former assistant secretary of the treasury.

Former members of the Roosevelt administration:

T. Jefferson Coolidge, former undersecretary of the treasury.

Lewis W. Douglas, former director of the budget.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former head of the NRA.

Raymond Moley, former assistant secretary of state.

Roland Hill, ex-director of the National Emergency council in Minnesota in 1936, who resigned as auditor in the government's general accounting office to support the Willkie candidacy.

Former Democratic national committeewoman:

Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank of Illinois.

Senator Edward R. Burke of Nebraska.

Senator Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina.

Representative Harry B. Coffee of Nebraska.

Bainbridge Colby.

Former Democratic governors:

Carey A. Hardee of Florida.

William H. Murray of Oklahoma.

John J. Cornwell of West Virginia.

Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts.

Former United States senator:

James A. Reed of Missouri, leader of Jeffersonian Democrats.

John B. Jameson of New Hampshire.

John M. Hemphill of Pennsylvania.

Six Democratic university and college presidents and officials:

Dr. Charles Seymour of Yale.

Dr. Hamilton Holt of Rollins college, Winter Park, Fla.

Dr. Alan Valentine of Rochester university, Rochester, N. Y.

Dr. Ernest M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth.

NDr. George R. Minot of the Harvard medical school.

Former national commander of the American Legion:

Stephen F. Chadwick, national commander in 1939.

Delegates to 1940 Democratic national convention:

W. A. Wright, Texas.

John Caffrey, Louisiana.

Nina Gore Auchincloss of Virginia.

James F. Brennan, Massachusetts, alternate.

Others who have been active in the affairs of the Democratic party and who have stated they will support the Willkie-McNary ticket include:

Mrs. Edwin T. Meredith of Des Moines, Ia., widow of President Wilson's secretary of agriculture.

Irvin S. Cobb of Kentucky, noted writer.

Bernarr MacFadden, publisher and recently a candidate for United States senator in the Florida Democratic primary.

Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson of Tulsa, Okla., president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, 1935 to 1938.

Robert S. Funk of Los Angeles, one-time Democratic candidate for congress.

Alfred E. Smith Jr., member of the New York City council.

Edmund M. Toland, counsel to the house of representatives committee investigating the NLRB.

Mayor Thomas L. Holling of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Helen Hunt West of Jacksonville, Fla.

Pat Casey of Houston, Tex.

ROOSEVELT ASKS UNIFIED ASSAULT ON FIFTH COLUMN

Urges All States Enact Parallel Statutes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—President Roosevelt today urged cooperation between local, state, and federal governments in the passage of laws covering subversive activities and in planning other defenses against fifth columnists.

There must be no political considerations in the approach to these problems, said the President, who is away from the capital for a short stay at his ancestral estate on the Hudson river.

The President's statement was read to governors, state attorneys general, and other representatives of 42 states meeting here with department of justice officials to discuss law enforcement as it applies to national defense.

Speakers at the conference included Attorney General Robert H. Jackson and J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation. The final session will be held tomorrow.

Recommends Parallel Laws.

Mr. Roosevelt recommended that congress and the state legislatures pass companion laws to deal with subversive activities and seditious acts. He said all such legislation should be "free from the prejudice and emotional haste which characterized much of the similar legislation during the last world war."

"The common defense should be thru the normal channels of local, state and national law enforcement," the President said. "The untrained policeman is as ineffective as the untrained soldier. The amateur detective soon becomes a fussy and malicious busybody. We must be vigilant, always on guard, and swift to act. But we must be wise and cool headed, and must not express our activities in the cruel stupidities of the vigilante. There is where the fifth columnists form the line."

Continuing in an alarming vein, Attorney General Jackson warned that the axis powers are trying to "soften this country as France was softened."

"This effort takes the form of the promise of business orders and profits if the war can be called off and business relations resumed as usual with the victor," he asserted. "In holding out the allure of business, this effort seeks to create a fifth column among men of influence and respectibility."

Hoover told the conference that the strength of the federal, state and local police is as important as the strength of our army and navy in an emergency. A primary problem, he said, is guarding against sabotage of public utilities. Disruption of such facilities would break the morale of any community quickly, Hoover warned.

POLES SIGN NEW PACT TO FIGHT ON WITH BRITISH

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—A military agreement between Great Britain and the Polish government in exile, reaffirming a determination to fight to the finish against Germany, was signed today at 10 Downing street.

The agreement was signed by Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax for Britain and by Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, premier and minister of military affairs for the Polish government.

It provides for the organization and employment of Polish forces under British command and grants British credits to finance the cost of maintaining the Polish troops.

SCALISE'S NEW YORK UNION THROWS OUT 26 AS COMMUNISTS

New York, Aug. 5 [Special].—Twenty-six members of the Building Service Employés union, local 32-E, A. F. of L., with 4,000 members and jurisdiction over the Bronx, were expelled from the union late tonight after a trial in which the executive council of the union found they were communists. Alexander Schwartz, union attorney, announced the action which Thomas Lewis, president of the union, said automatically will cost many of those expelled their jobs. He said that in buildings where closed shop contracts exist the union will replace the expelled members.

Lewis said that the executive board recommended that the names of the alleged communists be sent to the F. B. I. and also to the international offices of the American Federation of Labor.

The Bronx local's parent union formerly was headed by George Scalise, ex-convict white slaver, who is to go on trial next week on charges of stealing more than $60,000 from the union treasury.

Greek Steamer Disabled in Hurricane; Asks Help

New York, Aug. 5 [Special].—Mackay Radio tonight said the Greek steamship Oropos had reported being in distress in a gulf hurricane. The U. S. S. Tampa was reported going to the assistance of the Greek vessel, which put its position at 25.42 degrees north latitude and 88.51 degrees west longitude, which is about 250 miles south of Port Eads, La. The Oropos left Hampton Roads, Va., July 19 for foreign ports.

W-G-N TO OFFER SWING OPERETTA THURSDAY NIGHT

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

A streamlined radio adaptation of the swing version of "The Chimes of Normandy" is to be broadcast Thursday evening over W-G-N and the Mutual network as a special feature of the program In Chicago Tonight.

For this occasion the program, usually broadcast from 7:30 to 8 p. m., will be presented from 7 to 8 p. m. The W-G-N management yesterday advised ticket holders to take note of the change in time and to arrive at the studios half an hour earlier than the time indicated on the tickets.

The swing version of "The Chimes of Normandy," a French operetta, is the same as that presented nightly except Monday at the American Negro exposition in the Coliseum. The exposition management, knowing that In Chicago Tonight features the newest in entertainment, made the show available to W-G-N.

75 Singers in Cast.

The cast of 75 Negro singers featured in the exposition show, the same in the main that was featured in "The Swing Mikado" last year, will appear in the W-G-N show, along with the W-G-N Dance orchestra, directed by Harold Stokes.

The exposition show is directed by Harry Minturn, a veteran producer, who also created "The Swing Mikado." He is assisted by Gentry Warden, musical director, who will direct the singers in the radio production, and by Sammy Dyer, dance director.

Minturn said yesterday that he plans to organize a Negro light opera repertory company, using this group as a nucleus. He already has "The Pirates of Penzance," Gilbert and Sullivan favorite, in rehearsal in drum time. He plans to give this production a Barbary coast setting. Then, with a répertoire of three operettas, to which others may be added, he expects to tour the country, presenting operettas in modern dress.

Modern Tempo Sought.

Minturn said he created "The Swing Mikado" because he felt that young people would enjoy older operettas if the operettas were brought out in the tempo of the times. He said he also believed that the choral singing of Negroes would lend itself particularly to the music of light operas.

The box office has proved that his judgment was sound. "The Swing Mikado" ran for six months in Chicago and for three months in New York. "The Chimes of Normandy" has been running a month in the special theater built in the north hall of the Coliseum.

The W-G-N version of "The Chimes of Normandy" will include the two modern songs written by Minturn and Warden. These are "Swing, Swing, Children" and "Cannibal Isles."

William A. Bacher, production chief of W-G-N, with Fran Coughlin and John Hess assisting him, are cutting the Minturn production—which runs two hours—to a 60 minute show.

PLEDGES EXPOSE OF RED PLOT TO OVERTHROW U. S.

Prosecutor Fitts Tells Plan to Kill Ford.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 5 (AP).—District Attorney Buron Fitts said he would present to a grand jury tomorrow "startling" evidence that communists ultimately hope to overthrow the government and would assassinate Henry Ford and other prominent industrialists unless they "play ball" with them.

Twenty-two months of investigation into alleged communist subversive activities on the Pacific coast has resulted, the district attorney said, in the arrest of two men and disclosure that infiltration of communistic activity has extended into the motion picture industry.

"Big Names" Promised.

Fitts declined to reveal the identity of any of the persons called, but he did say that the list included some "big names" in Hollywood.

One of the men arrested, Brittain Webster, 27 years old, a longshoreman, was arraigned on a murder charge in connection with the slaying five years ago of John Riley, listed as an "anti-Red" member of the maritime union.

The second man detained was listed as Clyde Champion, San Joaquin valley cannery workers' leader. Officials declined to disclose the charges on which he is held.

Investigators to Testify.

Fitts said two persons to be called before the grand jury are investigators who joined the communist party two years ago to "spy" on the organization's activities.

One of the witnesses, Fitts declared, is prepared to describe a Hollywood subversive group meeting at which a plan was discussed for lining Henry Ford and other prominent industrialists against a wall and shooting them, if the government overthrow plan were successful.

Bookies Get New Court Odds: Fines Raised to $10

Municipal Judge Lambert K. Hayes yesterday took the bench in Racket court and boosted the fines his predecessor, Erwin J. Hasten, had been assessing handbook operators who pleaded guilty. Judge Hayes' new scale was $10 and $8.50 costs. Judge Hasten's fines did not exceed $5. The new judge explained that bookmakers are subject to fines up to $2,000, or a year in jail, or both. Eleven defendants were fined at the new scale.

FARM BELT CITY CHEERS WILLKIE AND HIS VIEWS

Leaders from 10 States at Iowa Parley.

troubles," he said. "You must come thru now in a big way for the Willkie-McNary ticket in the fall."

This brought a cheer.

Willkie then referred to Secretary Wallace as "a very eminent public servant."

This brought a few laughs and boos, but Willkie added:

"I mean that seriously. In the coming campaign, when Wallace begins to discuss the issues of the New Deal I shall disagree with him, but I recognize that he is a fine gentleman and a scholar. I want to conduct the campaign on the issues, not on personalities. Thruout the campaign you will not find me making any ill remarks against either gentleman on the other ticket—unless they start it first."

Calls for Decentralization.

Willkie brought up one special problem, leading to the same plan of decentralization which had been brought out in the farm conference.

"Having grown up in this kind of country," he said, "I know your problems and one of your problems is this: That in the developments in the United States in the last few years our industrial plants have had a tendency to grow in size and concentrated in certain sections of the country.

"One of the real problems of America, and it bears particularly on the coming defense program, is to bring about decentralization of industry so that there may be brought back into these small towns of America industrial plants to the end that medium sized businesses may be encouraged to survive, thrive, and prosper.

"For instance, in the defense program and in the industrial development that must come in connection with that, those who lead the affairs of government must see that many of the plants that will be built will be located in towns like the towns scattered all over the state of Iowa.

"Let me tell you the only type of individual that can bring that about is the one who understands productivity and the processes of American industry and has the confidence of American industry. Such a man, working in coöperation with industrial America, will bring back to the states like Iowa their just proportion of American industrialization."

Must Preserve America.

In bidding the people here good-by, Willkie said: "God bless you and keep you and your America. We must preserve that no matter what the problems of the world may be."

Prior to his appearance on the capitol steps Willkie held a press conference which more than one hundred newspaper men attended. It was given in the governor's room. Willkie sat in the high backed governor's chair and answered all questions fired at him.

His meeting with farm leaders, the nominee said, was not intended to reach any conclusions or prepare any program. It was merely to help him formulate his opinions on the farm questions. It was one of the most stimulating discussions in which he had ever engaged, he said, one in which "no holds were barred." Asked what were the chief criticisms of the present farm policy he said:

"The local committees are selected by local people and work in harmony, but there have been superimposed upon them regulations from Washington which are frequently unintelligible and arbitrary."

Many Theories Presented.

All sorts of theories were presented at the conference, Willkie said. He had always found it wise, he added, to absorb the literature and theories of any subject and then sit down with the practical men who do the job.

"Did you find that farmers are reaching out for something different?" he was asked.

"Everybody is trying to find a way for the farmer to get an adequate proportion of the national income," he replied.

Willkie emphasized that added industrial uses for agricultural products had been discussed, and had interested him deeply.

The Illinois delegation to the conference consisted of Dwight H. Green, Republican candidate for governor; Werner Schroeder, national committeeman; Senator Simon Lantz of Congerville; Clarence Buck of Monmouth; Frank Moberly, farmer, of Shirley; Harold Crandall of Winnebago, farmer; John Brown of Kansas, farmer; Lloyd Morrisonville, farmer, and Alvin Park of Peoria.

The Illinois farm plan presented to the Willkie conference included a program to increase the use of farm products, with nonpolitical use of commodity loans, and a nonbureaucratic limitation of crop production. Decentralization of farm administration was advocated, with the elimination from the federal pay roll of petty job holders. Administration of farm acts would be in the hands of the farmer on a representative basis.

The reaction of many of the farmers to Willkie was that if he were elected he would put the administration of the farm program in the hands of practical farmers.

Willkie was met in Des Moines by a brother, Edward Willkie of Chicago, vice president of Libby, McNeill & Libby, former all-American football tackle at Annapolis and former heavyweight wrestler in the Olympic games. It was announced that in the future Edward, who is 6 feet 4 and weighs 240 pounds, will travel with the Republican nominee.

TWO LOSE LIVES IN COLLISON OF AUTO AND TRUCK

Two persons were killed yesterday in a collision between a truck and an automobile in which five men were riding. The crash occurred at Armitage avenue and Honoré street. Those killed were Louis Marek, 34 years old, 2029 North Wolcott avenue, an unemployed laborer, and William Gorniak, 52, of 2015 North Winchester avenue, a barber.

The others in the car were injured. They are Joseph Brozny, 2714 Julia court, the driver; Robert Zagorski, 1624 Armitage avenue; and Ben Krupa, 2048 Shakespeare avenue. The truck driver, Joseph Larocco, 34, of 833 Trumbull avenue, was not hurt.

Mrs. Katherine Donahue, mother of Police Magistrate William F. Donahue Jr. of Harvey, died in the Ingalls Memorial hospital in Harvey of injuries incurred Friday in an automobile collision. Mrs. Donahue, who was 57 years old, was a Chicago public school teacher for 35 years. Her home was at 15335 Broadway in the suburb.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 495 persons had been killed in traffic accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 371 were killed in Chicago, where 13,503 were injured in traffic in the same period.

GOV. DICKINSON SAYS MICHIGAN IS STRONG FOR WENDELL WILLKIE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 5.—Gov. Luren D. Dickinson today predicted that Michigan automobiles will swarm south to hear Wendell Willkie accept the Republican Presidential nomination on Aug. 17 at Elwood, Ind. The 81 year old governor was interviewed in the capitol shortly after he received a telephone call that his wife of 52 years was seriously ill at their farm 20 miles southwest of Lansing.

"I hope to go to Elwood," he said, "but whether I can will depend, of course, upon conditions at home.

"I've been in 25 counties of this state since the Philadelphia convention and I know from personal observation that Michigan is strong for Wendell Willkie."

SPEAK UP, TRIO OF BOOKIE PROBE WITNESSES TOLD

Three witnesses accused of withholding evidence from the federal grand jury were ordered yesterday by Judge William H. Holly of the Federal District court to tell their stories. Samuel Klaus, special assistant United States attorney, had accused the witnesses of refusing to answer questions in the grand jury's investigation of the bootlegging of race information to handbooks since the Annenberg horse race service was discontinued.

The witnesses are John J. Fogarty, said by Klaus to be the former New Orleans, La., manager of the Annenberg Nationwide News service; Edward Mangan, and Andrew Burns. Mangan and Burns are accused of trying to transmit results of the races at Arlington Park.

William J. Campbell, United States attorney, filed an answer in federal court to the plea of the Western Union Telegraph company and 11 codefendants who are asking that indictments charging conspiracy to bootleg racing news be quashed. Campbell asked that the plea be denied.

CARROZZO RITES TODAY; PONDER HEIR TO DOMAIN

Ornate Funeral Planned for Union Boss.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Arrangements for a spectacular funeral today for Mike Carrozzo, labor dictator, were being made last night as anxious men were pondering the moves to enthrone his successor—as yet unnamed. Carrozzo died Sunday in Presbyterian hospital after an operation.

The body, clothed in a white suit, was lying in state in a $10,000 bronze coffin in the undertaking parlors of Rago Brothers, 624 North Western avenue. By evening 100 or more floral tributes were banked about the coffin.

Few visitors called to see the body during the day. During the evening, however, observers reported a scattering of judges, night club figures, minor politicians, gamblers, and bookmakers among the 500 or 600 persons who called to pay their last respects.

One worry beset the Rago brothers—that the Catholic church authority might bar Carrozzo's body from burial in Calvary cemetery. The late Cardinal Mundelein barred the bodies of notorious characters from consecrated ground. His successor, Archbishop Samuel Stritch, had made no pronouncement on the subject of Carrozzo.

Wealth Estimated in Millions.

Carrozzo, the ruler of 25 unions and absolute monarch of at least 15,000 laborers for many years, had been a power in politics as well as in the field of labor. His wealth was estimated in the millions. Such as he was, an outpouring of many thousands of persons was expected for his funeral.

The Rago brothers wanted to give Mike a royal sendoff. It is part of their business. A certain group of labor chieftains — some racketeer, some legitimate—wanted to show honor to Carrozzo. The head man—Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti, successor of Al Capone—sent word from a hiding place that he wanted no expense or labor spared in creating splendor for the departed brother.

But Carrozzo had been divorced twice. He had been indicted for murder. He had been arrested several times as a pistol toter. He was considered to be a person of bad reputation.

Makes New Name for Himself.

A month ago Carrozzo made a new name for himself. When questioned by reporters about his income tax troubles with the government and about paving contracts he shouted: "What this country needs is a Hitler." A reporter added: "—or a Mussolini?"

Mike answered: "Yes—or a Mussolini!"

A reporter for an afternoon paper turned to him and asked: "Well, we have always been friends, haven't we, Mike?"

Friends Worried About Burial.

Carrozzo's friends were worried about what the chancery office of the Catholic archdiocese would do. His divorces and the fact that he had not been a practicing Catholic would prevent him from having a church funeral. But the burial notice said it would be in Calvary cemetery.

"We've arranged to put the body in a vault in Calvary cemetery," Louis Rago announced in the evening—to the relief of many of the Carrozzo following.

It was expected that few of the 4,000 city employés who owed their first allegiance to Carrozzo would be at work today. Every last one of them was expected to attend the funeral. As there is to be no requiem mass, a few prayers will be said in the undertaker's chapel and the body will be taken to Calvary cemetery, followed, no doubt, by a long procession of automobiles, one of the undertakers said.

Speculate on Police Detail.

Late yesterday there had been no request for a police detail. The Carrozzo following didn't go in much for police details, it was explained. But there was no doubt the "boys" would like a motorcycle escort, and as none was requested from the Chicago police department there was speculation whether motorcycle police from any Nitti sector might be used.

Among the Carrozzo lieutenants it was reported there was no doubt Nitti would name some one to step into Carrozzo's shoes and that Nitti henceforth would be the power behind the throne. It was pointed out Nitti had never tried to war on Carrozzo over Carrozzo's rule of the 25 unions. Nitti took unions away from other labor leaders, without hesitation, but Carrozzo was said to have been of different mettle.

There was speculation that if Nitti could take over the Carrozzo string of unions, added to the unions now owned by Nitti and his gang, Nitti might be regarded as the most powerful labor boss in the country.

ANOTHER INDIANA PRISON TRUSTY ESCAPES FARM

Indiana prison officials in Michigan City disclosed yesterday that another prison farm trusty has escaped. He is Walter Braden, 50 years old, a farmer sentenced June 27 to one to 10 years for grand larceny.

Braden was missing at the 10 p. m. roll call Sunday at the Warren prison farm near the prison. Officials said he had been made a trusty because he had no police record until his conviction.

Name Slain Thief as 1 of Trio That Fled in Holdup Gun Fight

Frank Ryan, alias Frank Manor, 27 years old, who was shot to death by police as he fled an attempted burglary, was identified yesterday as one of four men who robbed the Hurley Machine company, 2115 South 54th avenue, Cicero, last Friday, and fought a gun battle with police during a four mile automobile chase that ended when the bandit car crashed at Madison street and Keeler avenue.

William Nolan.

Ryan, who has an eight year police record as a burglar, was killed by Policeman William Nolan of Town Hall police early yesterday at the Hartman Drug store at 1000 Belmont avenue. Policemen Nolan, Michael Touhy, and Frank Medloff had been told by a private watchman that burglars were in the store.

Shoots and Kills Burglar.

Nolan stationed himself at the front door, and a few moments later a burglar, wearing a brown suit, ran out and fired point blank at him. Nolan shot and killed the second burglar as he followed his companion.

Shortly after the shooting, Frank Clements, 3621 Sheffield avenue, was robbed of his automobile at Belmont avenue and Clark street. His description of the thief fitted that of the burglar who shot at Nolan.

Near the scene of the shooting police found an automobile containing an automatic rifle, three clips of cartridges, and a set of burglar tools. The car was one that had been reported stolen from a parking lot at 501 South Dearborn street last April 18. A bag containing safe blowing tools and a bottle of nitro-glycerine was dropped by Ryan when he fell.

Identified by Witness.

A witness whose name was withheld by police identified Ryan's body as that of one of the three men who escaped after leaping from the bandit car when it crashed after the Hurley robbery. A fourth bandit, Joseph Kostek, 23, of 608 North Paulina street, also fled from the wrecked car, but was captured later by the police. Most of the $1,406 loot was recovered.

Kostek, questioned by police after his capture under a porch at 4145 West End avenue, said he had left his own car at Laramie avenue and Roosevelt road. An attendant in a nearby filling station identified Ryan's body as that of one of the two men who removed Kostek's car. Police also pointed to the rifle found after the Hartman burglary. An automatic rifle was used by the bandits in the Hurley robbery.

PURCHASE OF 25 NEW SINGLE DECK BUSES APPROVED

The Chicago Motor Coach company yesterday was authorized to buy 25 new 45 passenger single deck Diesel powered buses at a cost of $315,675. The proposed purchase was approved in an order entered by the Illinois Commerce commission.

The company first began buying Diesel coaches in January, 1939, and now has 94 Diesels in its fleet of about 550 buses. Representatives of the company told the commission that operations of the Diesel buses have proved successful and warrant the purchase of additional units.

The company plans to buy the buses on a time payment plan, $31,515 in cash immediately and the balance in monthly payments of $5,920 each over a four year period. The new coaches will be built by the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing company of Pontiac, Mich.

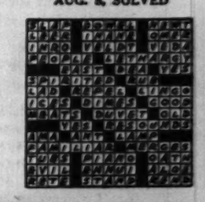
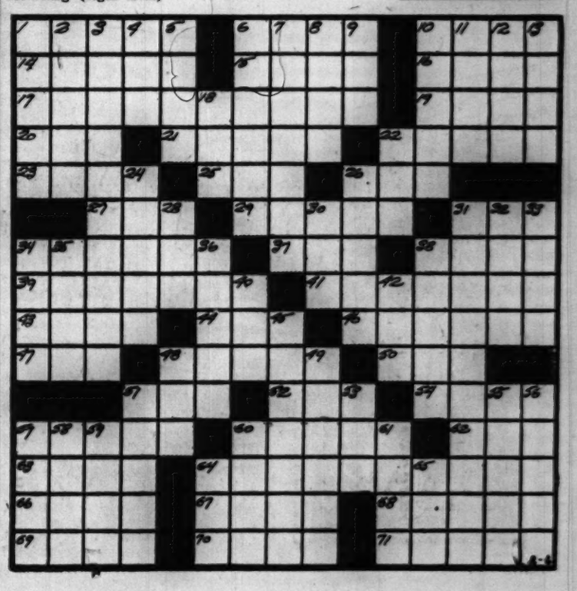
PUZZLE OF MONDAY, AUG. 5, SOLVED





CANADA'S SPEED PUTS AIR TRAINING PLAN NEAR GOAL

2,418 Already in Schools for War Flyers.

BY GEORGE SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 5.—After months of difficult preparation, Canada now is going full speed ahead on the commonwealth air training plan. There are 2,418 students in training. That is 2,000 more than there were a month ago, and every month these figures will mount as new schools come into operation.

As planned last December, the British commonwealth air training scheme was a $600,000,000 venture to train pilots from Australia, New Zealand, Newfoundland, and the United Kingdom.

Britain undertook to provide the training planes. Canada was to provide the airfields. Canada, Australia, and New Zealand were to split other costs on the basis of the number of men trained from each dominion.

Canada undertook to provide the bulk of the teachers and ground crews, a total staff of 40,000 for 71 schools. Canada also undertook to provide 80 per cent of the students.

Emergency Is Met.

Canada was to be allowed a considerable time to get into the full swing of this undertaking, which was to turn out pilots, air observers, and air gunners with the same relentless outpouring of an American motor assembly line.

As Britain visualized the war, enough pilots were being trained in the United Kingdom to look after the first year's production of planes. The commonwealth pilots were to be ready to deliver the knockout blow to Germany toward the end of 1941 or 1942. Some of the Canadian schools were not to go into operation until late in 1941.

Then came the shock of the German drive thru Holland and Belgium. Canada responded to the emergency at once and revamped and speeded up the air training plan. At the same time came a demand that all available planes and pilots be sent overseas. Air Minister C. G. "Chubby" Power, a fighting Irishman with a long war record, met the demands.

Whole Program Nears Goal.

As a result of the speedup, all the airfields and all the schools planned for later will be ready for operation this summer. Some are in operation now. It has required the full mobilization of the Canadian construction industry to do it. At the same time the dominion has sent overseas to immediate active service most of the planes and nearly all of the trained pilots who were to have been used in training the army of young flyers.

Britain first agreed to supply the training planes needed, with the engines for them to be built in Canada. Under the revamped plan, the planes and engines, some 6,000 of them, are coming in a steady stream from the United States.

There has been a rush of pilots to take the place of the instructors who were sent abroad. Former Canadians and Englishmen who have been flying commercial planes in the United States, and some Americans, have been enlisted to insure the success of the training plan.

Younger Men Take Command.

There has been a shakeup of "brass hats" at air headquarters, and now the average age of the air command is under 45 years. Civilians were brought in to take the administrative load off the shoulders of the air executives, who now are turning their entire attention to the job of teaching students to fly.

In the first phase of the training plan instructors and mechanics were rushed thru the instructors' schools. Then, on April 29, the second phase began, with the first students entering the flying fields that were ready.

Australian and New Zealand flyers receive their preliminary training at home and come to Canada only for advanced training.

Students who enter without previous training are classed as privates. They cannot elect whether they will be pilots, observers, or air gunners. Officials decide this on the basis of aptitude tests and physical fitness after the recruits have spent four weeks at an initial training school learning air force law, mathematics, flight theory, air armament, and physical training.

Pilots Created in 28 Weeks.

Those selected to be pilots then spend eight weeks at one of the 26 elementary flying schools, 14 weeks at one of 16 service flying schools, and two weeks at one of 10 bombing and gunnery schools. Thus those who start without training are ready to proceed overseas 28 weeks after beginning their studies.

Air observers are chosen for their sense of responsibility and mathematical precision. They spend 12 weeks at one of 10 air observer schools, where they study navigation, aerial photography, and reconnaissance duties, such as sketching, observation, and spotting enemy positions and concentrations. The observer is the ship's navigator; once he has brought the plane to the objective, he becomes the bomb aimer and dropper. Then he must chart the way home.

Six Weeks at Bomb Sights.

After their 12 weeks at the observer schools the observers proceed to the bombing and gunnery schools for six weeks to learn the use of the complex bomb sighting devices. There they also study and practice machine gunnery. After four weeks more spent at one of two schools of practical aerial navigation—at the end of 26 weeks in all—the observer is ready for overseas active service.

The pilot flies the plane, the observer navigates it, and the air gunner protects it from enemy planes. The first stage of a gunner's course is 24 weeks at one of four wireless schools. He then goes to bombing and gunnery schools for four weeks. In addition to learning marksmanship the gunner has to be able swiftly to make minor repairs and adjustments on machine guns while in the air.

Most of the graduates will go overseas at once, tho some will be attached to Canadian home defense squadrons for active service on the sea coasts. While they are in Canada all students are attached to the royal Canadian air force. Once they leave Canada, they become members of the royal air force.

BULGARIA TO GET BACK LOST LAND FROM RUMANIANS

Pact to Be Signed for Return of Dobruja.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 5 (AP).—Bulgaria and Rumania, bowing to the will of Adolf Hitler after 27 years of territorial controversy, will reach an agreement by Saturday returning southern Dobruja to Bulgaria, sources close to the Bulgarian government asserted today.

Rumania to return area in black.

Dobruja went to Rumania in 1913 after Bulgaria's defeat in the second Balkan war.

Hold Parley Thursday.

Following Hitler's instructions to Balkan diplomats at Salzburg last week that they settle their differences peaceably—and soon—preliminary negotiations were ended today, these sources said.

Rumanian and Bulgarian negotiators will meet on Thursday at Craiova, in southwestern Rumania.

Balkan experts said Bulgaria would receive her reward for leaning toward the Rome-Berlin axis, a trend Rumania recently copied. German support for Bulgaria was reflected in the newspaper Slovo. It reported that Premier Bogdan Philoff and Foreign Minister Ivan Popoff last week expressed to Hitler "Bulgaria's loyalty to the Rome-Berlin axis."

Each Side Has a Bill.

Soviet Russia already has taken back from Rumania the big province of Bessarabia, to which she never renounced her claim. Rumania faces a third territorial loss, the province of Transylvania, which Hungary wants back.

Authoritative sources predicted Bulgaria would get back all of her former territory, remaking the 1913 frontier. Bulgaria will present a bill for $234,000,000 for damages resulting during Rumanian occupation, but this is expected to be more than canceled by a Rumanian bill for public works.

British Closure of Burma Road Hit by India Party

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—The India league in London published today a declaration of the powerful all-India congress party [Indian nationalists] "wholly disapproving" of Britain's agreement with Japan to close the Burma road for three months to war supplies for the Chinese army. The declaration, telegraphed to the league by the party secretary,

NAZI EXPELLED FROM FRANCE AS LEADER OF SPIES BACK AS envoy

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP).—Adolf Hitler has appointed Otto Abetz, formerly of the Berlin foreign office, ambassador to German conquered France.

Otto Abetz.

Abetz, who was expelled from France in 1939 as an unwelcome Nazi agent, and whose wife is French, was given his walking papers by the government of former Premier Edouard Daladier June 30, that year, following discovery of a widespread German espionage network.

The sensational spy hunt brought the arrests of many Germans and "French Hitlerians." At that time Abetz was known as a "semiofficial" representative of Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany, but the French said he was the brains of a ring whose espionage work reached into some of the highest French circles.

Upon the fall of Paris last June, Abetz returned triumphantly to the French capital and was given the important post of assistant to Capt. von Grothe, Hitler's director of government bureaus there.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—The Warsaw Zeitung today said that 65,000 Jews must leave Cracow by Aug. 15. If they leave before that date they may take their property with them. Those who leave later may take only 110 pounds. The total population of Cracow is 225,000. This measure is being adopted to "make Cracow worthy of being the capital of the government general," the newspaper said. Jews who leave before Aug. 15 may also select the location to which they want to be transported in former Poland. Facilities to reach the destinations have been promised.

NERVOUS ROBBER GETS $18.

NAZI RAIDERS PUT PEP, NOT PANIC, INTO THE BRITISH Town 'Vanishes' When the Sirens Wail.

SOMEWHERE IN EAST ANGLIA, England, Aug. 5 (AP).—The Germans have taught the people of this town how to hurry—it takes them less than a minute to get into air raid shelters after the first wail of the warning siren.

Each time a raid starts shopkeepers hurry out and raise their shutters, bank clerks seize their cash and ledgers and rush for the vaults, and people vanish from the streets, all in a few seconds.

Soon after the raid is over, figures can be seen hurrying to the library to await the posting of the casualty list. It's all rather matter of fact and methodical. There's no sign of panic.

Grumble Over the Delays.

The main grumble in this Norfolk-Suffolk area seems to be over the delay caused to business.

"We've had to close several hours already today," sighed one shopkeeper who already had opened late because of a sleepless night.

[The British have reported frequent German attacks on East Anglia, the area of Norfolk and Suffolk northeast of London.]

Friends with whom this writer stayed have had their luggage packed, ready to move out for more than a month. But they are staying until the military orders them to go.

Bombs Fall Near Railroad.

Soon after the writer's train entered the defense area an elderly dining car conductor pointed out new sights along the tracks.

At one point a row of bomb craters had been blasted almost in a straight line across a field of yellowing corn, just short of the tracks.

Another crater lay on the other side, also a few feet from the tracks.

Like the other trainmen, he had a row of medals and ribbons from the last war pinned across his chest.

Buildings Near Tracks Hit.

As the train drew slowly into this ancient East Anglian town, the conductor pointed out several damaged buildings near the railroad.

"They did that yesterday," he explained.

Italian Decree Forbids Any More Electric Stoves

ROME, Italy, Aug. 5.—The shadow of a cold winter was cast over Italy today with publication of a decree that no more electric stoves or heaters can be sold or installed in houses. This dashed the hopes of many who had planned to compensate for lack of coal by electric heating.

RUSSIA VOTES LATVIA INTO SOVIET UNION

MOSCOW, Aug. 5 (AP).—The supreme soviet [parliament] tonight unanimously approved Latvia's request to become a member of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. A similar application from Estonia will be considered tomorrow. Lithuania has already been annexed.

EIGHT of the next ten bald-headed persons you meet became bald because they failed to rid their scalps of dandruff infection. At various times they obtained temporary relief by removing the surface particles of dandruff with lotions and washes. But while they were experimenting, the underlying causes of dandruff were damaging their hair-growing structure and leading them to baldness.

There are three major types of dandruff. Each demands a different treatment. Twenty years of experience qualifies The Thomas' to determine which type of dandruff is causing your hair loss, and endows Thomas experts with unusual skill and ability in administering corrective treatment.

Let The Thomas' help you to get rid of dandruff, overcome scalp itch, and promote normal hair growth on the thin and bald spots. They have helped a quarter-million other persons. Doesn't it seem reasonable that they can help you, too, to retain or regain your hair? Call today for a free scalp examination.

NAZIS USE BALTIC PORTS TO MASS INVASION ARMY

Pick Bases Beyond Reach of British Bombers.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 6, Tuesday.—During the lull in the war before the expected hurricane, Germany's preparations for an invasion extend even to its remotest territory, it is learned from information reaching London today.

The preparations are said to be proceeding not only in the harbors of Holland, Belgium and France, but even in the distant Baltic areas. British planes recently crossed the Baltic on reconnaissance flights.

The possibility of light troop carrying vessels being temporarily assembled in more distant harbors to prevent them being easy targets for British bombing raids is considered here. However, troop movements on any scale large enough to make an invasion feasible are regarded not only as a time consuming job, but it is contended they would be observed in time to afford a warning.

Expect Swarms of Planes.

Military experts echo Prime Minister Churchill's warning that the fact that the blitzkrieg against England has not begun is no reason to suppose that it will not take place. The experts say that when the time comes, Nazi planes will come over not merely 100 at a time, but in waves several times that number.

Authoritative circles here emphasized that the German operations so far have been what Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering called armed reconnaissances, rather than total warfare.

Since June 18 the Germans have been sending across 50 or 100 bombers nightly, weather permitting. It was stated that during the period of four weeks beginning June 18 British planes dropped 37,000 bombs on Germany and German occupied territory, as against 6,987 bombs dropped by the Germans on British territory.

Nazi Plane Losses Heavier.

The same sources declared that the Germans during that period lost 307 planes as the result of British action, while the British losses for the same period were only 172.

The British assert that the German night bombing is not effective, but that British raids are producing substantial results. This is attributed here to the superior British training and personnel.

Emphasis also is given authoritative statements that British air strength now is greater than ever, and that air production has gone up "by leaps and bounds." However, experts say that "it still cannot be stressed sufficiently that the real air war and the real raids on Britain, with all Germany's potential air might behind them have not yet started."

Strike in Early Raids.

LONDON, Aug. 6, Tuesday (AP).—German planes stabbed at various points in Britain early today. The sharpest activity of the widespread raids were centered on the northeast coast of England.

Hundreds of persons in one northeastern town watched a raiding plane and a British fighter in a spectacular dogfight illuminated by white pencils of searchlights. The raider finally fled with the British plane in such hot pursuit that the German jettisoned his bombs into the sea a short distance offshore. Windows ashore were shattered.

One raider dropped several bombs in a rural area of southeastern England, and others were busy over Wales.

The Exchange [British] Telegraph agency reported from Goteborg, Sweden, that a Danish passenger ship with "several" persons aboard struck a mine and sank Sunday night while leaving Copenhagen harbor. The mine apparently had been sown by a British plane, the dispatch said. The agency said all passengers were believed saved by a German warship. All Copenhagen ship traffic was suspended yesterday, it was reported.

Mine Sinks Minesweeper.

The admiralty announced last night that the minesweeping trawler Marsona had been sunk by a mine. No further details were given.

Twenty-one British sailors died as a result of two attacks by Nazi dive bombers on the destroyer Boreas in the English channel on July 25, the admiralty announced. Twenty-five others were wounded.

Yesterday's air ministry communique said British bombers, carrying out their nightly forays, set ablaze an oil plant at Sterkrade in the Ruhr and a hangar at Krefeld Sunday night without the loss of a single plane.

Fourteen tons of high explosive and incendiary bombs were rained on the Sterkrade plant, it was reported, by British bombers attacking in waves from before midnight until the early hours of today.

The returning pilots said they first shattered the tanks, then fired the oil flowing from them with their incendiary bombs. They told of earth jarring explosions followed by flames which lighted up the countryside for miles around.

The Germans kept up their harassing attacks on Britain early yesterday dropping high explosive and incendiary bombs in isolated districts of the Midlands and east England.

Air Battles Rage Over Africa

Yesterday's developments as aerial warfare over Africa became intensified, with Italy launching what it called a systematic drive to destroy British air bases now ringing its African possessions. Both sides claimed victories in aerial battles, as shown by captions.

ITALY'S PLANES LAUNCH SMASH AT BRITISH BASES

Bomb on Wide Front in Africa.

ROME, Italy, Aug. 5 (AP).—Italy has launched a systematic aerial offensive to destroy important British bases ringing Italy's African possessions, Stefani, Italian official news agency, reported today.

Italian air raids over the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Kenya, and Aden wrecked some of Britain's most valuable centers over the week-end, Stefani said. Among them were remote airfields hastily built because of Italian bombardment of regular airdromes.

The high command said 14 British planes were shot down in Africa on Sunday, including 10 in one battle. It said Italian fighters downed seven Gloucesters and three Blenheims when the British attempted to bomb Libyan troops near the Egyptian frontier.

Ground Guns Down One.

Another was downed during an Italian raid on Mersa Matruh, Egypt; another by antiaircraft fire at Kassala, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and the two others in a British raid on the harbor of Massaua, Eritrea.

The British attack, it said, caused only "light damage." Four persons were killed and 30 wounded.

Targets of Italian attacks were said by the high command to stretch over 1,850 miles, from Mersa Matruh, on the Egyptian coast, to the port of Berbera, British Somaliland, on the Gulf of Aden below the Red sea.

Two Ships Damaged.

Stefani told of attacks on Haiya and Summitt, both railroad junctions, and also the little harbor of Zeila, British Somaliland, where it said two ships, a tugboat, docks, warehouses, and port works suffered heavy bomb damage. At Haiya, Italian planes' bombs ripped up several hundred yards of track.

British planes attempted to repel the Italians at Summitt, the agency said, but were driven off while Italian bombers exploded gasoline tanks, bombed troop concentrations, and set afire a building believed to house gasoline reserves.

Battle 50 Italian Planes.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 5 (AP).—Three Italian planes were shot down in a big air battle in eastern Libya yesterday, with a loss of one British plane missing, the royal air force communique reported today.

The British said their reconnaissance aircraft, accompanied by four fighters, met 50 Italian fighters in the Bir el-Gobbi area and shot down two of them in flames, while a third was the victim of antiaircraft fire of its own ground forces.

TEXAN FLIES INTO A FIGHT FIRST DAY OUT WITH BRITISH

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—A 27 year old American from Laredo, Tex., who reported for duty to the British air force only yesterday, engaged in an air battle with German fighters over the French coast today. The air ministry refused to give the Texan's name, but said his squadron shot down two Messerschmitts.

[Laredo associates said the aviator was Arthur Donahue, an instructor for two years at a Laredo flying school. He left Laredo seven weeks ago to enlist at Ottawa, Ont.]

The "short, fair haired American pilot" chased two Messerschmitts, hit one and was himself attacked by other German fighters, the air ministry said. The American landed safely but the fuselage of his Spitfire plane was peppered with bullet holes.

"The fight was great fun," he was quoted as saying. "I wouldn't have missed it for all the Japs in China."

He had three weeks of training in a British Spitfire plane before reporting yesterday for action.

NAME ASSESSOR AT GOSHEN

Elkhart, Ind., Aug. 5 [Special].—James Pepple of Nappanee was named Elkhart county assessor today by the county commissioners at Goshen. The post has been vacated by death three times in 14 months. The most recent incumbent was Mrs. Roy Berlin, who took her own life on July 30, was appointed assessor in June 1939, following the death of Harvey F. Banta.

Britain Reports Increase in Number of Her Jobless

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Returns issued by the ministry of labor tonight showed that Britain's list of unemployed increased by 60,431 between June 15 and July 17 to a total of 827,266, despite the concentration of labor on arms production.

BERLINERS DUCK AS GUNS FIRE AT A PLANE AT DUSK

Troops Laugh as Sweeties Hug Tree Trunks.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—Antiaircraft guns mounted on Berlin rooftops fired at a plane above the heart of the city at 7:15 o'clock tonight. The shooting occurred near Leipziger Platz and the chancellery.

Pedestrians saw the plane, which was flying very low. Tracer bullets were fired, but no searchlights went into action since visibility was relatively clear. The tracer bullets looked like roman candles discharging balls of fire.

Rush Into Doorways.

Persons in the streets rushed into doorways. When the firing ceased I saw some soldiers who were strolling with their sweethearts roar with delight at the sight of the girls shivering with fear and clinging to a tree trunk.

Officials said the plane apparently flew into Berlin unreported after straying from the precisely prescribed air lanes in the region of the capital.

Adolf Hitler has returned to Berlin from his Bavarian mountain retreat near Berchtesgaden. His standard flew above the chancellery today and crowds appeared in front of the building as the Fuehrer's lieutenants arrived to confer with him. Among the visitors were Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering and Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch.

Attack British Oil Tanks.

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP). — The high command today announced the German air force carried out a number of raids on British antiaircraft positions, oil tanks, and shipyards yesterday. It also claimed that British bombs dropped in western Germany last night caused little damage. It said one civilian was killed.

In reconnoitering operations over England, Scotland, and "the sea regions off these coasts," the high command's daily communique said a merchant ship was sunk at the mouth of St. George's channel, about 65 miles southwest of Pembroke.

During the night, the high command said, German warplanes bombed oil storage tanks and shipyards at Sheerness, in the Thames estuary. Antiaircraft positions were attacked at Thames Haven, in the Thames estuary, and North Killingholme, in the Humber river estuary.

Air Raids Draw Counterclaims

DUISBURG, Germany, Aug. 5 (AP).—Continuing its campaign to back its claims that the British bombing of industrial Germany is less effective than London reports said, the German high command today allowed foreign correspondents into the high walled Thyssen oil and steel plant here to see damage resulting from two bombs.

First Time Inside Plants.

It was the first time since the war began that correspondents were permitted inside any of Germany's vast war geared industrial plants.

The Germans said the British had claimed the Thyssen plant was wrecked. The correspondents were shown extensively about the plant. The Germans said one bomb fell in an open courtyard a few yards from a row of tanks which are part of a distillery making gasoline from coal. The second bomb smashed a laboratory which the Germans said was not part of the operating network.

Assert Plant Not Slowed.

One official said the two blasts failed to slow the plant.

[An authoritative British source last Friday said the British air force has bombed more than 100 German cities and towns containing military objectives. The source added that "within a gigantic circle we have inflicted irreparable damage on such places as Duisburg, Duesseldorf, Essen, and Wesel."]

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—The British air force was reported tonight to have registered direct hits in every one of 23 bombing attacks on the German port city of Hamburg since May 10—part of Britain's 48 raids into Germany in the past 56 nights.

The detailed report on the objectives at Hamburg was made by Information Minister Alfred Duff Cooper in reply to German denials of British reports that port facilities, oil refineries, and munitions factories at Hamburg were "practically in ruins."

Raid Oil Docks 14 Times.

Duff Cooper said the oil depots were attacked 14 times, the docks six times, the railways three times, and the Hamburg airdrome twice. "In some cases," he said, "fires were started which were seen as much as 80 miles away on the bombers' return journey."

[American correspondents gave a radio account of a German conducted trip to Hamburg and a visit to a churchtop from which, they said, there was no sign of damage to the port and harbor facilities that they could see.]

Too Much to See All.

The British minister of information commented that in a city as large as Hamburg damage to scattered munitions factories might not be seen from a single observation point, and only a small part of the 20 miles of docks could be observed.

BRITISH RELEASE JAPANESE LEADER SEIZED IN RAIDS

Cabinet Will Air Row in Parliament Today.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Relations between Great Britain and Japan are hanging in the balance pending further protests and developments on those already made by both nations against arrests of each other's citizens on either espionage charges or in the interest of national security.

Japanese reaction to British arrests of Japanese in London, Rangoon, Singapore, and Hongkong are being watched carefully. Angry warnings in the Tokio press receive full publicity here.

The fact that Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka of Japan has discussed the situation with his cabinet, particularly the ministers of war and navy, is told significantly in British headlines. Neither is there any attempt to minimize Japanese press reports that "if the situation grows worse, drastic action can be expected."

Eight Japanese Still Held.

The British government tonight announced that Satoru Makihara, one of two prominent Japanese businessmen arrested in London last Friday, had been released. Seven other Japanese, beside the one in London, remain in custody in other parts of the British empire. The status of seven Britons still held by the Japanese is obscure.

A statement on British-Japanese relations is expected to be made tomorrow in the house of commons by Prime Minister Winston Churchill's government.

In analyzing the far eastern situation, diplomatic observers ascribe considerable significance to the announcement that a Japanese commercial mission is about to leave for the Dutch East Indies.

Seeks to Tighten Grip.

Particular importance is attributed to this mission since President Roosevelt's embargo on oil from the United States. Petroleum is an important Dutch East Indies export. Fresh Japanese demands on French Indo-China also are believed to be part of the program of the Tokio government to tighten its political and commercial grip on the far east while the western powers are occupied in the war.

Naval correspondents emphasize that Japan, as the result of three successful wars, is holding strategic positions of enormous value, in addition to having the third strongest navy in the world. She can muster 9 battleships, or 10 if one demilitarized in 1931 is included. Since the expiration of the London naval treaty, this vessel, the Hiei, is reported to have been rearmed and restored to fighting condition.

Outposts in Pacific.

Under the Versailles treaty Japan secured the mandate for the Caroline and Marianne islands, forming valuable outposts in the Pacific. Previously, the war with Russia gave Japan possession of the Kurile islands and the southern half of the island of Sakhalin, known in Japan as Karafuto.

Her position in Corea immensely strengthens her naval position in the far east, naval experts say. As a result of the war with China in 1894-'95, the Pescadores islands and Formosa also became part of the Japanese empire.

These extensive possessions added to the conquest of Manchukuo and the occupation of the greater part of the Chinese seaboard, give Japan a formidable position against any threatened attack, either from the east or the west, the naval experts say.

ROOSEVELT CHOOSES JAMES FORRESTAL AS NEW NAVAL OFFICIAL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5 (AP).—President Roosevelt today nominated James V. Forrestal of New York to be under-secretary of the navy, a post created by the President under recently adopted legislation to reorganize the navy. Forrestal, former president of Dillon, Reed & Co., has been serving as an executive assistant to Mr. Roosevelt. Under the reorganization act, Mr. Roosevelt was authorized to name an undersecretary of the navy during a national or limited emergency.

John Kaplan, 25 years old, 1415 South Karlov avenue, was found dead yesterday in the garage at the rear of his home. He was lying near the exhaust of an auto with the motor running, and a note found in his room, told his mother, Jennie, that he was "tired of it all."

FINNS SACRIFICE TO AID YANKEES FLEEING BALTIC

Ready to Provide Trains; Arrange Bus Trip.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 5.—Finland is making sacrifices to help 600 to 700 American citizens reach her arctic port of Petsamo, where they will embark on the steamer American Legion for New York. The sailing date, Aug. 13, has been fixed tentatively, since it is not known whether 150 Americans now in Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia will be able to reach Petsamo by that time.

The American Legion reached Petsamo today.

The American chargés d'affaires in Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia still are trying to persuade the new soviet governments of those countries to cancel the measures that compel Americans to journey to Petsamo by way of Berlin and Stockholm, instead of over the shorter and cheaper route across the Finnish gulf to Finland.

Finns Arrange for Buses.

Besides being ready to provide special trains for the Americans, the Finnish government is doing everything possible to arrange speedy transportation by motor bus from Rovaniemi over the famed arctic highway to Petsamo, more than 300 miles distant. The Finnish-Russian war in the Arctic destroyed some of the tourist inns and other buildings that might have been used to accommodate the travelers.

The arctic highway was the scene of important battles. Two miles north of Nautsi, one of the tourist inns, an entire division of Russians was attacked and destroyed by a battalion of Finnish soldiers, who beat back another Russian division to Salmijaervi, a few miles from Petsamo.

Shelter at Port Provided.

Despite the inadequate port facilities of Petsamo, which are working 24 hours a day to bring into Finland sorely needed supplies purchased in the United States, the problem of feeding, transporting, and housing the Americans is being solved with dispatch. Some of the passengers will have to live on the steamer for more than a week because bolshevik chicanery in the Baltic states is delaying many who want to board the vessel.

FRANCE TO PAY WORKER ON BASIS OF FAMILY'S SIZE

Aid for Mothers Will Spur Birth Rate.

VICHY, France, Aug. 5 (AP).—Workmen in the new France will be paid in proportion to the size of their families instead of on the usual basis of merit, Youth Administrator Jean Ybarnegaray announced tonight.

French women, he said, "will return to their prime traditional purpose in life, being in their homes, having children, and living only to raise strong, useful men."

Fathers Get Preference.

Fathers will be given preference over bachelors in both public and private employment in this revolutionary move to check France's dwindling birth rate. Many have offered the low birth rate as a big factor in France's military collapse.

The defeat by Germany is expected to be the prelude to "one of the greatest victories a people ever won over themselves," Ybarnegaray declared.

"Mothers will be artisans of this secret and magnificent triumph," he added.

A revolution in public instruction also has been planned. Obligatory studies of mathematics and Latin for young women will be replaced with courses in household economy and child-bearing.

Mothers to Get Most Aid.

France lost 1,500,000 men in the world war, leaving women to fight out their own welfare to the detriment of rearing children, it was declared. Since 1910 500,000 marriages were wrecked by divorce, it was estimated, and 100,000 other women remained voluntarily sterile. Ybarnegaray charged that the system in vogue tolerated the "voluntary suppression" of some 600,000 other births. The new system, he added, will guarantee every French woman that "the more children she has the more aid she will receive."

FRANCE WARNED TO ADOPT AXIS' POLITICAL IDEAS

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Aug. 5.—The lines and principles along which Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini will elaborate peace treaties are indicated in an article in the newspaper Le Temps.

The paper says that "the present war is considered in Italy and Germany as having all the characteristics of a vast struggle between peoples, and therefore as a revolutionary war."

Plan Dictator Régimes.

"Seen from this angle the rectification of frontiers which the peace treaties will include represent only a secondary part of the results of the new struggle," the paper continues.

"Axis economic and moral policies will be imposed on all European domains, international as well as national.

"One of the most important problems of this war will be setting up governments of an authoritative, corporative, and totalitarian nature so that all peoples on the European continent will speak only one political language and, for that reason, will wind up in coming to an understanding.

"New Economic Order."

"Rome and Berlin think that when the same principles dominate the continent from Portugal to Finland it will be easy to build an understanding generally guaranteeing peace, assuring progressive disarmament, lightening European budgets from the weight of military expenses and finally, organizing new economic order in Europe."

FREDERICK COOK, POLE DISCOVERY CLAIMANT, DIES

Pardoned by Roosevelt for Oil Fraud.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP).—The strange, frustrated career of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who hovered between the rôles of misunderstood explorer and spectacular charlatan in the eyes of the 20th century public, was ended today by death.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook.

The claimant to discovery of the north pole died at the age of 75 in the New Rochelle hospital, having survived a cerebral hemorrhage long enough to achieve a Presidential pardon for an old mail fraud conviction in 1923.

Cook was paroled in 1930 and went into retirement in Toms River, N. J. Recently he spent much time at the home of a friend, Robert Van Ahlefeldt, in Larchmont, N. Y., and it was there he was stricken.

Center of Long Dispute.

Cook's claim in 1909 of having discovered the north pole caused one of the most spectacular and widespread controversies involving the long search for the top of the earth.

Cook's announcement that he had found the long sought goal was made five days before the late Admiral Robert E. Peary sent similar word. The two men gave their messages to the world while en route to civilization from the north frigid zone. Dr. Cook was on his way to Denmark and Peary was in Labrador.

When they reached points where it was possible to give more details of their explorations, Cook claimed to have reached the pole on April 21, 1908, nearly a year before April 6, 1909, when Peary said he was there. Peary disputed Cook's claim and said he had found no evidence of any one having preceded him to the spot.

Welcomed as a Hero.

Upon Cook's arrival in Denmark he was fêted by the king and an admiring populace. A similar reception greeted him in the United States and he was widely sought as a lecturer. He was named president of the Explorers' Club of New York and inducted into the American and National Geographical societies, Alpine club, and numerous other organizations.

When Cook and Peary continued to dispute each other's claims a committee was named to inspect the data Cook had filed with the University of Copenhagen. The investigators voted it insufficient to support Cook's claim. The National Geographic society accepted Admiral Peary's data and credited him as the discoverer of the north pole.

After a period in Europe Cook returned to this country and became involved in an oil promotion scheme in Texas. He was convicted of using the mails to defraud and sentenced to the federal penitentiary for 14 years. He entered prison in 1925 and was paroled in 1930.

BITTEN IN SNAKE RITES, NURSE, 48, IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 5 (AP).—Bitten by a copperhead snake at the height of a religious ceremony, a 48 year old nurse was in a serious condition today and two men members of a cult bore lesser wounds.

"We'll use snakes in our services whenever the Lord requires," declared Robert Sears, railroad worker, who as pastor of the "True Church of God" uses the title "brother." He added that Mrs. Ethel Sheeby, the nurse, was in a hospital because "she didn't feel the power of the Lord" as the poisonous reptile was passed to her and other members of the congregation at services last night. Police invaded the meeting and seized two snakes.

Roy Fowler, about 18 years old, of Cincinnati, who lives at Brother Sears' home, exhibited an ankle swelling which he said resulted from a snake bite during a revival in nearby Moscow, O.

"It's nothin'," he declared.

Cleveland Hensley, middle aged evangelist from Harlan county, Ky., who has been conducting cult services hereabout, held forth a badly swollen right hand and asserted: "Faith'll make it well agin."

CHICAGO'S ALIENS TO REGISTER IN POSTAL STATIONS

Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen announced yesterday that the registration of Chicago's 180,000 aliens will be conducted in the city's postal substations. Registration blanks and other supplies for the registration are expected late this week or early next week, and the registration will be begun soon afterward. The registration of all aliens in the country was ordered recently by the government.

SCHEMING FOR WAR.

Propaganda for American entry into the war daily becomes broader in scope and louder in volume. Much of the special pleading is disguised and indirect. Both the Republican and the Democratic parties are committed by their platforms against participation in the war in Europe, but the intrigue goes on, unabated. The chorus strongly suggests a conspiracy to plunge the nation into war against the will and judgment of the great majority of the people.

On Sunday evening Gen. Pershing had the facilities of the three national radio networks placed at his disposal, itself a most unusual circumstance. He pleaded that our government make available to Britain at least 50 of its older destroyers. In a few weeks the general will be 80 years old and he is in frail health. Quite evidently, the Pershing who gallantly resisted the effort to break up the American army and refused to let it be scattered piecemeal among the allies in 1918 is not the Pershing who today advocates the piecemeal dispersion of the American navy.

The sale of the navy's ships to a nation at war would be an act of war. If we want to get into the war, the destroyers offer as good a way as any of accomplishing the purpose. It is obviously not true that these vessels are valueless to us; if they are good enough to serve in Britain's emergency, they are good enough for any emergency which we may meet. The destroyers, if sent abroad, would be used, among other things, to maintain and tighten the blockade of the continent, thereby promoting hunger and the desire for revenge upon us. There is no assurances and, in fact, small reason to believe that 50 destroyers measure the difference between victory and defeat for Hitler; on the other hand, there is every reason to expect that the sale of ships would result in our getting into the war. If Germany did not at once declare war, we should still feel sure that she would do so at the first favorable opportunity. That knowledge would lead us to take further measures against Germany and the next step is overt war.

The advocates of war command the services of some of the sharpest pens and bitterest tongues that unlimited money can buy in this country. They are whooping it up for conscription and asking the people to forget that the draft can be of little value in promoting the defense of a country which lacks the arms with which to train its conscripts in the new methods of fighting.

The propagandists are likewise demanding the right to send the National Guard into a foreign military adventure in the certainty if the ill-armed troops from many states and localities are caught in a trap, say in the Philippines, the anger of the American people will rise and war will be unavoidable. War is their object. Some of them want it for emotional release; others because it will promote the totalitarian organization of the country; others because it will put labor in what is regarded as labor's place; still others to overshadow the failure of the New Deal. None of them take account of the cost of war in blood, in money, and in economic disorganization.

They scheme for war and seek to undermine the instinct of the American people to avoid it. It is difficult to escape the conclusion that the war mongers are even seeking to make use of the generosity of the people of this country toward the unfortunate children of Britain. The loss of a shipload of children would have profound emotional repercussions in this country and that fact has not been wholly lost to view.

The propaganda for war is in crescendo. If war is to be avoided, the American people must realize what is being attempted and resist it.

BARS TO CANADIAN TRAVEL REMOVED.

Americans already familiar with the delights of Canadian vacations, as well as those minded to taste them for the first time, will be relieved to learn that the foolish restrictions of the American state department that for a time made passage of the international border difficult have been placed on a sensible basis.

Canada had no share in erecting these barriers to friendly intercourse. Americans had no difficulty in entering Canada. Their difficulty arose when they started home. Proof of citizenship demanded by the immigration authorities was far more strict than most Americans are accustomed to carry with them.

These new regulations, which arose from the hysteria gripping official Washington, have now been placed on a common-sense basis. American citizens by birth are required to give proof that they were born in the United States. From persons who do not possess a regular birth certificate the immigration authorities now accept as proof of this fact an affidavit by a relative or other person familiar with the circumstances of the traveler's birth, a voter's registration certificate, or in some cases even proof of residence in the United States.

Canada is busy with her war effort, but not too busy to welcome visitors from south of the border. Thrifty Americans will find that seven of their dollars will buy eight of Canada's. Canadian war regulations have been framed so as to avoid any interference with tourist pleasures. Those who cross the border will find plenty of room, both on the highways and in the hotels.

COL. LINDBERGH'S SPEECH.

In his appearance at Soldiers' field Col. Lindbergh showed a new facet of one of the most remarkable characters of this generation.

He made his reputation as a great flyer. He added to it by exploring most of the world's international air routes. He demonstrated further versatility when he turned his mechanical aptitude to the field of biological research. Now he appears as a convincing writer and an able orator. Even to have dabbled in these various fields would have required a tremendous activity; to have made the mark in each of them that Col. Lindbergh has made discloses a versatility of talent that is almost unique in this age of specialization.

He told his audience Sunday, as a calm statement of fact embodying neither confession nor apology, that his outlook on Europe differs from that of most Americans. He repudiated suggestions made to him that if what he had to say did not meet general approval, he refrain from saying it.

Yet what he had to say was only the product of a deep faith in his own land; that whatever happens, America is strong enough, if need be, to stand alone and maintain its present way of life. The gospel being preached by those who would lead us to war, he says, is a gospel of fear. That he will not accept, and a great body of Americans will join him in refusing it.

Col. Lindbergh's extreme distaste for publicity is well known to the country. That by speaking as he has he should deliberately subject himself not only to publicity but to malicious calumny testifies to his sincerity and his own deep conviction of the importance of the issue that he presented.

SLEEPERS AND JOKERS.

When Representative Ralph E. Church of Illinois discovered that congress had given the secretary of the navy authority to grab any industrial plant he wanted at the direction of the President, Chairman Carl Vinson of the naval affairs committee hurried a repealer thru the house as an amendment to another bill. It is said, and apparently truthfully, that congress didn't know what it had done when it voted the expropriation provision in the navy bill.

Mr. Church says that the section was slipped into the bill at the request of two rear admirals, speaking for the administration. Last December the then secretary of the navy, Charles Edison, proposed that such authority be granted, but the house naval affairs committee refused to have anything to do with the proposal. Mr. Edison was told that he was asking for the powers of a dictator.

According to reports, the astonishing provision was typewritten on a slip of paper and pasted on the conference committee report, being known to only such persons as were in what can reasonably be called a conspiracy to put this legislation thru congress. The house and the senate, probably quite innocently, adopted the conference committee report and only recently was it discovered that a new law would have permitted the government to seize any company's plant if it didn't like the attitude of the management for any reason whatever. The government, for instance, could have told Mr. Ford that he would make airplanes or his plant would be taken over by the government to do just that thing.

The federal government, even with the repeal of the authority sneaked thru congress, still has some broad powers in acts which were left over from the other war. One of these is the act of June 3, 1916, which authorizes the President "in time of war or when war is imminent" to take immediate possession of any plant or plants to manufacture any products as may be required. In the act of March 4, 1917, the same authority is granted for the building of ships and production of war material for the navy, but that is limited by the phrase "in time of war." The authority cannot be exercised "when war is imminent," as is provided in the act of 1916.

If we are to accept the opinion of such officials as Secretary Stimson of the war department the administration has made up its mind that war is imminent now but was not satisfied with the broad powers which the excitement of 1916 and '17 granted the government then. The sneak play gave the country a dictatorship law applicable not only in time of war or when war is imminent but in anything the government wished to call an emergency.

It may be assumed that congress did not intend to confer such authority. It would seem, then, that in these times a little more prudence is required of the lawmakers. They can't afford to take things for granted—not after this episode. They know that the administration is desirous of acquiring and using autocratic powers and they have had a lesson in the methods which may be used to gain them. Blindfold lawmaking can't be indulged in these days in Washington unless congress is prepared to find that it has set up a dictatorship by surreptitious amendments to otherwise harmless bills.

Editorial of the Day

TROUBLE IN THE AIR.

[Kansas City Star.]

It is now some six weeks since the air safety board was abolished by executive order and control of civil aviation in the United States was returned to the department of commerce. Already, says Senator McCarran, the result is "unhappy confusion." A few months ago the Civil Aeronautics authority was one of the most smoothly functioning independent agencies in the federal government. Today, according to the senator, its condition is "pitiable."

Senator McCarran should know. He is, perhaps, the best informed man in congress on aviation matters. It was under his sponsorship two years ago that supervision was taken away from the aeronautics bureau of the department of commerce and divided between the CAA and the safety board.

The old system had been an open scandal. The bureau itself had been shot thru with politics and incredibly inefficient. The department treated it as an issue of no consequence. Nobody can tell how many lives were lost or how much the development of American aviation was retarded because of this neglect.

The new setup changed the whole picture. The aviation industry, protected against favoritism and stupidity, moved forward with confidence. So effectively did the authority and the board coöperate to promote safety, that in the last year not a single life was sacrificed in any regularly scheduled transport flight.

Then, without warning, the President announced that he was placing control back in the commerce department, by virtue of his power to reorganize the administrative branch of the government. No adequate reason was ever given.

Now the first effects are being felt. Confusion has taken the place of orderliness.

JOTTINGS ON MARGINS.

So you're going to Elwood, Ind., on Acceptance Day! Our advice is to put a large basket of lunch in the car.

* * *

The last mass hegira that we attended was the Chicago-Illinois football game at Urbana in 1925, when a lunch box, toted merely in case, saved us from starvation. That occasion is known in history as the Day of the Big Mud, when Red Grange's yardage was minus 25, all traveled by sliding on the seat of his pants. Since then we have avoided thundering herds.

* * *

The official instructions to the civilian population of England when, as, and if there is an invasion, contain a strange touch of levity. As an example of how to report suspicious observations to the authorities, this sentence is cited:

"At 5:30 p. m. tonight I saw 20 cyclists come into Little Squashborough from the direction of Great Mudtown."

* * *

Mollie Panter-Downes, London correspondent for the New Yorker, states that her modest fellow-countrymen blushed when they heard an American news commentator and columnist [not Mrs. Roosevelt] say in a radio address:

"This incredibly delicate and intricate mechanism, this remarkable and artistic thing—the British empire."

* * *

Since Archibald MacLeish, new librarian of congress, has reproached modern American writers for "smearing" their native land, perhaps he can explain why the book reviewing magazines continue to give massive amounts of space to new tomes by Marxian thinkers.

* * *

Surprising things may come of the present trend toward military preparedness, rugged ways of living, and derring-do. For example, the University of Chicago might change its mind about football.

AN OLD SIDE ROAD.

This is the place where the spring cress grew,
Stirred by a whispering rill,
Where the grasses were lush about it
And the moss cups drank their fill.

Stray sunbeams lanced the tall fern leaves
And patterned the gray fence rail
Where violets crept thru the leaf mold
And the blackbird called, and the quail.

Where the mandrakes were heavy with bloom
And the queer little folk of the toadstools
Went slipping away in the gloom.

Just beyond was a sloping green meadow
That heard the gay, bubbling song,
Threading the rain and the sunshine,
Of bobolink! bobolink! all day long.

These are the spots that the heart keeps green,
The chief of fond memory's places,
To be walked in again on some new spring

The Horses Go Round and Around.

To C. O. R. [July 23]:

In mounting a horse that steps away from you, take the right rein short and make the horse step clockwise. In this way the horse swings toward you instead of away from you, as it would do with a short left rein.

If you ever see a cowboy use a short left rein in mounting you'll also see him hopping along after the horse with one foot in the stirrup and one on the ground and shortly after you'll find him on his way to town afoot, looking for a job in a soda fountain.

THE TONSIL ON THE TONGUE.

THE more we study the effect upon general health of infections about the mouth and throat, the more we realize the pernicious rôle of certain "bugs" in these areas. Many an individual is not quite up to par. A careful examination fails to disclose the slightest sign of organic disease. Nevertheless, the patient is languid, complains of fatigue, and lacks his or her normal quota of pep. More often than not, cultures taken from the region of the tonsils and the postnasal passages will reveal enough bacterial activity to account for the manifestations.

No matter how much we may decry the fact that the source of trouble is minute, it still remains true that growing organisms are toxin factories. If drainage to the outside is not provided, the poison can travel in but one direction—namely, into the circulation. While the blood stream endeavors to neutralize its influence, the recurring supply may—after a time—damage the heart, the kidneys, or both.

An origin frequently overlooked is the so-called lingual tonsil. This structure covers the base of the tongue and is composed of masses of lymph cells that drain poorly because their openings are on top. An investigation of these sites may show vicious microbes, such as streptococci. A recent report by Beir cites 36 consecutive cases with "strep" found in each.

We may account for the presence of invaders in this locality because the back of the organ is rarely clean and the tissues on the surface catch infected mucus as it leaves the sinuses. This foul exudate, when mixed with food particles, may bring about local inflammation even in the absence of much soreness. In turn, the lymph follicles will teem with enough bacteria to cause symptoms.

Many of us suffer from catarrh, in which the discharge along the back part of the airways may not flow outward via the nostrils. It is likely to drip down the pharynx. Thru the act of swallowing much of this material may reach the stomach. Just how extensively this condition is responsible for digestive upsets and ulcerations along the intestine we do not know. It stands to reason, however, that absorption from the alimentary tract may injure the liver and other vital structures.

Naturally, we can understand that free exit—permitting pus to leave the body—is necessary, and we can teach children to expectorate phlegm. But relief will come when we can allay the irritation and stop the abscess at its starting point. But no one relishes surgery if it can be avoided. In the lingual tonsil, it may be advisable to so reduce the germ population with proper applications that nature will destroy those that remain. Various chemicals have been suggested, including some of the aniline dyes such as gentian violet and methylene blue. Tincture of mercresin is preferred by some. Spraying via atomizers will not help. The substance must be applied directly to the lymph tissue on the back of the tongue, the pharynx, and the posterior portion of the airlanes.

Strange to relate, patients feel better—less toxic—after two or three treatments; and at least a dozen applications at two or three day intervals should be made before rest is permitted. Then a check with culture methods, coupled with a survey of the physical condition, will determine the necessity for persisting with the procedure. Numerous case histories indicate that such symptoms as beginning arthritis and excessive fatigue are improved rather promptly. It goes without saying that if the regular tonsils are found ablaze theye should be removed as soon as the acute stage has subsided and a suitable interval has elapsed.

Apparently the plan will abate just that amount of toxemia which marks the difference between well being and that "dragging about" sensation.

AFTER A STROKE.

A. L. writes: I had a stroke 8 years ago. Since then my legs are weak, especially when I become tired. Is there anything that will help this situation?

REPLY.

Keep the muscles as active as possible. Use gentle massage and heat. These measures will prevent atrophy [wasting] and help to maintain strength.

THE SPLEEN.

M. R. C. writes: What is the function of the spleen?

REPLY.

Apparently this structure has something to do with the formation of blood. Its exact rôle is imperfectly understood. One can get along comfortably without it.

THYROID GROWTH.

F. W. writes: What is adenoma of the thyroid?

REPLY.

An increase in the glandular cells, forming a new growth. It is just as tho one built an addition to the original structure.

Test Your Facts

THE UNIVERSITY AN ASSET.

Chicago, July 31.—Two weeks ago "A Stenographer" wrote that she was proud of the splendid record of the University of Chicago, and its contributions to research and human knowledge. She was discouraged because the university had apparently had no effect on Chicago's political corruption and inefficiency and wondered why.

Few realize what an important asset the university is to the city. It supplies education at 30 per cent of its actual cost, the difference being made up from its endowment income. The university's medical clinics, in connection with its research and study, provide free hospital care to the equivalent of over $600,000 a year, thus relieving Chicago of a financial burden.

The university's public administration clearing house is probably the largest and best equipped in the country to supply public officials and citizens with information and advice. The university is equipped to make Chicago the best run city in the country, if Chicago citizens demand it. I suggest that "A Stenographer" offer her leisure time to the Better Government association, 343 South Dearborn street, if she is sincerely interested in making democracy work and cleaning up Chicago's politics. Help is needed.

The university's department of education helps schools in La Grange, Winnetka and the whole of Kane county. More than one hundred Chicago high school principals meet regularly at the university for advice. Its psychology department helps supervise the intelligence and aptitude tests of the city schools. The university's social science research committee has studied the city on the problem of land use, overlapping political agencies, crime, juvenile delinquency, disease, pay roll, and many other problems. The university's committee on local community research has spent more than $1,000,000 on this project in the last 10 years.

The university's job is research and dissemination of information. It is anxious to coöperate but it is up to the citizens of Chicago to do the rest.

AN ALUMNUS.

CHICAGO'S PUBLIC SERVANTS.

Chicago, July 31.—I note a letter from Mrs. Carl Hanson regarding the services received at the city hall in the birth certificate department. I suggest that all departments be included in this category.

If any one can direct me to any department in the city hall or county building where you can immediately get service without having the "bunk" passed from one to another, I would like to meet that person. I have tried to obtain different information from several departments, namely the Torrens title division, tax search division, city license department, and also the real estate tax department, and I have found that the gentlemen who wait on you do not bother to remove the cigars or cigarets from their mouths, and most of all do not know how to give you a civil and correct answer to what you may ask.

Another place where you find the utmost discourteous treatment is the information desk. The gentlemen there are too tired to move off their stools and too lazy to remove the cigars from their mouths when they talk to you.

All this I suppose is just a part of the so-called Kelly-Nash Democratic organization, which functions so well for its own benefit. A. L. A.

FLAGMEN'S HOURS.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—After reading your column for many years I am wondering why, with the Wagner act in force, no one has called the attention of the "proper persons" to the fact that railroad flagmen [crossing] and towermen must work seven days a week, eight hours daily—a total of 56 hours weekly, when the so-called act calls for a 40 hour week?

JUST A RAILROAD EMPLOYE.

IN THE DEEP SOUTH.

Tampa, Fla., July 31.—Has your eye happened upon that "gem" of an editorial recently appearing in the Atlanta Constitution from which we quote a significant paragraph: "Let us try to look at this political situation from just one viewpoint, the realistic one. If the Republicans win, what is there in it for us? The answer is, of course, nothing at all."

And at length in the same tone, speaking of "patronage," "federal coöperation," and "loyalty," the editorial closes with these weighty words: "A Republican victory can mean nothing but political starvation for Georgia; federal moneys will go to states outside the south."

That seems to be the strongest argument the party job holders can put up for the election of Roosevelt and Wallace. The southern cotton farmer has had starvation since Roosevelt and Wallace destroyed the foreign cotton market with their control policies, except in so far as he has had to accept government checks for cotton plowed under. The sugar planter has had starvation in favor of foreign sugar interests.

As to the impending "emergency"—one is reminded that the Roosevelt administration has a record unsurpassed in wasteful and inefficient spending of money and antagonism to business. Business industry will have to make the munitions if they are made. Therefore, the necessary first step toward a program of complete and efficient preparedness for military defense is to defeat Roosevelt in November.

Yours for Willkie,

TROUBLES OF A PAROLEE.

Chicago, July 31.—I am a parolee trying hard to make good on this chance which the state has afforded me. Getting a job is hard enough for the average young man but when you have a past it is awfully so.

Everywhere I go they want references and a practically perfect work record and in my opinion a reference from the state penitentiary would not be of much help.

If there are any employers who believe that a parolee is worth another chance I would like to meet them.

A PAROLEE.

OUR SMALL POLICE FORCE.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Why is it that New York has over 20,000 policemen while Chicago, which is only slightly smaller in area, struggles along with 5,678? Last January our benevolent city council granted an appropriation for 88, yet there were over 230 vacancies. Meanwhile, due to deaths and retirements, this number has increased to about the 300 mark. The majority of your readers would appreciate these statistics. Please print them. I am not on the police civil service list.

J. L. GROGAN.

RESULT OF LOW TARIFFS.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—"One Observer" of Maywood asks why he finds American flags made in Japan on sale in our stores.

May I suggest that "Observer" check over tariff and import matters of the two major political parties and find where one permits goods to be imported at very low tariffs while the other favors the American workman.

As a manager for a "dime" store, probably the largest purchasers of foreign made goods for retail, I admit that foreign countries can manufacture hundreds of articles, pay freight on them to Chicago, and sell them to us at a lower price than we can buy them here in Chicago.

The condition "Observer" complains about can be changed by the American workmen at the polls if they so desire.

A DIME STORE MANAGER.

AGAINST THE DRAFT.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—The failure of the American people to stand up on their hind legs and protest the conscription bill is to me an alarming sign. The man in the street seems to be saying that he doesn't like it, but he will fall in line if the bill does go thru. A strong reaction against this "slavery" legislation expressed in many different channels could do a great deal to halt the hysteria that is sweeping the nation. C. W.

COMMON LAW MARRIAGE.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Does Illinois law recognize a common law marital status? 2. What length of time is required for a recognition of this status? 3. Has a common law wife any rights in the real or personal property of her common law husband? 4. Can a common law couple travel interstate without violating federal laws, such as the Mann act? G. B.

1. In the absence of a ceremonial marriage the legality of the relationship would depend upon whether there was ever an agreement for a legal as distinguished from an illicit relationship, and upon whether that agreement was entered into in a state recognizing common law marriages. Since 1905 Illinois law has not permitted the contracting of common law marriages in this state, but if the relation was valid when and where it was entered into it would be valid everywhere.
2. It is not a question of length of time.
3. If the facts are such that there is a common law marriage, then the parties would have the same rights as under any other marriage.
4. See 3.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Aug. 6, 1777

New York militiamen led by Gen. Nicholas Herkimer ambushed by British and Indians in a ravine near Oriskany, N. Y. Herkimer's leg was shattered by gunshot at the outset, but he continued to direct the action. Fighting in the ravine continued in hand to hand fashion thru a severe thunderstorm. Losses on both sides were heavy, and altho the outcome was indecisive, the battle prevented a junction of St. Leger's and Burgoyne's troops.

WEST SIDE VOCAL CONTESTS START IN CHICAGO TODAY

Pick Candidates for Music Festival Finals.

Festival Tickets!

Tickets for the Chicagoland Music Festival which will be held the night of Aug. 17 in Soldiers' field, are on sale at 50 cents and $1 at The Tribune's Public Service offices in Tribune Tower and at 1 South Dearborn street. All seats are reserved. Mail orders should be addressed to the Festival Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, and must be accompanied by a check or money order made payable to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

One hundred thirty-four vocalists who live on the west side of Chicago and Cook county will sing tonight and tomorrow night in the second of a series of preliminary voice competitions being held in connection with the 11th Chicagoland Music Festival, sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. The contests will be held in the Graemere hotel grand ballroom, 113 North Homan avenue.

Tonight 8 contraltos, 17 lyric tenors, 5 dramatic tenors and 22 baritones will be heard. The judges will be Franklin Hathaway, Helen Bickerton, and Eugene Dressler. Tomorrow night 29 lyric sopranos, 14 coloratura sopranos, 23 dramatic sopranos, 7 mezzos, and 9 basses will be auditioned. Judges will be Anna Kruetgen, Raymond Koch, and Richard De Young. The public is invited. A general admission of 25 cents will be charged at the door.

Others Compete Later.

Singers of the south and southwest sides of the city and the county will compete Thursday and Friday nights at the Shoreland hotel, 5454 South Shore Drive. The judges will be Harriet Case, Janis Porter, and Edwin Kemp on Thursday night, and Frank Bennett, Louise Gilbert, and Thomas MacBurney on Friday night.

The winners of these sectional contests will compete Wednesday night, Aug. 14, in the Cook county finals in the grand ballroom of the Drake hotel. The victors there go on to the Chicagoland finals Aug. 17, also at the Drake. From these will be chosen the best man singer and the best woman singer and they will appear with the festival symphony orchestra in the big festival entertainment before 100,000 people in Soldiers' field.

Among the singers who will be heard during the two day series of vocal contests for the west side of Chicago and Cook county are: Lillian Lane, lyric soprano, 630 North Pine avenue; William Salzman, lyric tenor, 3046 Wilson avenue; Miss Evelyn Adamowski, coloratura soprano, 3045 Milwaukee avenue, and Genevieve Wolski, dramatic soprano, 1865 South Sawyer avenue.

More Bands to Attend.

The largest turnout of bands and drum corps for the festival show in Soldiers' field was assured yesterday when Conrad H. Mann, chief auditor of the Grand Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles of Kansas City, Mo., wrote THE TRIBUNE that many of the musical groups attending its national convention here during the festival week-end have accepted invitations to be present in Soldiers' field. Groups coming to the convention are from the five Chicagoland states—Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, and Michigan—and from Ohio and New Jersey.

The deadline for entry of all festival contest participation was last night. Festival headquarters was swamped with entry of bands, choruses, and individuals in the numerous contests.

BUCKMAN GIVEN 5 YEAR TERM BY U. S.; AID GETS 6

Madison, Wis., Aug. 5 [Special].—Barton E. Buckman and Louis C. George, former president and vice-president of the Madison securities firm which failed in 1937, were sentenced today to five and six year terms, respectively, in federal prison for violation of federal securities statutes and mail fraud. Each was fined $2,000. E. C. Holt, former secretary of the company was rewarded for aiding the government in prosecution of the case and was put on probation for four years and fined $500.

Buckman, 56 years old, and George, 44, were brought here for sentencing from state prison cells in Waupun, where they are completing one to three year sentences for violation of state securities laws. Holt, 49, completed a one year sentence last year. All pleaded no defense at their trial on the state charge.

Buckman and George were tried before Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle, of Springfield, Ill., who was assigned here for the case. United States Attorney John J. Boyle asked for leniency for Holt after telling the court about his aid in prosecuting his former associates. On permission of the court, George made a statement after sentence was pronounced. He said mistakes had been made, but he was not a criminal. Buckman sat silent.

ZOO'S NEWBORN PYGMY DONKEY'S FINE, THANK YOU

A pygmy donkey born at the Brookfield zoo Saturday was reported well and happy yesterday. The donkey, 20 inches high and 27 inches long, is the son of a couple of pygmy donkeys bought from Frank Buck in 1937. The parents are natives of Ceylon, and this is believed to be their only child. Edward Bean, zoo director, says that so far as he knows Brookfield is the only zoo with any pygmy donkeys in it. The zoo attendants are not telling the new arrival, tho. They don't want him to become conceited.

BETTER FARMERS SCORN PAY ROLL POSTS WITH AAA

Loose Administration of Program Charged.

[Following is the third article in a series by a Tribune reporter who traveled thru seven farm states and parts of the south to gauge accomplishments of the Agricultural Adjustment administration. Today's article discusses the vast system of administering the AAA program.]

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

The Agricultural Adjustment administration is administered in the counties by farmers and, supposedly, for farmers. The men who determine what acreage may be planted by a given farmer are themselves farmers.

It is a source of infinite relief to officials of the AAA to be able to say:

"If Jones isn't satisfied with his acreage allotment, it's too bad. He should remember that these allotments are made by farmers—his own neighbors—who were elected by Jones and his other neighbors."

Other Factors Considered.

This is true. But are the better farmers elected? Do the better farmers attend the meetings at which the county and township administrators of the AAA are elected? What is the makeup of the average county's federal farm program? How many are on the pay roll?

In seven central western farm states the answer was the same: "I haven't got time to go to these elections. If I had time to go I wouldn't have time to do the work if I should be elected."

In the words of Will M. Amos, who farms 600 acres in Rush county, Indiana:

"The people who run this farm program are not experts. I don't set myself up to be an expert. But I am a good farmer; good enough to avoid having to comply with the federal farm program. And so busy being a farmer I haven't time to be a public official.

Calls Officials "Failures."

"In this county the AAA has from the start been run by men who failed as farmers. Neighbors of mine who complied tell me that when they reported large yields the township committeemen were unable to believe them. That was because the township committeemen, as farmers, had been failures."

H. L. O'Brien of Hancock county, Illinois, is a traditional Democrat. He complies with the federal farm program. But he says he doesn't attend the meetings at which are elected the men who will have the power to tell him how much he can grow, what he can plant, and what he can do with it after he has grown it.

Asked if he thought this might tend to place authority into the hands of an unfitted few, he replied that it probably would.

Committeemen Get $5 Daily.

Township committeemen are paid $5 for each day they work. Depending on the part of the country they live in, they may make as high as $150 in a season. It is not as much as they would make at farming, but it is much easier. In a number of counties visited it was found that township committeemen were in politics on the side.

In Macon county, northeast Missouri, the impression has got abroad that federal farm payments will continue so long as the New Deal lasts, but no longer. Hiram K. Pate was the authority for this. He did not attribute the statement to the county committee. Nor would he say who was responsible for setting the rumor afloat.

"That is the general impression," Pate declared. "Most people around here are getting it while the getting is good."

Appalled by Vast Setup.

Many farmers are appalled by the vast organization which has been assembled by the administration to operate the AAA. J. W. Anderson of Rush county, Indiana, put this feeling into words. Seated in the comfortable living room that looks out over part of his 1,300 acres, Anderson stated:

"I will not coöperate with the farm program this year. The principal thing is that there seems to be too great an array of talent needed to administer it. There is too great an array of talent in Rush county, too much in Indiana, too much in Washington, D. C., and in the nation at large.

"And here is how this topheavy scheme works out: I have one 465 acre plot on which I am accustomed to raise corn. Last year I was allowed 90 acres. I got about $1,400 from the government.

Spending More than He Gets.

"Up to last week in April I had spent $484 for feed. By the time I have fed out the hogs I now have on hand I shall have spent more than I got from the AAA."

As to the array of talent, Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace began with 9,000 county, 60,000 township, and several hundred Washington officials in 1933 when the first—and unconstitutional — AAA was launched. As the plan spread, promoted by militant organizers, this number of pay rollers increased. And with them, came an increase in Wallace's power, which now has brought him to the Vice Presidential nomination.

This phase of the AAA—its militancy—was described by Anderson.

Visited by Insistent Agents.

"Since my decision not to go along with the program in 1940 I have been visited time and again by the Rush county AAA organization. They are insistent. They point out the advantages of 'coöperating.' But my experience of last year is enough for me."

The opinions given here are representative. Numerous other farmers in seven states expressed similar views. Summed up, they are to the effect that [1] the average AAA township committeeman is the type of farmer to whom you wouldn't care to entrust your own land; [2] the AAA is loosely administered, and, [3], it is a costly experiment that is failing of its purpose.

[Is soil conservation new? Were crops rotated and the soil rebuilt before the New Deal? These questions will be discussed in tomorrow's article.]

HAROLD TEEN — "COCKTAILS" FOR TWO

OBITUARIES

Joseph McGarrity.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 5 [Special].—Joseph McGarrity, one of the foremost leaders of the Irish independence movement in the United States of America, died today at his home in Wynnefield. He was 66 years old and had been ill five months. McGarrity's home here was the hiding place of Eamon de Valera, now Irish premier, when the latter was an exile. McGarrity came to the United States from Ireland when he was 16 years old and immediately set about building a fortune with the avowed purpose of advancing Irish independence. He made his fortune in the liquor distilling business. He was founder and publisher of the Irish Press, which ceased publication in 1921.

Washington F. Wood.

New York, Aug. 5 [Special].—Washington Fernando Wood, last surviving son of Fernando Wood, New York's mayor during the civil war, died here today. He was 70 years old. His widow, Mrs. Olivia Moull Wood, is his only immediate survivor. Wood served 25 years with the Linotype company of London, where he was governor of the American club. About 15 years ago he returned to the United States and was associated with his brothers in the Wood Newspaper Machinery corporation. He retired seven years ago.

Mrs. Mary Ann Agnew.

Mrs. Mary Ann Agnew, 66 years old, widow of Charles J. Agnew, harbormaster of Chicago and one time alderman of the old 21st ward, died yesterday in St. Elizabeth's hospital. Her husband died in 1938. Mrs. Agnew, a native of Chicago, lived at 40 East Elm street. A son, Edward, and four brothers survive. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Thursday from the chapel at 1158 North Clark street to Holy Name cathedral with burial in Calvary cemetery.

Claude A. Webb.

The body of Claude A. Webb, executive of the Universal-Atlas Cement company, who was killed Sunday in an automobile accident near Madison, Wis., was brought to Chicago yesterday. Funeral services will be announced today. Mr. Webb, who was 53 years old, had been in the cement business in Chicago 35 years. Surviving are his widow, Dorothy C., and two daughters, Joyce Carol and Betty Jane.

Mrs. Mary Mooney.

Mrs. Mary Mooney, widow of William H. Mooney, for many years a Chicago real estate dealer, died yesterday in her home at 7600 Sheridan road. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Rosehill cemetery chapel.

Harry Duff Wiley.

New York, Aug. 5 [Special].—Harry Duff Wiley of Bronxville, N. Y., for the last four years merchandise manager of Montgomery, Ward and Company, New York, died yesterday in a hospital after having suffered heat prostration last Tuesday. He was 52 years old. Wiley held positions successively as general manager of the Thresher Brothers Silk company, Boston; merchandise manager of Lord & Taylor, New York; general manager of Cheney Brothers, New York silk manufacturers and merchants, and vice president of the Butterick Company, Inc.

Richard Wilhelm

Gowanda, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP).—Richard Wilhelm, 74 years old, sole owner of an immense glue syndicate and one of the world's leading glue manufacturers, died today after a long illness. Wilhelm was head of the Eastern Tanners Glue company, Gowanda, which later became the Peter Cooper corporations. The syndicate expanded steadily, and in 1930 it absorbed the United States Glue company, the United States Gelatin company, and the American Glue company.

Talbot Mundy.

Bradenton, Fla., Aug. 5 (AP).—Talbot Mundy, 61 years old, author and native of London, England, died in his sleep at his Anna Maria Island home last night. He apparently had been in good health. A graduate of England's Rugby college, Mundy was in the British government service in India and East Africa before coming to the United States in 1911. He began writing after locating in America. Among his books were "Rung Ho!" "Tros of Samothrace," and "Old Ugly Face."

William E. Miles.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 5 [Special].—William E. Miles, a chemist who was credited with being one of the first to experiment with methods to recover print paper, died today of a heart attack at his home here. He was 58 years old. During the world war Mr. Miles was chief chemist for the American Potash Products association. He also had been employed by the Du Font company. In recent years he has been experimenting with the removal of ink from old print paper.

Charles F. Drew.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 5 (AP).—Arrangements for the burial Wednesday of Charles Frederic Drew, 60 years old, secretary-treasurer of the Rust Engineering company and its subsidiaries, were made today. Drew died Sunday. He was born in Paterson, N. J., but came here in 1909 and took his post in 1919 after serving with the Thompson-Starrett company and the Koppers company. He leaves his widow and four children.

Harry Silver.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 5206 Broadway for Harry Silver, who died Sunday at his home, 415 Aldine avenue. Mr. Silver, who was founder and president of the Silver-Marc Clothing company, 337 South Franklin street, was 55 years old. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Belle Silver, and a son, Morry. Burial will be in Waldheim cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Minnich.

Mrs. Margaret Minnich, 72 years old, 1042 Woodlawn avenue, Des Plaines, died yesterday in county hospital of a heart ailment. She was a native of Germany, and had lived in the suburb for 55 years. Her husband, Sidney, a retired contractor; three sons, and three daughters survive.

TAX LEVIES SLICE 12 MILLIONS OFF HORLICK ESTATE

Decision Ends 4 Years of Court Battles.

Racine, Wis., Aug. 5 [Special].—The once vast personal fortune of William Horlick Sr., multimillionaire manufacturer and philanthropist who died in September, 1937, today was reduced to a fraction of its original worth by federal and state inheritance taxes.

A final hearing on determination and payment of state and federal taxes was held late today before Probate Judge J. Allan Simpson, concluding nearly four years of court litigation.

Less than 5 Million Left.

Figures agreed upon by executors and state and federal inheritance tax counsels total $12,150,000, to be subtracted from the $17,000,000 estate. Of this amount $9,500,000 will be paid to the federal government and $2,650,000 to the state.

Efforts of the state to levy taxes on gifts of $8,000,000 made in 1932 failed.

Judge Simpson revealed that more than $6,000,000 in taxes already has been paid and that the balance will be paid within 10 days.

Other Levies to Come.

Subsequent taxation on the estates of three other heirs of Mr. Horlick, who have died since being bequeathed major slices in the estate, will reduce its net value still further.

The late Mrs. Arabella Horlick was willed $1,000,000, which will be taxed when her estate is probated.

The late Mrs. Mabelle Horlick Sidley, a daughter, was willed one-third of the residue, which in turn is being taxed in the probate of her estate. The estate of William Horlick Jr., who died April 1, will be taxed for the third interest he had in the estate.

CHICAGOAN GETS $95,000 SHARE OF CUBAN'S ESTATE

Charles Aulet, 6310 Ridge avenue, an ornamental iron worker and one of 33 heirs of the $12,000,000 estate left by Bartolome Aulet-Caudal of Havana, announced yesterday that a settlement of the fortune had been made out of court. Aulet, the oldest of 23 brothers and sisters who share in the estate, has received $80,000 in Havana real estate and $15,000 in cash.

"I won't get all that money, however," he stated yesterday. "I've given a third of it to two half sisters who weren't recognized as heirs. Part will also go for taxes. But I don't care. I have my iron business here, and I'm content. I've been too lazy to go to Havana to look over my property, but I guess I'll make a trip around Christmas."

Bartolome Aulet-Caudal, the king of Cuban real estate, died in Havana on Jan. 11, 1938, at the age of 76. He was a bachelor. His will, which would have left his entire fortune to one of the Aulet girls, Evangeline, in 1950, was waived by her according to Cuban law. By agreement with the heirs she retains the major portion of the estate.

MICHAEL F. TIGHE, 82, HEAD OF FIRST UNION IN STEEL MILLS, DIES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 5 [Special].—Michael F. Tighe, head of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers for 17 years prior to the union's desertion of the American Federation of Labor for the C. I. O. in 1936, died today. He suffered a stroke last March 1, nine days before his 82d birthday, and never recovered.

Tighe went to work in a Wheeling, W. Va., nail mill at the age of 10 and worked for the same company 29 years before he quit to take a full time job with the union, the first in the steel industry.

Less than a year after Tighe became president of the amalgamated the disastrous strike of 1919 broke in the wake of a craft union organization drive led by the radical, William Z. Foster. Always a conservative, Tighe was instrumental in preventing a steel strike in 1934 during the NRA drive, when rank and file members attempted to wrest control from his hands.

Tighe was an ardent advocate of labor peace, and while opposed to the C. I. O., he refused to voice public criticism.

MARY MITCHELL BLAIR DIES AT 84 ON WEST COAST

Mrs. Mary A. I. Mitchell Blair, art collector, social leader, and widow of Chauncey J. Blair, Chicago banker, died yesterday in Hollywood, Cal., where she had been living for the last two years. She was born 84 years ago in Alton, Madison county, and was married to Mr. Blair in 1882.

Mrs. Blair, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mitchell, was a sister of the late John J. Mitchell, head of the Illinois Merchants Trust company.

Mrs. Blair leaves two sons, Chauncey B. of Chicago, an insurance man, and William Mitchell Blair of North Pomfret, Vt., former Chicago manufacturer, and one daughter, the Marquise d'Ivanrey of Madrid, Spain, the former Italia Blair.

Mrs. Blair was a leading member of the Antiquarian society, which presented many valuable medieval and renaissance paintings and sculptural works to the Art institute. Her contributions are grouped as the Mary Mitchell Blair collection.

Two Young Flyers Killed When Rented Plane Falls

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 5 (AP).—John Lillard Ashley, 32, and Leland Scales, 24, both of Clarksville, were killed today in the crash of a rented light airplane at nearby Dunbar Cave. Scales, a CAA student, passed his first flying test last Friday. He was the son of Frank P. Scales, Bardstown, Ky., distiller, and Mrs. Scales. The family has a summer home here. Ashley, a tobacco warehouse employé, was a more experienced flyer.

Wilmot Hills Calling North Shore to Fair

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Wilmot hills are familiar to Chicago's skiing enthusiasts who have found good sport on the slopes just outside the village of Wilmot, Wis. If any skiers should motor the short distance to Wilmot today, tomorrow, or Thursday they would find the village in a greater hubbub of activity than they ever saw on a snowy Saturday or Sunday, however.

The reason is the 21st annual Kenosha county fair, which attracts rural fair lovers from all the surrounding countryside, including Chicago's north shore. A six class horse show will be held on all three nights. Some who are going to show their horses in the Delavan Lake show next Saturday and Sunday will go first to Wilmot. Among them are H. Leslie Atlass, Elaine Victor, Margery Lloyd, and Arlene Hoier.

They Are Getting Ready for Next Winter's Crowds.

During the day visitors to the fair will enjoy such typical country fair events as live stock, culinary, and needlepoint exhibits; 4H club activities, political speeches, and parades. The fair will open with a grand parade this morning and with a decorated doll buggy and a blue ribbon live stock parade tomorrow and Thursday mornings.

If any skiers drive by the Wilmot hills now they will see the preparations that are being made for their entertainment next winter. A splendid new rest house, 28 by 68 feet, is being built; the hills are being cleared of all stones and stumps, and there are to be five tows by the time the snow falls. Several restaurants are being opened in the village in anticipation of the brisk trade that is expected when winter comes.

Goodman Players to Give Play for Bridal Couple.

Mrs. Arthur Aldis has planned an unusual entertainment for Shepherd Brooks and his bride, the former Miss Esmee de Menocal, who are spending the summer in Lake Forest. This evening the Goodman Players will give a performance of "The Second Man" at the Playhouse, Mrs. Aldis' Lake Forest home. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will be given a dinner by the Wyndham Haslers. The Cecil I. Crouses also will give a dinner party preceding the play.

Mrs. Edward L. Hasler and her daughter, Mrs. John McL. Simpson, departed last Sunday for the east. They plan to be away for about three weeks.

A summer in Lake Forest is a busy time for one who has as many out of town guests as have Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Templeton. Today Mrs. Templeton is having a luncheon at the Onwentsia for her cousin, Mrs. George Allen Hopkins of New York, who has been spending the last week on the north shore. Prior to her coming here Mrs. Hopkins visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hobart Johnson of Madison, Wis., who was here for the last of the Ravinia concerts. Next Monday the Templetons are expecting their daughter and grandchild, Mrs. Sidney D. Johnson and Frederica Elizabeth, who are coming from their home in Cincinnati to spend August in Lake Forest. Mr. Johnson is expected over the Labor day weekend. The Templetons' son, Kenneth Jr., is returning home at the end of the month from a camp in New Hampshire and will spend a few weeks with his parents before returning to St. Paul's school.

The Walter R. Kirks Going to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Kirk are leaving tomorrow to spend several weeks in California. They will go first to Santa Barbara to see Mrs. Kirk's nephew, Richard Nevins, and his sisters, Katharine, Ann, and Louisa Nevins; then to Pasadena to visit the Albert B. Ruddocks, and then up to San Francisco, where they will see the fair and visit friends in Burlingame.

Mrs. Henry F. Tenney of Winnetka is giving a tea and lingerie shower this afternoon for Miss Sally Bull, who is to become the bride of Joseph W. Fall Jr. on Aug. 31. Some time next week Miss Lucy Keeler will give a shower and on the 16th Miss Anita Straub will have a tea and kitchen shower.

The annual flower show of the North Shore Garden club will be held from 2 until 9:30 o'clock today at the Northmoor Country club in Highland Park. The show is being kept open during the early evening so that men who are gardening enthusiasts may enjoy it. Mrs. Herbert Mayer is chairman of the show and will exhibit a table set with modern glass. Mrs. Benjamin F. Stein, president of the club, will show one arranged with antiques.

Chicago Wellesley Club Is Holding Picnic Today.

Members of the Chicago Wellesley club will meet for their annual picnic today, rain or shine, at the Northbrook home of Mrs. Harold V. Glen. Students at Wellesley and their mothers also have been invited to the party, which will be informal. Guests have been asked to bring their own picnic luncheons. The hostess will provide coffee and outdoor cooking facilities.

Now you can apply lipstick to freshen your face and perfume to lift your spirits with the aid of a new flacon stick that gives you both in one pretty container!

As if to prove that there is something new under the sun, as well as something extremely pleasant, one of the perfume houses has brought forth a bit of magic, a lipstick and a flacon of scent combined.

It's a happy idea, you'll have to agree. When a woman wants to freshen up her face, she's in the mood to lift her spirits with a bit of her favorite gay perfume, too. The trouble is—or rather, has been—that her perfume was a little difficult to carry about with her and took up room in the bag that was already packed full of makeup paraphernalia. This flacon stick takes care of both situations very nicely.

It looks more like a perfume flacon than a lipstick, and it's not much longer and certainly no plumper than the average stick. The little perfume bottle makes the base. The lipstick, set above it, is in a plastic container that fits perfectly over the neck of the flacon and is easily unscrewed when you want to get at the scent.

The perfume bottle, like the lipstick case, is in a rich French blue, and the French colors are in the little tassel that swings from the top. The lipstick is in a range of good shades. The perfume is a famous one. It's one of those fragrances that has universal appeal and the fact that it's been right up among the best sellers for many years should give you an idea of its quality. It's inexpensive, too.

In fact the combination of lipstick and perfume is inexpensive, surprisingly so. You'll find it in a great many of the shops.

Query.

A reckless motorist made a sharp turn around a corner, almost cutting off the front of a Michigan avenue bus. Disregarding the fact that the near accident was his own fault, the motorist leaned out of his car and flung vituperation at the bus driver. The latter surveyed the motorist disdainfully.

"To whom in the hell do you think you are talking?" he asked elegantly.

More About Rum.

The paragraph about the tropical influences in the town and the popularity of rum drinks brought a note from Robert White, author and islander, who bought a small island in the British West Indies and built a house on it:

"The natives of the B. W. I., while unacquainted with the advantages of the wheel, lever-and-fulcrum, and other labor saving devices we take for granted, are wonderful rum makers. They grow the sugar cane and press out the juice with the aid of the little West Indian donkeys. By their own secret, primitive but effective methods they ferment the juice and eventually produce a white (and flaming) rum. Seven kinds of Tortolan rum in one of these fancy Zombie glasses would put the ordinary toper so far back on his heels I doubt if he would ever recover.

"The strange part about the natives and their beloved rum is that they take it seriously as a medicine, drinking it particularly during the heat of the day. As the infamous Varlac said: 'Baas, dis t'ing we carl rum do steady dee head an' cool dee blood.' In ordinary endeavor such as fishing, agriculture, etc., they can get along without it, but when we were mixing and pouring concrete it was a prerequisite of theirs that I keep on hand a gallon 'jimmy john' of rum, from which they pulled diligently in the very firm belief that it gave them strength to do 'de wark.' Since a gallon only costs 50 cents, it was not too much of a drain.

"Being an essentially seafaring people, depending on it for their staple food, fish, their language is interspersed with seagoing terms, which cover rum, too. Once a man didn't show up for work and Varlac explained that: 'Ha takin' in dis t'ing rum without 'e habin' in ballast an' it turn 'e up.'

"And the beachcomber should try a Miss Blyden. A full snort of white Tortola rum mixed with the beautiful red flowers of the aloe cactus is warranted to put the toper into a flat spin at 50 feet."

Old Settlers Gather for Annual Picnic

Old friends, old tunes, old memories—under the shady oaks and cottonwoods of Harms park they foregathered yesterday and in that meeting time turned back to the brave days when Chicago was young. The 66th reunion of the Old Settlers, called by the Chicago Turn Gemeinde, drew some 3,000 picnickers—patriarchs and matriarchs and their sons and daughters unto the third generation.

There were civil war veterans there in their blue coats and clinking medals; veterans of the Indian wars, these closely followed by worshipful retinues of small boys; gray little ladies in the faded finery of the eighties; old beaux sporting heavy gold watch chains and handle-bar mustaches.

There were bradwurst sausages, and foamy steins, and a picture post card five piece band that blew and fiddled "Mein Hut Drie Ecken," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and "God Bless America" all with equal fervor.

Mrs. Emily Lyons, a merry widow of 75, came in the handsome lavender taffeta and velvet dress that was her "Sunday best" when she was a belle in her early twenties. Pink ostrich plumes caught with a golden buckle, wreathed her hat, and diamond drops twinkled at her ears. Her companion, Mrs. Cathryn Gray, 76 years old, was festive in a lace and net blouse which the young man who was courting 53 years ago greatly admired. Mrs. Lyons lives at 2643 Lake street and Mrs. Gray at 2744 Adams street.

William H. Spikings, who was born on May 3, 1848, in a log cabin that stood near his present home at 4853 North Pulaski road, appeared with two pretty great-granddaughters, Jean Renee Spikings, 7 years old, and Nancy Lee Spikings, 3. Valentine Brier, 91, with cheeks as fresh and rosy as Jonathan apples, had his husky great-grandson, Charles, in tow. Mr. Brier manufactured the fine, scented soap used by elegant ladies back in the elder Carter Harrison days.

In view of Mr. Spikings' awards at previous picnics, A. E. Vorkeller, 87 years old, of 2863 Fullerton avenue, was given the medal reserved for the oldest settler present who had resided in Chicago and Cook county for the greatest number of years. The women's medal in that division was given Mrs. Minnie Hammerstrom, 85, of 1335 Arthur avenue. Both Mr. Vorkeller and Mrs. Hammerstrom were Chicago-born and have lived here all their life.

Medals for the oldest foreign-born man and woman present who had resided in the city and county the greatest number of years were awarded to Charles Echelberg, 92 years old, 1945 21st street, who came to Chicago in 1860, and to Mrs. Malinda Lambur, 6660 Hartwell avenue, who has lived here since 1861. Mrs. Mary Nessman, 72, took the medal for the old settler who had lived the longest in the same residence. She was born, and has resided ever since, at 1908 North Halsted street.

Henry Steinborn, 85, and his wife, Anna, 78, of 3658 Wentworth avenue, merited a medal, their combined ages exceeding that of any of the couples present. As the head of the family with the largest number of descendents, Gerhard Vehrs, 1309 Center street, Des Plaines, took another award. Mr. Vehrs is the father of ten sons and daughters and the grandfather of 24 children.

Looking at Hollywood

by John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 5.—When you try to get the low down on somebody out here you get as many low downs as you have informants. In the course of picking up stuff about Gregory La Cava, rated by many with Frank Capra as the best director in Hollywood, I got the following angles:

"R-K-O wouldn't give him the money he wanted for another picture, so he's just sitting 'em out. You know how the studios are these days, saving money. The Warners lost Paul Muni, and Pat O'Brien is freelancing because he wouldn't take a cut."

"O, Greg's just in a psychological slump, he'll come out of it one of these days and make another great picture. He always does. . . ."

There's a measure of truth, no doubt, in both these angles, and there is also the version of Mr. La Cava himself. I went down to his Malibu Beach house to bask, not so much in the fine sun, as in the extremely pleasant glow of one of filmdom's most enjoyable personalities. La Cava is a newspaper man's man, quick witted, an able eater and drinker, a comfortable host. He used to be a newspaper man himself once.

"I'm just taking it easy," he said, "and spending my money. I haven't got any plans for a picture because I haven't figured out what kind of picture to make in these times. Lord knows I don't want to do anything weighty, but I'd like a film to have some social significance. But conditions change so fast. Look at Chaplin and the trouble he has on his hands with his picture."

So La Cava is taking it easy in a rented house at Malibu, with a couple of chipmunks for pets, two or three servants to run things, and innumerable friends dropping in. W. C. Fields, La Cava's closest and oldest crony, is a frequent visitor. Fields lovingly calls him "the Guinea" or "the Wop."

La Cava is about as Italian as shredded wheat, altho his father, Pascal, was an Italian musician, Gregory was born in Towanda, Pa., 48 years ago and spent his boyhood in Rochester, N. Y. In Rochester he worked at various boys' jobs, including doing a bit for a jewelry manufacturer, and took up prize fighting. He wasn't a bad prelim boxer until he broke a fist on an opponent's skull. He took tickets at the Garrick theater, once bounced J. J. Shubert out for trying to crash without a ducat. J. J. gave him a $2 raise.

Then he determined to become an artist and on money he'd saved went to study in Chicago. With some more money his mother had inherited he went on to New York, where fellow artists were Luks and Bellows. But the cash ran out, and La Cava gave up painting and got a job as a cartoonist on the World. About this time the paper had another artist named John Barrymore. It was cartooning for the Evening World and Sunday Herald that finally got La Cava into the movies. He became a pioneer of animated drawing, making, in 1915, the first 500 foot reel for the Edison company. He made the Mutt and Jeff movies.

Next La Cava became a gag man for short comedies, then started directing them for Charles Murray, Lloyd Hamilton, and others. His first full length film was "Restless Wives," with Doris Kenyon, and his great fame began with a series of comedies starring Richard Dix. The list of La Cava productions is full of highlights. "Symphony of Six Million," "Gabriel Over the White House," "My Man Godfrey," "Stage Door," "The Primrose Path."

In the old days, as all good fans know, people made pictures up as they went along. La Cava still does. There may be a script, but he throws it away. Usually screen credited as a co-author, he keeps his writer or writers on the set and things work out as the days move along. Movie critics unanimously praised him for tossing aside the George Kaufman-Edna Ferber stage play of "Stage Door" and making a better job of it for the screen.

The William Powell-Carol Lombard "My Man Godfrey" set a new fashion for screwball comedy—and was, says La Cava, a tough job. "It was mad, and everybody had to stay in the mood for 10 weeks. It nearly did me in." Staying in the mood, for La Cava, was staying dutifully but pleasantly lit.

The director once made a picture for Zanuck, a notorious stickler for scrips. When La Cava threw away the screen play of "Gallant Lady" everybody expected him to be fired, and there was an ominous silence around the Zanuck office for a week. Then Zanuck, a fiend for memo writing, began sending complimentary notes as he saw the rushes. When the picture was completed La Cava memo-ed back: "If the film is lousy let's release the notes."

La Cava's last film was "Primrose Path," released last spring. He does but one picture a year for, according to best guesses, $125,000. If he's in a psychological slump he can afford the time to enjoy it sunning himself beneath a framed piece of isinglass which is supposed to take out the bad rays. If he's holding out for money he can afford that luxury, too. But the best bet is that the old brain is cooking up something devilish or amusing, and come next spring there will be another film produced, directed and co-authored by Gregory La Cava.

Style Landscape Takes on Spicy Shades of Fall

BY REA SEEGER.

Despite heat and weather, peak season for vacationists and dog days, August seethes with activity behind the scenes. Fashion for a new season is getting into parade formation. New things arrive daily, new colors, bright new ideas in dresses that you can wear immediately, but each with a clearly defined new streamline that portends the fall and winter season ahead.

Colors especially have a new spicy appeal, including rich shades of wine, russet, handsome fall shades of brown, ripe golds and frosty purples with deep dark blues and a most sophisticated dark gray tone. The color schemes of a glowing fall landscape are here in suits, in clever wool dresses first launched for the college wardrobes, in blazing checks and plaids and in equally effective monotones.

Every fall "they"—that mysterious company of designers and textile wizards—herald the approach of a new fall and winter season with loud emphasis on glorious colors. This fall it's the same story with plenty to back it up.

Bold bright colors are everywhere. But the boldness is not crude, it's the irresistible color of a midwestern autumn parade of foliage from the first frosts to the first snowfall. Woolens especially take these vibrant shades. Dress woolens as thin as chiffon, sturdy tweeds for out of doors spectator sports outfits and stunning topcoats and the wools used for the first fall and winter suits are exuberantly high in tone.

Browns are outstanding in every shade from dusky copper thru to black-brown; gray is in second place for popularity, with a sinister gray tone called scarecrow, a newcomer to like or dislike instantly. Blacks still head the lineup, with a lot of fascinating textures and weaves ready for instant approval.

Now's the Time to Write That Letter to Sally

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Now is the time for all good boys and girls to get busy and write a letter, that is, if you want to be included in my next party. I'm sure that I can't think of any smart child who wouldn't want to be invited to as fine a show as my party guests will see.

Because the boys and girls of the Jack and Jill players, who are giving this party for us, are of all ages, I know that the show they're planning will interest youngsters from 7 to 15. They'll sing and dance and give several sketches, and it's going to be a real variety show, with original music written for the occasion. These youngsters aren't amateurs, but are specially selected for talent.

Any boy or girl is eligible to try for an invitation to this party, which will be given in the Jack and Jill studio, where they have a real stage, with curtains and footlights, and the players wear makeup and costumes. The date is Aug. 15, but your letter must be on my desk by next Thursday morning.

Just tell me in your own words why you think you'd enjoy this show, and if your letter is convincing maybe you'll see your name in the list of winners which will be printed in next SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE. We have room for 50 boys and 50 girls—but your name won't be in the list on Sunday if you don't remember to tell me your full name, address, and age. I have to discard a surprising number of good letters every week just because the writers forget some one of these simple bits of information.

Easy to Wear Is Keynote of Fall Fashions

Women's ready to wear will be easy to wear this autumn and winter. Full, swingy skirts that billow like parachutes at the first autumn wind have gone. So have the thickly packed, football player shoulders and the wasp waist that stung many a heavy set woman.

Diane Dukelow, merchandise Mart model.

The easy fit is the keynote of style this season. This was evident yesterday at press preview fashion show held as a feature of the Merchandise Mart Women's, Children's, and Infants' Wear and Accessories market. The market opened on July 29 for fall buying and will close Saturday.

The score of garments modeled yesterday were an advance showing of the merchandise to be exhibited at the breakfast clinics of the market today and tomorrow.

According to Dora Miller, director of International Fashions who was guest speaker at the preview, America has anticipated what the Paris houses would have brought forth as their style inspirations this season. One of the outstanding innovations is the long suit jacket. Instead of riding high over the hips as in the tailored suits of last year, the 1940 jacket has descended loosely a full four inches. It is fitted slightly at the waist.

Winter coats are still slimmed down in skirts and bloused comfortably in back. Side openings on coats are new and create a wide, warm lap of cloth against the winter blasts. The one sided influence is also shown in the graceful side draping for the high-necked, long-sleeved dinner dress and the elegant afternoon frock.

Color tryouts yesterday pointed to new glowing shades. Indian earth is a warm version of last year's mustard. Reds are advocated in varying hues, flag red, winterberry red, and sailor red, the latter called a true red by painters. Foliage greens and neutral grays and beiges will lighten the somber winter scenes. Scotch plaids will have their fling in college wardrobes, but black and brown will be the average woman's choice.

A fleecy new fabric, termed teddy bear cloth, will tempt this season's buyer. It is used in spectator sports outfits and teen-age garments. Other sturdy materials being used for youngsters who are hard on their clothes are twills, gabardines, and covert cloths.

Murder Is Not Mute

SYNOPSIS

Detective Patrick Doyle of New York, is vacationing in a small town when, while walking in the woods on the estate of Adolph Wunsch, he stumbles upon a skeleton. He reports the matter to Truman Briault. Wunsch's brother-in-law, rejects the bribe Briault offers to keep the matter quiet, and goes to the police. Returning to the scene with Policeman Madden and Judge Blain, he finds the skeleton gone. But by trailing fresh footprints they find where the skeleton has been hastily buried. Dr. Blake, the coroner, says that the skeleton belonged to a young girl in her teens and that she was murdered. Doyle is asked to help solve the mystery. Blue yarn is found on nearby twigs and a watch clasp is found on the ground. Doyle learns that Wunsch is a wealthy ex-brewer whose second wife is Paula, young and beautiful. Paula married him for his money, and he has made her life miserable, allowing her to have charge accounts, but no cash money. He has allowed her irresponsible brother and her mother to live with them but dominates the entire household. Wunsch has sent his 18 year old daughter, Tazie, to Europe with Paula's mother as chaperon. His aged father also lives with them and is cared by Miss Doty, a trained nurse. Lately Wunsch has been driving to town every night with his chauffeur Follins, and Paula, becoming suspicious, put detectives on her husband's trail. Doyle finds Truman owns a blue sweater and goes to question him. He learns from Follins that Truman is planning to leave that night, whereupon Doyle questions Paula.

DETECTIVE REPORTS.

INSTALMENT XIV.

Doyle said easily: "You can't be offended when I haven't meant to offend you, Mrs. Wunsch. You must understand this is part of my job. It's just routine."

Paula came to the other end of the couch and sat down. She looked at Doyle as tho she were appeased in spite of herself.

He spoke sympathetically. "I suppose your brother has money troubles like every one else?"

She denied swiftly. "Not at all."

"Suppose he were in a tight spot. Would he be apt to tell you?"

Doyle said quietly. "Has he turned to you recently? Do you know that he is in serious trouble now?"

She looked sick with fright. But her answer came spiritedly. "Nonsense. Truman has never been in better spirits. He hasn't a trouble in the world."

Doyle looked at her with pity and admiration. "You'd do anything for your brother, wouldn't you?"

There was silence. Then Doyle said weightily. "Mrs. Wunsch, I'm going to tell you what you can do for your brother. How you can help him." He paused, choosing his words. "Your brother is planning to leave here Tonight. Don't let him go. Take my word for it, he couldn't do anything more foolish, more damning, than to run away."

The blood drained from Paula's face. She tried to speak and could not.

Doyle said gently. "Never mind. I'm going now." He rose.

But the young woman stood in his path, her hands upraised, palms toward him, as tho she meant to push him back, to hold him there.

"No. Wait." She gasped the words.

Doyle's gaze focused on her left wrist. He stared at it, fascinated, while she leaned toward him, her hands clasped imploringly.

"I don't know anything about this—mystery—this—murder," she said. "Except one thing. Truman has nothing to do with it. Nothing. If there's something that seems to involve him, he can explain it. I know he can. Just give him time. I'll talk to him. He isn't going to leave here. He isn't afraid of anything. He—"

"When did you lose the clasp of your wrist watch?" he asked sharply.

"I didn't lose it."

"Don't lie to me." Doyle's tone was harsh. "It only makes things worse." He looked at her sternly. "You lost that clasp in the woods. Didn't you?"

Paula stared at him wide-eyed. Then she pulled her hand from his grasp. "I've never lost the clasp. This is the one that was on the watch when Mr. Wunsch gave it to me."

"When did he give it to you?"

"Three years ago. As a wedding gift."

Doyle stared deep into her dark eyes. How much of what she said was true? For the life of him, he couldn't tell. He took her hand again and peered down at the watch. On its dial, in tiny letters, he made out the name of a world famous jeweler.

"O. K.," he said, and left her standing there staring in terror after him.

He walked the mile and a half back to the Seaview hotel pondering this new piece of the puzzle—trying to fit it into the design.

For the little gadget he had picked up from the leaves beside the skeleton was the platinum clasp of a wrist watch—exactly like the clasp of the watch Adolph Wunsch had given his wife.

The next morning Paula was up early—braced for a difficult day. After a hurried breakfast she took the roadster and drove into New York, to the establishment of a renowned couturier. She ordered a gown she did not need and scarcely saw, impatiently waving away the young woman who was modeling for her, once she had satisfied herself that the gown was costly.

"I'll take it," she told an obsequious attendant.

"What color would madame like?"

She spoke at random. "Black."

"Perhaps madame would like it copied also in white? madame would look superb in—"

"No." Her tone was crisp, final. "Send Monsieur Patry to me."

A moment later the genius of the establishment bowed low before her. His eyes swept over her caressingly. His breath came out in a sigh. "I am told madame has ordered my little creation, 'Joie de Vivre,' In black. Magnifique." He seemed about to swoon with gratification.

Paula cut into his act brusquely. Explained what she wanted.

He smiled at her slyly. "Mais certainement. Madame shall have the required sum immediately. And it will appear, in addition to madame's purchase of today, on the monthly bill. To be sent, as usual, to madame's husband."

He took himself quickly away from madame's icy stare, and returned shortly with a wad of bills. He watched her quick, haughty departure, muttering to himself. These women. The airs of them. And they'd do anything—anything—to get their hands on money. Men were fools not to see that.

Paula drove to the detective agency she had telephoned the day before. As she battled with the traffic her humiliation over the episode with the couturier flamed into fury against her husband. How dare he force her into such a position? His servants were well paid for their contributions to his comforts. But his wife rated only room and board and clothing. If she needed money she had to contrive by low means to get it.

Her angry mood steadied her thruout the interview with the chief of the agency. She paid over to him some of the money she had acquired. He gave her, in return, a typed report of the night before. She studied the report, frowning over it as tho it puzzled her.

"This address on Amsterdam avenue—this is an apartment house?" she asked.

The chief nodded.

"But you do not know whom my husband visits there?"

"Not yet, madam."

She opened her bag again, took out several bills and laid them on the desk.

"Have my husband followed every night he comes into town," she ordered. "Do not send the reports to me. I'll phone or come for them."

She drove home, arriving in time for luncheon.

Wunsch and Briault were both up by that time. The three met at the luncheon table. Wunsch had been informed of Paula's absence and he wanted to know where she had been.

She said briefly, "In town. Shopping."

"Why did you go alone?" Wunsch's tone was ugly.

She looked at him blandly. "Did you want to go with me? I had no idea."

He glowered. "You know what I mean. Why did you sneak off in the roadster? Why didn't you have Follins drive you?"

Pride and accusation burned in her dark eyes. "I wonder you ask that." Her words were weighted with significance. "After all, Follins is only human. He can't very well drive me all day, and you all night."

The thrust struck home. Wunsch colored angrily, and his eyes shifted from her direct gaze. He said nothing more.

Truman was equally silent. It smote Paula to see his white desperate face. Perhaps it was only her fancy, but he seemed actually to have lost weight in the few hours since she had seen him stealing out into the dawn, carrying his golf clubs—setting off on God alone knew what awful errand.

She must talk to him—must get to the bottom of his trouble.

Breakfast cereals of all kinds, and the variety is apparently limitless, are used to make desserts and breads, casserole dishes and other combination foods. Thus a package of oatmeal or cornflakes on the pantry shelf serves a dual purpose: A first one of furnishing a hot and filling, or crisp and crunchy, breakfast food, and a second, providing an ingredient for many a cookie, cake, or other goody.

These cereal recipes are worth a try in any family in which quick hotbreads, crispy cookies, and loaf-cakes are popular.

Butterscotch Shredded Cereal Cookies

[4 dozen]

1 cup butter, margarine or other shortening
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
4 shredded biscuits, crumbled
3 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Cream shortening until soft and add sugar gradually, creaming until light. Beat in eggs, one at a time, and stir in crushed cereal. Sift flour with baking powder and salt, and mix into the sugar and shortening combination. Shape the dough into rolls two inches in diameter, wrap in waxed paper, and store in the refrigerator. When cookies are wanted, slice the chilled rolls, arrange cookies on greased baking sheet, and bake at 425 degrees, hot oven, for 10 minutes. Store cooled cookies in a tightly covered container to keep them crisp.

Bran Orange Muffins

[1 dozen]

¼ cup shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
¼ cup bran cereal
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
½ cup orange juice
¼ cup milk
1¼ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda

Cream shortening and sugar together, add egg, and beat well. Stir in bran, orange rind, juice, and milk. Sift flour, salt, baking powder, and soda. Add to first mixture and stir only until flour is dampened. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full, and bake in a 400 degree oven for about 25 minutes.

Coconut Cornflakes Cake

[9 by 13 inch loaf]

½ cup shortening
1½ cups sifted sugar
3 eggs, separated
3 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening and sugar thoroly. Add unbeaten egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift flour, baking powder and salt, and add alternately with combined milk and flavoring. Beat batter smooth after each addition. Fold in egg whites, which have been beaten until stiff but not dry. [Some cooks prefer to reserve one-half cup of sugar to be beaten into the egg whites. This makes a stable meringue, easy to fold into the batter.] Pour batter into a greased cake pan which has been lined with waxed paper. Drop spoonfuls of topping over the batter and spread evenly. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

TOPPING: Beat 2 eggs thoroly, add 1 cup brown sugar gradually, and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup coconut, 1 cup cornflakes, and 1 cup chopped nuts. Mix well.

For a smaller cake the recipe may be divided. The baked-on frosting is a crunchy, caramelly one which is delicious.

Aug. 6, 1940.

Action is the keyword for a 1-month. When you have a 1-month coming along get ready for rapid fire activity. This may bring some changes as action is not static. You may have to improve your position, turn about face, take a new direction, or start out cold from nowhere. It will depend upon your circumstances and what you have been doing in the years previous. What you positively should not do is stand still. Make your decisions and move forward.

Year Ahead—Since those born today are in a 1-year, the above advice applies to them the whole year. It is a time to move, but be sure it isn't backwards!

Would you like to know what kind of a year 1940 will be for you? Send for your personal yearly, monthly, and daily guide.

That "First" Fall Dress

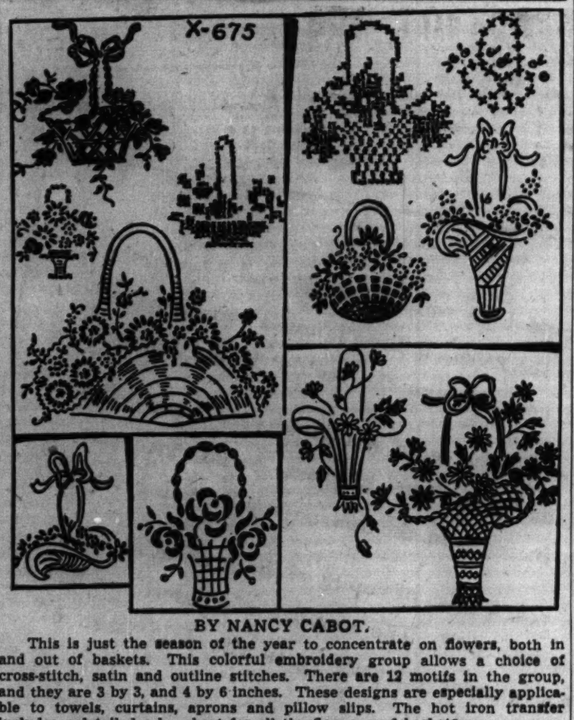
WOMAN'S DRESS FOR AUTUMN.

Need a "first" fall dress? Here is the solution to your wardrobe problem, particularly if overweight is among your problems. This frock with long lines is styled to minimize excess poundage. Made of a solid color, it's a grand background frock for jewelry and flowers. In a print, with vestee and cuffs to contrast, it's dainty and feminine. Make this model of crêpe, satin, or jersey, and as feminine or as sophisticated as you think your type should wear.

Style No. 3388 is designed for size 16 and for 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material for short sleeved dress, with ⅝ yard of contrasting and 1¾ yards of lace; 3⅝ yards of fabric for dress with three-quarter length sleeves.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Pretty Embroidered Flowers



BY NANCY CABOT.

This is just the season of the year to concentrate on flowers, both in and out of baskets. This colorful embroidery group allows a choice of cross-stitch, satin and outline stitches. There are 12 motifs in the group, and they are 3 by 3, and 4 by 6 inches. These designs are especially applicable to towels, curtains, aprons and pillow slips. The hot iron transfer includes a detailed color chart for all the flowers and baskets.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the baskets of flowers, No. X-675, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Good Morning!

The wheel turns, and here we are having westerns again! Well, don't you like them for a change? I do.

Bob, the bad un, has, since childhood, displayed "rattlesnake blood" . . . David is all for law and order, but he's no sissy! It becomes his sad duty to take the mantle of his brother upon his shoulders in order to round up evil men associated with Bob and to kill—but I reckon I'd better not tell you too much of the story if you're to have any fun at all watching the film.

Chester Morris scores as both twins. A swell actor, that Mr. Morris, and for the life of me I don't understand why he's in so few pictures. Buck Jones does a neat job as a no 'count sheriff. I like him, too. Ona Munson, as a right noble dance hall lady, and Anita Louise, as her pitiful young sister whose life is a tragedy because of Bob, are well cast. Other players please.

The story as a story isn't so much, but, because of the players, manages to hold your interest.

The Housewife

Jaded hot weather appetites will perk up if they are tempted by food served on the good looking, glazed pottery plates designed by Russell Wright. Simple in outline with sides that curve up slightly, they come in a stunning mustard yellow, in a light gray and in a deep green. A whole luncheon service in this ware costs astonishingly little. The cups are nice and squatty and the plates of generous size. EDITH WEIGLE.

Listeners Sit in Rain to Hear Marion Claire

BY CECIL SMITH.

The summer's medal for good trouping is hereby awarded to Marion Claire. Despite the downpour which made an outdoor concert anything but sheer physical pleasure, upward of a thousand courageous listeners chose to take a soaking rather than lose an evening's music. And Miss Claire, rather than disappoint so loyal a following, herself chose to risk the same soaking and the possible ill effects of exposure.

While the members of the audience warded off the rain by means of umbrellas, newspapers, and whatever other protective objects were handy, Hans Lange and the Chicago Symphony orchestra shared equally in Miss Claire's triumphant refutation of the elements.

With Mr. Lange and the orchestra Miss Claire began with a vigorous, sweeping performance of Elisabeth's greeting to the hall of song, from Wagner's "Tannhäuser." Here the soprano's warm, round middle voice served the music well, and the climactic high B at the end was big and resonant, and square in the middle of the pitch.

Glazunoff's vocal waltz, "Primavera d'Or," which followed, was projected with an easy, lilting, carefree rhythmic movement. After the intermission Miss Claire drew upon a repertory familiar to her Sunday W-G-N Symphonic Hour audience—Salvator Rosa's "To Be Near Thee," Brahms' "Unsuccessful Serenade," Strauss' "Caecilie," and, as encores, the Brahms "Lullaby" and Ernest Charles' "Let My Song Fill Your Heart." Miss Claire possesses a gift which combines musicianship with the power to hold the attention of an audience, and her listeners did not choose to retreat from the elements while she sang.

The orchestra played with great vitality and tonal charm under Mr. Lange. The program included the stately Handel Overture in D Major, as arranged by Franz Wüllner; the Entr'acte from Schubert's "Rosamunde"; Beethoven's first symphony, and portions of Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker" suite.

In the intermission two "gladiolus queens" presented a large bunch of their flowers to Miss Claire, and extended an invitation to the audience to attend the gladiolus festival at Momence, Ill., on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Pro Arte Quartet

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Last night, in the quiet, dark aftermath of the storm, a few hundred persons gathered in the little pavilion in Ravinia park to hear the Pro Arte quartet play the first of its six scheduled concerts.

From one standpoint, the conditions under which the program was given were ideal. The sparse audience, the silent and empty grounds, and the black night that walled the pavilion in on two sides created that feeling of intimacy and coziness conducive to the enjoyment of chamber music. It must be admitted, however, that this reasoning may not appeal strongly to the co-sponsors of this postseason concert project—the festival association and the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Foundation.

In a week in which all 17 of Beethoven's string quartets are to come to performance, this first evening was devoted to the first three of the Opus 18 set. Products of the composer's early maturity, they display the clarity, the melodiousness, and the immediate charm characteristic of the classical period at its best.

They offer countless opportunities for ingratiating color contrasts between the balancing periods of a phrase and for those subtle rhythmic effects that lend additional interest to the successive announcements of a melody.

Within the narrow limits which the form imposes, the Pro Arte quartet managed to fill its work with a great variety of beauty of detail. In general, the performance was marked by an exquisite transparency and purity of tone and by an admirable precision and unity.

One would hardly bring up such a point as this last were it not for the fact that Warwick Evans, cellist of the London String quartet, is replacing Robert Maas, who has been ill. He has been assimilated successfully by the other three Pro Arte men—Alphonse Onnou, Laurent Halleux, and Germain Prevost [first violin, second violin, and viola respectively].

With, it is hoped, better weather and a bigger crowd, the quartet tonight will complete the performance of Opus 18. The concerts continue nightly thru Saturday.

Daughters of France Giving Benefit Party

The Daughters of France are sponsoring a card party and tea at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Evanston Golf club for the French Red Cross and the British War Relief society. Mrs. Anne B. Phillips is chairman of the affair, at which Ethel Colson Brazelton will give a current topic review.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. William McKinley have announced the marriage of their daughter, Patricia, and Adam John Wolf, son of Mrs. Robert Wolf, on July 31 in the chapel of Holy Name Cathedral. A breakfast followed at the McKinley home. The bride attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart and was graduated from Barat college in Lake Forest. Mr. Wolf attended Andover academy and was graduated from Notre Dame and now is studying law.

The marriage of Miss Betty Jo Baum to Melvin L. Straus Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Straus of Glencoe, will take place at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Isaac M. Baum, also of Glencoe. The ceremony will be attended only by members of the families.

Rene Weiller, French Consul General, to Join Faculty of N. U.

Rene Weiller, French consul general in Chicago, will join the Northwestern university faculty during the coming academic year as honorary lecturer in French civilization and literature. His appointment was announced yesterday among 64 additions to the faculty by President Franklin B Snyder.

Dr. Willard L. Valentine, formerly of Ohio State university, was appointed chairman of the psychology department and Dr. Edward A. Oliver, senior dermatologist at St. Luke's hospital and St. Francis' hospital, Evanston, was appointed professor of dermatology in the medical school. Frederick Siebert, formerly of the University of Illinois, was named professor of journalism in the Medill School of Journalism.

Is Your Child a Delight or Big Nuisance?

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you travel around in public conveyances very much you see lots of sights. That is, if you are interested in people. You surely see all kinds of parents and children, I mean all kinds of ACTING parents and children. And what a revelation of the whole feeling between a mother and child, or between a father and his son or daughter, a few moments can afford!

The little girl in the seat in front of me was annoying her mother beyond words, altho the words were still and sit still, which she didn't. She wiggled and was told sharply to be still and sit still, which she didn't. asked questions and was sharply told to stop talking, which she also didn't! What might have been a ride of quiet contentment interspersed with interesting answers to her intelligent questions was only a time of bickering. The child was unpleasant in manners and expression, but whose fault was it? She couldn't have had a serene time each day at home with her mother, and "acted up" like that only on a bus.

Across from me sat a dark-haired little darling with bright blue eyes. Soft hair left quite natural, a simple crisp little dotted swiss dress [it was one of those insufferable summer days], white sox and little black strap pumps, she sat alert yet contented beside her mother. Kept unconscious of her charm, she was a delight to the adult eyes that rested upon her, as she looked and asked questions which were as quitely answered as if her mother were talking to another grown person.

"Let me hold my ticket, Mother," was a request matter-of-factly granted, unlike the "I should say not! You'd only lose it, you're so careless," of the other mother in the seat in front.

What a revelation of the home life of those two little girls were the few minutes they sat near each other in that bus!

Both mothers loved their children, but one probably thought her child an ill-tempered nuisance, while the other found hers a treasure and a pleasant companion. Actually one HAD become a nuisance and the other a delight. But who was responsible for the result?

On the House

Have you some ducts and pipes in your basement which you would like to conceal in simple and different ways? . . . Nail up awning cloth to imitate a terrace awning, or canvas to resemble a canopy . . . This would give a different note to some recreation room or corner . . . Pipes and ducts can also be painted and given a trim look. LOUISE BARGELT.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

At rubber bridge some players, having bid and made a small slam when a grand slam was cold, are quite satisfied with their profit and undisturbed by what they did not get. Other players, who may have either a keener sense of artistry or a greater avarice, feel that they should be kicked around the block for their failure to collect a full pound of flesh. It's all a matter of temperament.

But at duplicate, a more solid consideration is involved than a player's feelings. Here a small slam contract, bid and made, may represent an actual loss to the "victors," as compared with the balance of the field. That was the case in today's hand:

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

NORTH
♥ 10 6 5 3
♦ A J 10 7 2

WEST
♠ Q J 10 7
♥ 9
♦ 9 6 4 3

EAST
♠ K 9 6 5 4 2
♥ Q 7
♦ 8 5

SOUTH
♠ 8 3
♦ K Q
♣ A J 10

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	6 hearts	Pass
Pass	Pass

Needless to say, there was no difficulty about making the contract. Indeed, declarer had 14 tricks readily available. It was that very fact that gave this particular North-South team a match-point score that was under average on this board, the majority of the tables having reached seven hearts.

South probably felt that he had been exceedingly brave and aggressive to jump all the way from three to six hearts, but actually this jump had been timid. The moment one diamond was bid by North, South should have visualized a slam, whether large or small to be determined by the subsequent bidding. When the two heart jump response met with an immediate raise from North, the matter of the trump suit was decided and then the only remaining question was one of controls. It was conceivable that North had something like the K-Q of spades, the A-J-10 of diamonds, and the K-Q of clubs, which meant that there would be an ace off the hand, hence South should have used a slam convention [the 4-5 No Trump Convention or the Blackwood] to determine how many aces North held. Obviously enough, North would announce the possession of two aces, and then a grand slam bid by South would become an excellent risk.

South's argument was that he had not used a slam convention because [he said] even if North showed two aces he [South] would be unable to count 13 tricks, since North's diamond suit might be both short and weak. Becoming specific, South argued that North's hand might have been something like:

♠ A Q ♥ Q x x x ♦ A x x x ♣ K x x

If it were, he continued, a finesse would have to be taken in clubs or spades to fulfill a grand slam.

What South overlooked was that a hand such as this would not have justified North's bidding, specifically his immediate heart raise. With this type holding, North would have answered the two heart bid with two no trump, to show balanced distribution and scattered honor strength. The actual heart raise indicated a liking for a trump suit rather than no trump and this, in turn, strongly suggested unbalanced distribution, very likely including a five card diamond suit. In short, with North raising the heart suit and later announcing two aces [if given the opportunity for that announcement] a mere small slam contract was much too conservative.

Tomorrow's Hand.

WIFE'S ATTORNEY QUIZZES JOSLYN ABOUT WOMAN

Stay at Country Home Is Told in Divorce Hearing.

George R. Joslyn, who has been describing his wife's men friends for the last two weeks in the superior court of Judge John C. Lewe, was asked there yesterday about a woman acquaintance of his own.

Attorney Thomas Hart Fisher, representing Mrs. Charlotte C. Joslyn, was granted permission to develop evidence which he said would substantiate a counterclaim filed Saturday by Mrs. Joslyn charging her husband with infidelity. She is suing Joslyn for divorce, and he contends her suit should be dismissed because of her misconduct with men.

Fisher questioned Joslyn about a housekeeper in his country home in South Haven, Mich. Joslyn said he hired the woman, who is 35 years old, thru a doctor friend and drove with her to South Haven in July, 1938. He said the main house was being remodeled and they stayed in a tenant's cottage.

Tells of Three Day Stay.

"I came back to town in three days," Joslyn testified. "I next saw her in August, when I stayed a day and a half in South Haven. I returned to South Haven for a brief visit in October."

"Did you go swimming with her?" Fisher asked.

"Yes," said Joslyn.

Joslyn said the housekeeper remained in his employ until last December. He said that after the remodeling had been completed he slept in a second floor room and she occupied a room in the servants' quarters on the third floor. Joslyn is to be questioned further at 2 p. m. today.

A Bio-Psychological Silhouette.

Prior to this cross-examination Joslyn told of calling at his wife's home at 5724 Dorchester avenue on May 22, 1938. He said no one answered the bell and he entered thru the basement. Upon reaching the kitchen, he said, he saw the "silhouette of a gentleman."

Joslyn identified the silhouette as that of William F. Wolsey, also known as "Dr. Bennett," who has been mentioned frequently in testimony as a friend of Mrs. Joslyn. She said he was instructing her in bio-psychology.

Joslyn said that from 1926 until January, 1939, he was employed by an electrical supplies firm of which his father, Marcellus, is president.

INDIANS TAKE LEAGUE LEAD; WHIP SOX, 10-1

Lambeau Says It's Big Assignment.

[This is the third of a series of articles on the Chicago All-Star game by Curley Lambeau, coach of the Green Bay Packers, five times world football champions.]

BY EARL (CURLEY) LAMBEAU.

Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 5.—Victory in the Chicago All-Star game is the most satisfying experience that can come to the coach of a professional team. From the first game in 1934 the advantages have all been with the collegians. There is going to be a great deal of screaming in rebuttal from college coaches, but before the din grows too great, let's get on the record the fact that none of them has ever coached a professional team.

First of all, the professional coach must convince his team that it no longer is the world's champion. This is a new season. It was last season that the Packers were the best team in the world. They have yet to prove how good they are this year. We were pretty hot in 1939, but so were the Yankees.

No Prodding Is Necessary.

The All-Star coaches have no such problem. They are relieved of having to shape their squad emotionally. The very nature of the All-Star game, with its pageantry, vast crowd, weeks of balloting and the inherent urge in every youngster to stand out among the greatest players in the country, lifts the squad without any prodding from the coaches. A majority of the boys on each of the six previous squads played over his head in the All-Star game. In the words of Elmer Layden, who was on four All-Star coaching staffs, "They are like sophomores going for positions on the first team."

Claims that it takes older men longer to round into shape—laughed down when advanced at the outset of the All-Star series—have been well established. Reasons for this are too numerous, physiological and complicated to go into here. But it suffices to say younger men are never so far from condition as older men with more years of strenuous exercise behind them. Dr. Jock Sutherland, the former Pittsburgh coach, recognized this several weeks ago when he announced he would take his Brooklyn Dodgers, with whom he makes his professional debut this fall, to camp on Aug. 1 in an attempt to have them in the same condition that his Pitt teams attained for their first games. At Pitt, Dr. Sutherland started practice a month later.

Mental Attitude Important.

Condition therefore is the professionals' second important problem and another in which the All-Stars start out with a definite advantage. This may give the impression that too much stress is placed on mental attitude. Coaches and experienced football men, however, know that too much importance cannot be attached to this phase of a team's preparation. I would rather enter the All-Star game with the Packers off physically but fit emotionally than have them trained to a hair and not properly geared mentally.

Several years ago we entered a Bear game with only one left half back, one right end, one full back, and one right guard, and each of these fellows was banged up all the way from a fractured thumb to pulled muscles. We were in terrible shape physically, but perfect emotionally. The Bears were just the opposite. Every hand was healthy, but they were cocky because they knew of our weakened condition. We won the game, 6 to 2.

Our regular right half back, Eddie Kotel, and regular quarter back, Red Dunne, were out with injuries in the National league championship game in 1929 against the New York Giants. We had to start a makeshift lineup against New York's perfectly conditioned forces. Altho we were so crippled that 10 men had to play 60 minutes and a guard was in all but the last 20 seconds, we had the right mental attitude and won the game and title, 20 to 6. It was our first

What false and foolish move may spell my doom?

A marble lies in wait for careless feet,
To trip me as I start across the floor.

At crazy angle in a corner here.
Balls, bats and gloves in sundry nooks are packed,
And empty match books gleaned from far and near.

Stamp books and books on hiking, golf and boats
Lie opened wide on window sills and bed;

I sidle by and quickly duck my head.
The slightest jar might cause the thing to fall
As I stoop down to make the tumbled bed.

Discarded, dirty clothes are everywhere,
With pockets full of things without a name;
A snake or frog may leap into the air,
Or fishhooks may my prying fingers maim.

I have escaped the horrors there once more—
The death traps of a happy, healthy boy.

CUBS CALL ON REDS; CALM, BUT MAKE NO CLAIMS

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 5.—The Cubs arrived here late this afternoon fairly full of confidence, but with no definite pledges of conquest such as they made upon arrival in Brooklyn several days ago. Tomorrow they will open a three game series with the league leading Reds and they think it would be awfully nice if they could win two or all of the matches.

If this calm approach seems not to reflect the fiery spirit of the Cubs of which you were informed in recent dispatches from Brooklyn, don't be alarmed, for everything is going to be all right as soon as the boys discover—and it will be brought to their attention before game time tomorrow—that they are only one game out of fifth place and two games out of sixth place. It is true that while the Cubs will be playing the Reds, the two teams that are pressing the Cubs for a money berth in the league standings will be whittling at each other's throats. The fifth place Cardinals will be guests of the sixth place Pirates. Thus the Cubs can't fall to sixth in this series.

Reds Have Distressing Visit.

The Reds are back home after a distressing visit to Boston, in which they lost four out of six games played in three days. However, while the Reds were coming from behind to take the second game Sunday, the Cubs were blowing a 6 to 1 lead to be deprived of the happy experience of sweeping a four game series from the second place Brooklyns. The point of this is that while the Cubs still are trying to figure how they lost their eastern final the Cincinnati champs consider themselves back on the victory trail.

If the foregoing is a bit of a build-up for the Reds' morale it may be added that the champs have defeated the Cubs nine times in a dozen tries this year.

Lee to Pitch Opener.

Bill Lee will pitch the opener tomorrow perhaps on the theory that a victory over the best in the league would be just what the doctor ordered as a tonic for Big Bill's fallen spirits. The one time ace of National league pitchers has won seven games, lost 13 and rarely has pitched a complete game. He has won none and lost three in competition with the Reds.

Manager Gabby Hartnett had hopes today that Rabbit Warstler and Zeke Bonura, who suffered pulled leg muscles in yesterday's double header, will be able to play tomorrow. Bobby Mattick is ready to go to short if Warstler can't play and Hank Leiber will be at first if Bonura has to stay in the repair shop.

Longest Women's Tournament Opens

Elizabeth Hicks (right) scans her card as Eleanor Dudley does a little kibitzing at the Women's Western golf Derby which opened yesterday at Westmoreland. Miss Hicks scored a 78 to lead the first day's play. Miss Dudley was well up in the list with an 84.

Miss Hicks' 38-40-78 Leads Record Western Derby Field

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Elizabeth Hicks, the 110 pound sports writer who writes a brace of features weekly for a Long Beach, Cal., newspaper, yesterday fashioned herself material for a couple of stories by taking the first round lead in the 12th annual Derby of the Women's Western Golf association.

Miss Hicks, who set a record of 307 in winning last year's Derby at Evanston, got away to a fast start in this 72 hole race, longest of all women's medal play competitions, with a 78, two over par for the Westmoreland Country club, site of the National Women's tournament of two years ago.

Miss Wall Two Strokes Behind.

Going into this morning's second lap of 18 holes, Betty holds a two stroke lead in the field of 99 starters, the largest in the history of the event. Two shots back of her is bespectacled Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., one of the stars of the Women's Western Open in Milwaukee a few weeks ago. Mary Agnes topped off her 80 with a spoon shot within a foot of the 18th flag for an eagle.

Ellamae Williams of Medinah, who recently completed a consecutive double in the Chicago District and Illinois State tournaments, finished with an 82, where she was joined by Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Tex., who had a 39—43—82. Ellamae's nines were 41—41. A shot behind them were a pair of 83 shooters, Mrs. Charles Dennehy of Onwentsia and Virginia Ingram of Sunset Ridge. Mrs. Dennehy had the best back nine of the day, a 39.

Phyllis Otto Cards 84.

Phyllis Otto of Omaha, the 15 year old who recently won the Iowa State championship, led a quartet of 84 scorers that also included Beatrice Barrett of Minneapolis, Eleanor Dudley of Ridge, and Mary Wilder of Skokie. Miss Dudley, recently runner-up for the state and district crowns, had an 8 at the 16th hole. The 85 bracket included Jeanne Cline of Bloomington, Ill., and Dorothy Foster of Springfield, Ill.

Par—Out	445	434	455—38
Par—In	454	345	535—38—76
Miss Hicks—Out	445	444	454—38
Miss Hicks—In	465	435	535—40—78
Miss Wall—Out	446	445	454—40
Miss Wall—In	565	336	633—40—80

Bunkers Give Trouble.

Miss Hicks, like all of her rivals, had her troubles with Westmoreland's bunkers, encountering nine of them in her round. One of these cost her a bogey at the fifth, but she amended that by leaving herself only a one foot putt for a birdie at the ninth. The rough and two bunkers set her back with a 6 at the 11th, and she found the sand at the 12th and 13th, missing a four footer for her par on the latter. She then dropped a 12 footer for a bird on the 14th green, and finished out with four pars.

Miss Wall didn't have as much grief with the sand, her main trouble coming with her approaches, a three putt green at the 10th, and an out of bounds on the 16th. She was on the ninth in two for a birdie, holed an 8 footer for another on the 14th, and then climaxed the round with her eagle.

The championship flight contestants, including those rated from scratch to 6 strokes, and a majority of the first flight players, were able to escape the heavy rainstorm shortly after 1 o'clock.

Main Flight at 9:30.

In this morning's second round, the championship flight will not begin until 9:30 o'clock, being preceded by a detail of first flight swingers at 9 o'clock. Yesterday's scores included:

JOHN WHITEHEAD PITCHES NO-HIT SIX-INNING GAME

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 5 (AP).—Back at their pastime of knocking off the league leaders, the St. Louis Browns used a no hit, no run pitching performance by Johnny Whitehead to beat the Detroit Tigers today, 4 to 0, in the 5½ inning second game of a double header.

Altho Detroit won the opener, 9 to 2, the loss in the second game, which was cut short by rain, forced the Tigers to yield first place to the Cleveland Indians.

Only two men reached first base against Whitehead, Frank Metha getting a base on balls in the third inning and Hank Greenberg being safe on an error in the fourth. Neither advanced to second base.

Whitehead, whom the Browns obtained from the Chicago White Sox last year, was ineffective at the start of this season and was sent to the minors. He came up again two weeks ago. Scores:

POUND SMITH; HARDER YIELDS ONLY FIVE HITS

Rescuer Appleton Battered, Too.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Cleveland's Indians, who devote a little time to the winning of ball games when not trying to smoke Manager Oscar Vitt out of his job, refused to be confused by the recent giddy doings of the White Sox yesterday in Comiskey park. Neither were the Indians noticeably confused by the southpawing of Eddie Smith, the little round man. Smith was blasted in most liberal fashion, rescuer Pete Appleton got a bit of what Smitty dodged by an early departure and the Indians triumphed, 10 to 1, in the series opener.

The Indians used the triumph as a springboard to jump back into the American league lead by two percentage points over the Tigers, who split a double header with the Browns.

Along with the discomfiture caused by Smith's batting practice throwing, the Sox suffered by the presence of one Mel Harder, who until this occasion hadn't completed a 1940 start. He finished this one practically unannoyed by enemy bats, the total loot for the fourth placers being five hits, one of which was Mike Kreevich's eighth homer of the year.

Smith and Appleton Suffer.

The best thing that can be said in Smith's behalf is that he was courageous enough to stick to his job until he walked two in the sixth. His frailties were evident as early as the first inning, from which he escaped despite a full house with only one out. But the Indians swarmed on him in the next inning with four hits and three runs. They jostled him with two more tallies in the fourth and one in the sixth. Then for good measure they landed on Appleton in the eighth, four more hits accounting for as many runs.

The Sox started out with Julius Solters in left field, a job he took back Sunday after a week's absence. Two innings of work annoyed his chronic charley horse, so he was taken out of circulation. Larry Rosenthal subbed for him, but failed to make any contributions to the skimpy assortment of hits. And for a finishing touch Jack Hayes was introduced for the first time wearing the protective helmet adopted because of his impaired vision. Hayes batted for Appleton in the ninth and struck out.

Edgar Starts Own Woe.

The only way the Sox saw the bases in the first two innings was on a pass and an error, but their first hit and first run came soon thereafter. With two out in the third, Kreevich hit the wall in left center and Weatherly, making too quick a turn to pursue the ball, fell on the seat of his pants. Iron Mike continued running until he had notched an inside-the-park homer. Joe Kuhel followed with a two bagger to right, but Rosenthal did nothing.

Sox Rally Broken Up.

The Indians were gentle with Smitty until after two were out in the fourth. Then they gave him the works. Boudreau doubled, Trosky singled, and Beau Bell doubled for two runs, making the score 3 to 1. The Sox tried to do something about the handicap in their half of the inning, but failed. Taft Wright singled and Luke Appling walked with none out. This ceased to be a possible rally when Mike Tresh flied to

BIMELECH AND SIROCCO HEAD WEST FOR DERBY

Arrive at Homewood Thursday.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The South Shore claiming handicap and the Jackson Park purse for juveniles drew the attention of Washington Park race followers yesterday while candidates for Saturday's American Derby took things easy in their barns. Predicate, a three year old gelding owned by Hyman Friedberg and Edmon Axton of Louisville, outran a field of his elders in the mile handicap after J. D. Weil's Flying Streak had scored in the six furlong dash.

Meanwhile definite shipping plans were announced for Edward R. Bradley's Bimelech and Charles T. Fisher's Sirocco, two of the most highly regarded American Derby candidates. Bimelech will leave Saratoga and Sirocco will leave Rockingham Park, Salem, N. H., tomorrow. Both will be unloaded at Washington Park Thursday.

Roman May Enter Derby.

Their arrival will assure a strong field in the Derby. Gallahadion, Mioland, and Weigh Anchor are already on the grounds. There is a possibility that Trainer Danny Stewart might send Joseph E. Widener's Roman into the Derby following that brilliant sprinter's record smashing victory in the Chicago handicap last Saturday. But it is considered more likely that the colt will be saved for shorter distances. Super Chief, Alhalon, Blue Flyer, and Inscolassie, now at Washington Park, are others regarded as possible starters.

In beating her eight juvenile rivals yesterday, Flying Streak ran just the kind of a race she did two months ago at Lincoln Fields where she covered the five furlongs in 1:00 1-5, the fastest time of the meeting. She had been to the post three times since then, running last in the Lassie stakes and finishing third and second in two subsequent allowance races. Yesterday she ran the six furlongs of the Jackson Park purse in 1:12, which was creditable time for a juvenile filly.

Race to Form.

After breaking on top and leading all the way, she got home a length and a half in advance of Jake Lowenstein's De Kalb, while McKay and Sullivan's Pate's Boy was finishing third.

Coupled in the betting with her stablemate, Dissension Sir, Flying Streak shared the position of favorite with De Kalb at odds of 2 to 1. The race was true to form, being a struggle between these two all the way, no other rival being able to get close after they had shaken off the 4 to 1 third choice, Valdina Sport, at the head of the stretch.

Predicate scored his victory in the South Shore claiming handicap over six rivals of varied age and class. Most of them were moving up quite a bit to be rated in the $4,500 division. While C. W. Pershall's Royal Blue was being established as the 5 to 2 favorite, Predicate was getting to the post at odds of 7 to 1. He finished a length ahead of J. W. Bell's Steel Heels, with Royal Blue third. In the mutuels he returned $17.80, $10.60 and $5.40.

Cutter Sets Pace.

After Mrs. Emil Denemark's Cutter had set the pace for the first three quarters, Steel Heels and Predicate caught her at the head of the stretch. After passing her, they put on a brisk duel, Predicate taking command at the eighth pole and holding away thereafter.

Noble Count, champion of the cheaper platers on the local tracks, completed a rise from the $1,250 division to the $4,500 class by going to the post in the South Shore handicap, carrying the colors of Isadore Beiber, for whom Trainer Hirsch Jacobs had claimed him in his last start from Mrs. J. F. Waters. The claiming price was $2,500. The rise was a bit too sharp even for Noble Count, which had scored six victories, a second and a third in his last eight starts. He could do no better than fifth in yesterday's company.

LADY INFINITE, never far back, stalled off MIGHTY MISS. Latter forced the early pace slowly to hand over clear after weaving down EVER AFTER and failed to withstand the winner while holding on gamely under hand riding but appeared stronger than the winner at the end. EVER AFTER, on the inside turnout and having speed, was cleverly rated yet readily gave way to the leaders, then hung on well while resisting BAROGRAPH'S bid.

THREE TIE FOR MEDAL WITH 69 IN CITY AMATEUR

Gocke, Morrison, Kamsler Lead Field of 255.

Earl Gocke of Jackson park, Keith Morrison of Lincolnshire, and Jack Kamsler of Ravisloe shared medal honors in the qualifying round of the 36th annual Chicago amateur golf tournament yesterday on the par 70 Jackson park course. The trio led a record field of 255 contestants, vieing for 60 places in the championship flight bracket with sub-par rounds of 69.

Kamsler parred all the greens except the seventh where he fired a birdie 3 as the result of a three foot putt for a 33-36-69. Three-putting the first two greens for bogeys, Morrison, an investigator for the gas company, shot birdies on the eighth and 18th and scored an eagle 3 on the par 5, 475-yard 15th where his brassie shot landed a few inches from the cup for a round of 35—34—69.

Makes Turn in Par.

Gocke, a printer for the International Harvester Co., exchanged a birdie 3 on the fifth where he holed out a 15-foot chip shot for a bogey 5 on the fourth, and made the turn in even par. On the back nine he chopped par on the 14th and the 18th by sinking short putts for a score of 34-35-69.

Tied for second position with 71s were Joe Papich of Jackson park with 35-36-71; Dewey La Banco of Pipe o'Peace, 36-35-71, and Fred Hawkins, son of the Chain o'Lakes professional with 35-36-71, a round which included an eagle 2 on the 9th where his tee shot dropped a few feet from the pin. A quartet was tied for third place, three strokes behind the leaders. The players included Marshall [Moe] Springer of Evergreen, Earle Wilde of Westward Ho, Harry Kasper of Harvey, and William Ennis of Woodridge.

Pair Three Other Flights.

Bass Biting in Pig's Eye! (It's a Lake)

BY BOB BECKER.

Black bass fishing against a historical background and a backdrop of beautiful Mississippi river scenery is waiting for the fisherman who travels up to Prairie du Chien, Wis. This old town in southwestern Wisconsin with its picturesque ruins of old forts and early stone buildings that go back to the pioneer days looks out upon some of the most interesting large mouth bass fishing that we have seen in many a day, for there are dozens of small lakes, bayous and ponds back from the big river which have a large bass population.

We found the names of some of the best fishing spots almost as entertaining as the way the bass walloped our noisy popping bug. For example, imagine taking bass from Rotten slough and Pig's Eye. Both are names of small bass lakes connected with the Mississippi river which have ideal water for the fly rod fisherman and they're just a few minutes run downstream from Prairie du Chien—if you know how to wind in and out of the channels without getting sidetracked.

The bass had been intimidated by a noisy thunderstorm the evening that we first tried our fly rod lures at Prairie du Chien, so there wasn't much fishing. But the next morning when John Lundberg whizzed us upstream to Fish lake, Lower Doubles, Gremore lake, and Roseau slough it was another story.

It was about 6 o'clock in the morning when we made our first cast in Fish lake, which is about a 20 minute run upstream from the town. We dropped a red and white whisker bug fly at the edge of a bed of smartweed and the party immediately got under way. We could see the bass follow the way of the fly and then hit it.

Ostermueller, Red Sox Beat Yankees, 4-1

Boston, Mass., Aug. 5 (AP).—Lefty Fritz Ostermueller, who couldn't get going in the first half of the season, pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 4 to 1 victory over the New York Yankees today. It was his second triumph in four starts in the last two weeks and his third complete game in the same period altho he hadn't gone the route before. Ostermueller kept seven hits well scattered—no more than one to an inning. Jimmie Foxx hit his 25th home run of the year behind a walk to Manager Joe Cronin in the fifth.

Football Cards Sign 4 Rookies; Drill on Friday

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Jimmy Conzelman, the actor who writes and coaches, and his assistant, Charles [Chili] Walsh, the former Notre Dame end, settled down yesterday in their new assignments, the rebuilding of the Chicago Cardinals, by signing four new players.

Conzelman, fresh from a spectacular triumph as the coach in the St. Louis Civic theater's presentation of "Good News," announced contracts had been receiyed from Half Backs Arthur Gottlieb of Rutgers and Judson Hudson of Davis-Elkins, and Tackles Luke Pappas of Utah and Ruppert Pate of Wake Forest.

28 Rookies Get Trials.

The quartet brings to 28 the number of rookies Conzelman will assemble at Morgan Park Military academy Friday for the opening of training. A squad of 45 will undergo two workouts a day there as Conzelman and Walsh attempt to organize a National league contender and install the Notre Dame system.

Gottlieb, a New York City High school product, was not named on the draft list, but was sought by several clubs. The Cardinals made the most attractive offer and Gottlieb, a 200 pounder and speedy, signed without hesitation.

Selected in December Draft.

Hudson, Pappas and Pate were selected in the draft last December. Hudson is a 185 pound half back who stands 6 feet tall. Pappas, also 6 feet, comes in at 225 pounds and Pate's weight is given as 210. He is 6 feet 2 inches in height. The men are strangers to Conzelman, but they were highly regarded by Ernie Nevers, whom Conzelman succeeded as Cardinal coach.

Go to Camp Monday.

Similar drills, confined to forward passing, kicking and signals, will be held every afternoon this week except Sunday. On Monday the athletes will go to St. John's Military academy, Delafield, Wis., where intensive training will continue for 18 days.

Limbering up yesterday were Dick Schweidler, Eggs Manske, Joe Stydahar, Chet Chesney, Bob Snyder, John Siegal, Bernie Masterson, Bill Osmanski, Jack Manders, Joe Maniaci, Sid Luckman and a rookie quarter back, Young Bussey of Louisiana State university.

Smith walked Chapman and Weatherly to start the sixth and his liberality exhausted Manager Jimmy Dykes' patience, so the left hander went away, leaving a slightly messy problem for Appleton to clean up. Boudreau sacrificed and Trosky was handed a pass, loading the bases. Bell was silenced on a pop fly handled by Kennedy, but in endeavoring to shake off Ken Keltner, Appleton couldn't locate the plate and the resultant pass forced Chapman home.

Indians Go on Warpath Again.

Weatherly started the Indians' hitting display off Appleton in the eighth by tripling, scoring later on Boudreau's fly. Trosky walked for the fourth time, Bell singled, and Keltner fanned, but Peters pumped a two bagger into left, scoring Trosky and Bell. Peters registered the last of the four runs when Hemsley singled.

Tennis Stars Will Play Exhibition Games Today

Don Budge, Ellsworth Vines, and Charles Hare will participate in exhibition tennis matches at the Chicago Town and Tennis club today. Hare, top British player, will meet Budge in a singles match at 4 p. m., and then will team with George O'Donnell in a doubles match against Budge and John Williams. O'Donnell is pro at the club and Williams is the amateur Belgian player who was prominent a few years ago. Budge, Vines, and Hare will supervise a tennis clinic for younger players prior to the afternoon's play.

Dietrich, Lee Pitch Against Indians Today

The White Sox will return to a double header schedule this afternoon with the Indians. The Sox pitching will be handled by Thornton [Lefty] Lee and Bill Dietrich, the Indians' by Al Milnar and Johnny Allen.

Eric McNair, the Sox infielder who on Sunday was granted leave for the remainder of the season, left in his car yesterday morning for his home in Meridian, Miss. The Rabbit thinks months of loafing will restore his poise.

In his only time at bat yesterday, Julius Solters grounded to Lou Boudreau to open the second inning. The batting effort aggravated his charley horse, so he retired immediately.

Chick Evans, Revolta Win Pro-Senior

Chick Evans, who became eligible for membership in the Illinois Seniors when he celebrated his 50th birthday a few weeks ago, paired with Johnny Revolta, Evanston pro, yesterday. They shot a one ball, 35—35—70, one under par, to win low gross honors in the Illinois pro-seniors' tournament at Onwentsia.

Sixty-two Seniors and their professional partners comprised the field, largest ever to compete in the event. Following selective drives the two-man teams played alternate shots.

Winners Get Two Birdies.

The Evans-Revolta partnership produced a brilliant card of 15 par holes, 2 birdies, and 1 bogie. After going out in 35, one under par, they matched par on every hole of the home nine for a 35 to round out a 70, one under par.

Dick Metz, Oak Park pro, and W. W. Hodgson followed in second place with 37—35—72. Horton Smith and J. B. Wantz of Oak Park were third with 39—35—74. Three teams tied with 75s. They were Steve Grady and C. V. Barrett, Evanston, 38—37—75; Ky Laffoon, unattached, and Paul Walker, Chicago Golf, 36—39—75; Bob MacDonald and Homer D. Sayre, Riverside, 37—38—75.

Three Tie for Low Net.

There was a three way tie for low net honors. The teams were Bill Rhodes and J. L. Wilds, Sunset Ridge, 75—8—67; Steve Grady and E. E. Barrett, Evanston, 75—8—67, and Harry Rubendall and J. P. Gassman, Freeport, 76—9—67. Leading net scores follow:

DeCorrevont Takes Walk; to Leave Hospital Soon

International Falls, Minn., Aug. 5 (AP).—Attendants at Northern Minnesota hospital said today that Bill de Correvont, Northwestern university football star, who recently underwent an emergency appendectomy, now is able to walk and is expected to leave the hospital in a few days.

Johnny Barbara Knocked Out in Second by Bivins

Jimmy Bivins, Cleveland middleweight, knocked out Johnny Barbara in the second round of a scheduled 10 round bout in Marigold Gardens last night. It was the colored boxer's 14th consecutive triumph.

Barbara was the aggressor in the first round, pounding Bivins' body with both hands most of the way. In the next round, however, Barbara came rushing out of his corner to be met by a hard right to the head. Two more such blows stretched him out. Referee Barney Ross completed his count after 1 minute and 12 seconds of the round had elapsed. Barbara's seconds used up 2 minutes to revive him.

Rain kept the crowd down to 1,264. Gross receipts were $1,454.10.

In a five round semi-final, Harold Brown, west side middleweight, pounded out a victory over Patrick Henry. Al Tibbets, Danville 160 pound slugger, held Settino Terracina to a draw in an additional contest of five rounds.

Ramey McKnight, Milwaukee junior welterweight, defeated Bobby Ryan in a four round slugging match. Booker Beckwith, promising Gary light heavyweight, scored a three round technical knockout over Lou Wallace in the opener. Wallace was substituted for Fred Washington.

Frankie Kidd, Downers Grove welterweight, and Art Reese will be opponents in a five round amateur headliner tonight in Legion stadium, 6440 North Western avenue. A five round secondary feature will bring together Torsten Ahlbeck, Northwest Athletic club lightweight, and Stanley Stockins of Heniff's gymnasium. Other matches:

Joe Jawgiel vs. Jack Woods, 175.
Dan O'Brien vs. John Hardy, 126.
Bill Kratochvil vs. Wendell White, 140.
Vince Calzaretta vs. Ralph Holbrook, 160.

A double windup will feature the amateur boxing card tonight in the Savoy outdoor arena, South Park way and 47th street. Robert Satterfield will meet Art Reese in the 175 pound class. Frank McBride is matched with Roosevelt Thomas in the 160 pound ranks.

Windy City League Lists 2 Double Bills Tonight

Two double headers will be played in the Windy City Softball league tonight. In St. Philip stadium, Kedzie avenue and Van Buren street, the Atlas All-Americans will meet the Petrone Senators in the windup, with an opener at 8:30 p. m. between the Bill Parrillos and the Goranson Alleys. The Witt Hanley Yankees will meet the Fox De Luxe in Rand stadium, 75th street and Euclid avenue. In the opener the Bill Rands play the Dust Motors.

Former Down Drafts Play in Normal Park Tonight

The former Down Drafts softball team, now playing as the Cardinals, will meet the Hedstrom Coals tonight in Normal park, 61st street and Racine avenue. Jo Leonard and Ann Kolski will be the pitchers.

ILLINOIS CORN CROP DAMAGE HELD 'SERIOUS'

State Survey Says Growth Is Short and Late.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5 (AP).—The state and federal weekly crop review said today that "Illinois corn has been seriously damaged by the excessive heat of the last two weeks and continued drouth over a large part of the state."

"Corn prospects are becoming more uneven and declining daily, especially in the central and east central counties and over most of the southern half of the state," the review said.

"Plant growth is shorter and later than usual and varies from the early tasselling to the roasting ear stage. Firing is becoming more extensive in the drier areas. Drouth caught the crop in the critical tasseling and earing stage of development.

Yields to Vary Greatly.

"Yields will vary sharply, with the better prospects in the northern and upper west central counties and on bottomlands or better soils elsewhere.

"Soy bean conditions vary to about the same extent as corn. Plant development is backward, tho the possibility of recovery with good rains is better than for corn. Most of the fields now range from blooming to the podding stage.

"Row beans rather generally, also drilled beans in the better soils or in areas benefited by rains, are fair to good, but there is a large acreage of drilled beans with only a poor to fair yield outlook at best."

Water Shortage Increases.

The review said stock water shortage is increasing on many farms in the drier areas. Yields and quality of small grains, except for considerable variation in southern Illinois soft wheat, were described as good and above earlier expectations. Oats quality was said to be excellent.

"The condition of all late crops except pastures has held up fairly well in the more favored rainfall areas, mainly upper west central and northern Illinois," the review said.

"Excepting uneven rainfall in limited areas elsewhere, the drouth continues unbroken. The condition of late crops in the widening drier areas east and south of the Illinois river has declined from the earlier fair to good prospects to mostly poor to fair, with pastures poor or dried out. New seedings of grasses and vegetable crops have suffered severely."

Germany Picks Schaeffer to Rule Bank of France

PARIS, Aug. 3 [Delayed] (AP) via Berlin].—German military authorities today named Dr. Carl Schaeffer commissioner for the Bank of France and chief supervisor of all French banks. Reichsbank Director Hellmuth Jost was named permanent deputy in both offices. The Bank of France was ordered to notify the commissioner of all operations and to prepare monthly statements for him. All banking measures, such as credits and setting of interest rates, must be approved by the commissioner, whose expenses will be borne by the bank.

QUARTER PROFIT OF UNITED AIR LINES $577,130

Goodyear Tire Also Reports 1940 Gain.

Much better earnings results than a year ago were reported yesterday by United Air Lines, Goodyear Tire and Rubber company and several other large enterprises.

W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines, said that in the second quarter of this year the company had net income of $577,130, or 38 cents on each share of outstanding common stock, compared with $216,123, or 14 cents a share, in the second quarter last year. For the 12 months ended with June the company had profit of $813,638, compared with net loss of $289,482 in the preceding 12 months.

The profit increase reflected the general upswing in the line's business, Patterson said. For the quarter, the number of revenue passenger miles flown increased 61.5 per cent, revenue plane miles increased 32 per cent, express pound miles flown gained 7 per cent, and operating revenues were 41 per cent larger than in the 1939 quarter.

Goodyear Profit, Sales Rise.

A gain of more than a half million dollars in profit over the corresponding period in 1939 and a $5,000,000 increase in sales were announced by Goodyear Tire and Rubber for the first 6 months of 1940.

Profits after all deductions, including foreign exchange fluctuations, were $4,124,892, equivalent to $1.22 a share on the common stock, against $3,610,595 or 96 cents a share in the first half of 1939. Net sales were $101,055,607 for the first 6 months.

P. W. Litchfield, president, said the company has no investment in Russia, Germany, France, or Italy. However, of the company's total assets of $191,000,000, a total of $40,776,000 is invested outside the United States and its possessions.

Largest of these foreign possessions is in the Netherlands Indies, where a manufacturing plant and a large rubber plantation are valued at $13,000,000. Litchfield said the company had other substantial investments in manufacturing plants in Canada, Latin America, Sweden, Great Britain, and Australia.

McKesson Earns More.

Profit of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., large wholesale drug and liquor organization, for the six months ended June 30 was $2,058,939, against $1,502,326 in the first half of 1939, William J. Wardall, trustee, announced.

"A substantial portion of the increase of $556,613 was due to purchases of liquor by customers in anticipation of the federal floor stocks tax which was imposed on July 1," Wardall's report said.

The net income figures were after provision for federal income taxes, reorganization expenses paid by the trustee and after inclusion of recoveries made by him. They did not provide for interest or amortization on the company's convertible debentures.

Celanese Earns More.

Celanese Corporation of America, synthetic fiber manufacturer, reported its net profit for the first half of 1940 was $4,522,580, equal after taxes and charges to $2.86 a common share, against $3,027,774, or $1.73 a share, in the corresponding 1939 period. Dr. Camille Dreyfus, president, in reporting the earnings, told stockholders "the demand for the company's products continues in excess of its capacity to produce." Plants are in Maryland and Virginia.

Crucible Steel Company of America and subsidiaries, a leading maker of high grade carbon and other special steels, earned $2,404,883, or $3.52 a common share, in the first six months, compared with $350,821, or $1.47 on the 7 per cent preferred stock, in the first half of 1939.

Commercial credit company earned $3,945,614 for the six months ended June 30, or $2 a share, against $3,763,615, or $1.90 a share, in the first half of 1939.

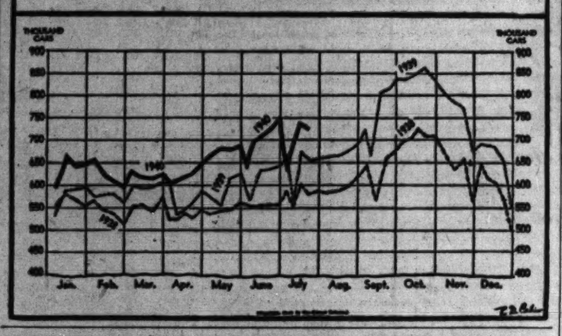
Shell Oil Fined $4,500 on Antitrust Charges

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 5 (AP).—Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick today fined the Shell Oil company $4,500 on its plea of nolo contendere to an indictment charging 41 major and independent oil companies with Sherman Anti Trust act violation. Similar fines, $500 less than the maximum allowable, were paid last week by three other oil companies. They were indicted on charges of conspiring to create and maintain "artifical and excessive" gasoline prices in the Pacific coast area.

Weekly Freight Carloadings in the Last Three Years



Traction Loan of 53 Millions RunsIntoDelay

BY LAURENCE BURD.

The federal loan of 53 million dollars offered last week to Chicago's traction lines will not be available for transit improvements until some time in 1942, under terms laid down by Jesse H. Jones, federal loan administrator.

This was disclosed yesterday at a meeting of the council committee on local transportation when Edward E. Brown, transit lines spokesman, explained conditions attached to the offer. Observers predicted that under the conditions outlined Chicago's subway cannot be placed in operation before 1943, because the federal loan is being relied on to supply funds for the purchase of subway cars and subway track.

Loan Depends on Merger.

Brown and Mayor Kelly met Thursday with Jones in Washington, D. C. Brown said Jones made it clear that the Reconstruction Finance corporation will not lend any funds until the elevated and surface lines are merged into one system—the Chicago Transit company—and the system acquires all the present transit properties.

The RFC has insisted, as a condition of the loan, on holding a first mortgage on all transit properties, including those of the Chicago Motor Coach company, which will be acquired by the new system.

Many steps must be taken, however, before the unified company can be formed and begin operations. Representatives of the city and the lines must first reach a final agreement on terms of a unified ordinance. This agreement then is subject to approval of the city council and the people of Chicago at a referendum, on the one hand, and the securities holders of the lines and the federal court on the other hand.

Title Transfer Required.

Assuming the ordinance is accepted by these groups and is approved by the Illinois commerce commission, title to all transit properties must be transferred to the new system, new securities must be issued, and many details of the reorganization, which has dragged on for 13 years, must be concluded.

Transit attorneys estimate that even if a referendum vote is held by Oct. 1—which they consider doubtful—it would take at least until Jan. 1, 1942, to set up the unified company and transfer the properties into its hands.

Not until then, under the RFC's loan terms, would the 53 millions be available.

CRUCIBLE STEEL PLANS REPLACING 7 PER CENT STOCK

New York, Aug. 5 [Special].—The Crucible Steel Company of America today announced a plan to substitute 5 per cent preferred stock for its outstanding 7 per cent noncallable cumulative preferred.

The plan included elimination of $40.75 of accumulated dividends on the 7 per cent preferred, merger with Pittsburgh Crucible Steel company and creation of $15,000,000 of bonds to refund 4¼ per cent debentures, of which $9,800,000 are outstanding. A special stockholders' meeting was called for Oct. 3 to act on the plan.

Crucible Steel had 238,800 shares of 7 per cent preferred outstanding as of Dec. 31, 1939. The transfer of the 7 to the 5 per cent will be on the basis of 1.4 shares of the new stock for each share of the 7 per cent stock.

The management announced its intention to declare a quarterly dividend on the new stock immediately after adoption of the plan and to date the dividend July 1.

FINDS NO FACTS TO BACK CHARGE AGAINST EDISON

Fred Kleinman, chief of the accounting division of the Illinois commerce commission, reported yesterday that he found no evidence that the Commonwealth Edison company failed to fulfill the commission's order in 1936 reducing electric rates $2,500,000 a year. The report was filed with William W. Hart, commission chairman.

The commission last month ordered an investigation, following a complaint by Charles Liebman, attorney representing eight apartment dwellers, that the company had overcharged Chicago domestic customers $1,100,000 a year. A further hearing will be held today.

Hart announced that a new rate oschedule filed by the Edison company will result in a reduction to the Chicago Board of Education of $63,000 a year, or about 11 per cent of the board's annual bill. The school board's electric rate has been under investigation for about a year.

COAL PRODUCERS PLAN PROTESTS ON PRICE FIXING

Illinois Interests Fear New Competition.

W. Y. Wildman.

Southern Illinois Coals, Inc., a producers' organization, plans to file with the department of interior exceptions to the findings of Howard A. Gray, director of the bituminous coal division, according to W. Y. Wildman, chairman of the producers marketing division.

Southern Illinois producers fear they will lose competitive business to other sections of Illinois, Indiana, and western Kentucky under the price relationships established, Wildman said.

Northern Group Plans Action.

Members of the Northern Illinois Coal Trade association will meet Thursday or Friday to determine their action, A. J. Christiansen, secretary, said. The association represents producers of northern Illinois, the Fulton-Peoria area, and the Alpha-Atkinson district near Moline, Rock Island, and Davenport.

J. C. Hoskins, president of the Hoskins Coal and Dock corporation, which receives much of its coal by river, said he plans to ask the consumers' counsel division of the department of interior to petition in his behalf if the schedule places his organization among those which must pay extra for coal to be transported by river to equalize the costs with rail rates.

Discrimination Is Charged.

The division charged during hearings that the proposal to fix minimum prices on the basis of an all-rail rate represented discrimination between transportation agencies, and said such action exceeds authority granted the coal division.

Other Chicago coal operators said most of the increases in costs in this market would be borne by industrial consumers because prices of the type of coal they use are boosted the most. Prices for the average householder will be raised only slightly, according to D. S. Harding, president of the South Chicago Coal and Dock company.

All prices announced are subject to appeals to the department of interior before becoming effective on Sept. 3.

TREASURY NEAR OLD DEBT LIMIT OF 45 BILLIONS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5 [Special].—As of July 31 the treasury had a leeway of $965,428,290 in the issuance of obligations before reaching the old statutory debt limit of $45,000,000,000, according to a treasury announcement made today. The debt limit has been raised to $49,000,000,000.

The gross public debt as of July 31 showed on the treasury's daily statement as $43,770,544,600, but $860,925,676 of unearned discount on savings bonds had to be added to that, and $396,898,566, representing debt not subject to the limitation, had to be deducted to reconcile it with the effective debt for purposes of the statutory limitation.

The revenue act for 1941 included a temporary $4,000,000,000 increase in the debt limit for defense purposes only, all of which is to be repaid during the next four years.

GERMAN BANK'S GOLD HOLDINGS INCREASE LITTLE

The Reichsbank, Germany's central bank, has increased its holdings of gold, foreign exchange, bills of exchange and checks since July 6, it was revealed in a report issued by the bank yesterday in Berlin.

Gold and foreign exchange held on July 31 totaled $31,107,174, an increase of $89,022 over holdings on July 6, when the previous statement was issued. Bills of exchange and checks increased $86,407,480 to $5,057,834,654, and note circulation increased $77,804,426 to $5,112,592,407, according to the report.

Holdings of securities by the bank decreased $10,257,580 to $45,825,077, while sight deposits fell off $58,461,790 to $649,794,836. Conversion from reichsmarks to dollars was figured at 40.10 cents to the mark.

STEEL RATE SET AT HIGH POINT FOR 9 MONTHS

Auto Makers Push New Model Output.

Steel mills will operate at a higher rate this week, automobile manufacturers are racing against time to swing into 1941 model production, nearly $9,000,000 of army contracts were announced, and several equipment orders for private industry were reported.

Ingot production of the nation's steel mills is scheduled for the week at 90.5 per cent of capacity, the highest point since last December and an increase of .1 of a point over last week, the American Iron & Steel Institute estimated. A month ago operations were at 86.4 per cent and a year ago at 60.1 per cent.

Speed Motor Preparations.

Ward's Automotive Reports said the various car manufacturers are straining to resume production and build up field supplies against the possibility the defense program may absorb more facilities than are indicated at present.

"However," the trade journal commented, "whether the starting dates can be advanced from a day to a week or more, as is hoped in some cases, is problematical. As a result it is difficult to forecast August output.

"Averaging of expectations, however, gives an indicated 150,000 units of production for August—perhaps a few more. This would be definitely higher than the 103,343 completions of August, 1939—tending to balance the slight lowering developed this year during July."

More Heavy Trucks Sold.

The journal said heavy duty trucks are selling in larger volume, indicating increased construction, both public and private. Commenting on reports there would be a surplus of skilled labor in the Detroit area, the journal said: "There is no surplus of skilled labor, and there is unlikely to be for some time to come."

Sperry Gyroscope Company, Inc., Brooklyn, N. Y., has been awarded a $7,060,650 contract for military equipment for the army engineers corps, the war department announced. Other contracts for shoes, clothing and miscellaneous items totaling $1,739,302 were also reported.

The navy department announced the award of a contract for additional buildings and accessories at the Annapolis Naval academy to McCloskey & Co., Philadelphia. Cost of the project was estimated at $1,210,000.

Union Asbestos Rubber company, Cicero, was given a $13,500 navy order for asbestos felt.

Navy Estimates Given Senate.

President Roosevelt sent to the senate estimates for $28,786,000 in new tional $19,075,000 of contract authorizations. Among the many projects planned in various parts of the country were a $450,000 power plant at the Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station.

The request for authorization to enter into contracts included $15,000,000 for ordnance and ordnance stores. An immediate appropriation of $10,000,000 for naval aviation was asked.

The navy called for bids to be opened Aug. 14 for propelling machinery for 43 submarines planned under the naval expansion program. Money for the construction was provided in a bill passed last week by the house and now pending in the senate.

Construction work has started on an addition to the Firestone Tire & Rubber company plant at Akron, O., for the production of synthetic rubber, Harvey S. Firestone Jr., vice president, announced.

Manufacturers' new orders in June rose more than 11 per cent above the May level, the department of commerce announced. Incoming business exceeded shipments by even a larger amount than in May, resulting in a further rise in order backlogs. The rise occurred without general inventory accumulation, the report said.

Taylorcraft Plane Sales Establish Record in July

Taylorcraft Aviation corporation yesterday reported July sales and deliveries of 102 trainers and de luxe models valued at $144,818, including spare parts, the largest monthly volume in the company's history. The best previous month was June, with 82 deliveries valued at $114,874. The company also reported that July was its best production month to date. Output totaled 101 airplanes, compared with 81 in June, the former record month.

Chicago Trade Fair Opens to 18,000 Buyers

Chicago's fall trade fair, bringing an estimated 18,000 out of town merchant buyers into contact with the latest styles of merchandise, opened yesterday in exhibition halls thruout the loop.

The semiannual display of what Chicago wholesalers have to offer dealers is sponsored by the Interstate Merchants' council, the retail affiliate of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

More than 2,000 Chicago manufacturers and wholesale distributors and 900 manufacturers from other cities are staging their fall season openings this week in conjunction with the fair. Seventeen trade shows and merchandise exhibits, breakfast clinics, luncheon meetings, style shows, and banquets are among the events scheduled for the buyers.

Association Sets Up Machinery.

As was the case with the 37 previous such shows, held the first full week of February and August each year, the complicated machinery for bringing the buyers and wholesalers together was set up by the Association of Commerce.

Paul W. Kunning, secretary of the association's domestic commerce commission, said the mechanics of the fair work this way:

"For months the association has circularized merchants in 38 states and Canada with publicity about the show.

"When the buyer arrives in Chicago and registers at one of the registration desks in loop hotels he is given a complete program outlining the location and time of every style show and other event. In addition he is given tickets to breakfasts, luncheons, and entertainments.

Newest in Fashions Shown.

"We've promised them they will see the greatest variety of the newest fashions in the least possible time—and we've arranged a lot of entertainment.

"By the time the fair is over next Friday every buyer will have had a chance to visit the exhibits likely to interest him. The exhibitors coöperate by telling him what is going on at the other shows."

Kunning said buyers registered yesterday from 30 different states and Canada and that earlier estimates of 18,000 in attendance appear to have been conservative. He said the average $10,000,000 of orders placed in previous years probably will be exceeded.

"Most of the buyers are from medium sized and small middle western towns," he said, "and all report summer business was good and fall prospects are better.

Report Inventories Low.

"The store owners report their inventories are low and most of them are outspoken in their beliefs that now is the time to buy."

Style shows have been scheduled by the Style Creators of Chicago for today and Thursday at the Stevens hotel. A gift show has been set up at the Merchandise Mart, and china, glass, and silverware will be displayed at the Morrison hotel.

Fourteen hundred store owners and their families are expected to attend the Interstate Merchants' council banquet tonight in the Sherman hotel, Kunning said. Charles W. Hoyt, executive head of Henderson-Hoyt company, Oshkosh, Wis., department store, will be chairman of the meeting.

NEW AGREEMENT WITH RUSSIA ON TRADE REPORTED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5 [Special].—Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, said today that announcement would be made simultaneously here and in Moscow when a new trade agreement between the United States and Russia is concluded. It was reported that the terms have been agreed upon.

The agreement will run for a year from Aug. 7, when the present arrangement expires by limitation and, if it follows the pattern of the previous ones, will specify the value of American goods that the Soviet Union will undertake to purchase in the next 12 months. In return, it is expected, the United States will assure Russia of "most favored nation" treatment. The expiring agreement set a level of $40,000,000 of soviet purchases. In the past Russia has exceeded the guaranteed figure.

Welles declined to indicate what the terms of the new agreement would be. Interest attaches to the figure this year because of the dislocation of trade by the war and the difficulties that have arisen between the United States and Russia over American embargoes on machine tools and aviation gasoline, as well as political questions.

G. M. Declares Another $1 on Common Stock

New York, Aug. 5 [Special].—Directors of the General Motors corporation today ordered the payment of a dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, payable on Sept. 12 to stockholders of record Aug. 15. This will match the dividend paid on June 12. On March 12 75 cents a share was paid.

In the corresponding periods of 1939 three dividends of 75 cents each were paid, followed by a year end distribution of $1.25 a share, or $3.50 for the full year.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the corporation, announced a number of corporate changes supplementing those made several weeks ago when William S. Knudsen was granted a leave of absence as president to serve on the advisary commission on national defense.

Hunt Joins Policy Group.

Ormond E. Hunt, vice president in charge of engineering and a member of the corporation's administration committee, was elected a member of the policy committee with specially assigned duties.

Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors vice president and general manager of the Buick division, was elected a director of the corporation to succeed Seward Prosser, chairman of the board of the Bankers Trust company, who resigned recently.

C. L. McCuen, general manager of the Olds Motor division, was elected a vice president and transferred to the central office at Detroit in charge of engineering activities, succeeding Hunt in that capacity.

Skinner Succeeds McCuen.

S. E. Skinner, general manager of the Turnstedt Manufacturing division, succeeds McCuen as general manager of the Olds division, and in turn is succeeded by J. W. Jackson, who has been works manager of the Turnstedt plant.

F. C. Kroeger, general manager of the Delco-Remy division, has been made general manager of the Allison division, which manufactures aircraft engines, and is succeeded by C. V. Badgley, formerly Delco-Remy factory manager.

WARN OF BRITISH EXPORT LOSSES ON PURCHASE TAX

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Association of British Chambers of Commerce protested to the treasury tonight against the danger of the new purchase tax seriously damaging this country's export trade. The association is demanding a revision of the tax and its application to retail instead of wholesale costs as at present.

Altho the tax is not levied on goods manufactured for export, the association warns that the United States and many other countries base their import duties on the wholesale value of the goods and there is no guarantee that they will not take the tax into account in estimating their scale of duties.

NORTH ILLINOIS IN ONE OF ARMS PLANT REGIONS

Outlay in Five Areas to Be 700 Million.

Northern Illinois is included in one of five tentative areas set up by the war department for the construction of new munitions plants, Col. H. K. Rutherford, director of the planning branch in the ordnance department, said in Washington, D. C., yesterday.

Col. H. K. Rutherford.

One of the important considerations in determining the areas, Rutherford said, was the placing of plants at least 200 to 250 miles inland from the coasts "to minimize the hazard of attack from the air."

About $700,000,000 will be spent thruout the five regions to construct a chain of 60 plants for the manufacture of munitions for which a shortage of production facilities now exists. Plans still are in a formative stage.

Picked on Basis of Industries.

The five divisions, all inland, were outlined roughly on the basis of the character of industries and resources.

A state as highly industrialized as Illinois would reasonably attract a large amount of the work, it was explained. Rutherford said, however, that "we don't want to concentrate new plants in areas which would carry a large part of the industrial load anyway."

The five interior areas were designated as a preliminary step in distributing the new munitions plants as equitably and safely as possible, Rutherford said.

Areas Are Outlined.

"D"—Western North Carolina, northern Georgia and Alabama, and eastern Tennessee.

AAA Rules a Mystery to Hard Working Hens

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5 (AP).—The Agricultural Adjustment administration doesn't mean a thing to Illinois chickens. The average Illinois hen laid 84 eggs a year in 1932 but in 1939 boosted the average to 100, Agricultural Director J. H. Lloyd reported today.

BARE BIG PLANE ORDER DELAYED BY TAX TANGLE

Expansion of Boeing Plant Held Up.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5 (AP).—A $31,871,349 contract for four-motor bombers for the army had been delayed, war department officials said today, by the unwillingness of the Boeing Aircraft company of Seattle to expand its plant until congress authorized amortization of the cost over a short period for tax purposes.

The Defense Advisory commission announced last week that it had "cleared" [or approved] the contract. Today an air corps officer said, "It has been cleared, and that's all."

Normally, the treasury has authority to fix an amortization period of 10 to 20 years on plant costs in allowing deductions from taxable incomes. A five year period has been suggested for plant expansions intended to meet national defense needs.

Subcommittee Studies Problem.

A ways and means subcommittee now is considering various proposals for legislation to achieve this purpose, and with them is studying excess profits taxation on defense manufacturing profits.

Maj. Alfred A. Kessler Jr., chief of the air corps contracts section, said the amortization period finally approved by congress would have a definite effect upon the size of the contract which would be acceptable to Boeing, as well as on the date it would be signed.

Louis Johnson, then assistant secretary of war, told a house appropriations subcommittee on July 24 that Boeing was one of the companies important in the defense manufacturing program which was not operating at capacity.

Plant Below Capacity.

During hearings on the $4,970,000,000 second supplemental defense appropriation bill, Johnson said "there are at the present time many plants that can build war materials that are not fully so engaged.

"It may not be a fair illustration, but a practical one is the Boeing plant at Seattle, which is running at less than 40 per cent of its productivity. We ought to have such plants going seven days a week, 24 hours a day."

Kessler said today, however, that whatever the general situation at the Boeing plant might be, "the thing we want them to do will require plant expansion." He would not elaborate nor would he say how many planes were contemplated in the pending contract.

Ruling Does Not Apply.

Another officer said that a recent ruling by the treasury in another case apparently could not be applied to the Boeing contract. In that case, an unnamed plane manufacturer was permitted to amortize plant expansion costs over eight years. The Reconstruction Finance corporation had an eight year lease on the land occupied by the building, and an RFC loan financed the construction.

The deadlock over the Boeing contract continued, moreover, despite an announcement last week by Donald W. Douglas, president of Douglas Aircraft company, that airplane manufacturers would go ahead with defense contracts without waiting for amortization legislation.

Douglas made the announcement as spokesman for a group of plane manufacturers' representatives who had conferred with Defense commission officials.

Funny About The Browns...

They had all kinds of insurance on their home—fire, windstorm, liability and everything else—except burglary insurance. And wouldn't you know it? Burglars broke in and practically wiped them out . . . took everything worth moving.

Funny? Not to the Browns.

Mr. Brown forgot to remember that every 20 seconds some American home is burglarized . . . that his home was as vulnerable as the one next door . . . or the one in Duluth or Topeka. He also forgot that for as little as a few cents a day, he could have had the broad protection of Continental's Residence Burglary, Robbery, Theft and Larceny policy . . . insuring everything of value.

STANDARD (IND.), SHEAFFER PEN TO PAY EXTRAS

Both Dividends Are Set at 25 Cents a Share.

Extra dividends of 25 cents a share were declared yesterday by Standard Oil Company of Indiana and W. A. Sheaffer Pen company. Brunswick-Balke-Collender company authorized an increased dividend of $1 a share on its common stock.

Standard Oil announced the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents on the capital stock, in addition to the extra. Both are payable Sept. 16 to holders of record Aug. 16 and will total more than 7¼ million dollars.

Sheaffer Payment Aug. 26.

The extra of Sheaffer Pen is in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the common. Both are scheduled for payment Aug. 26 on stock of record Aug. 15. An extra dividend of 25 cents was also paid in the preceding quarter.

C. R. Sheaffer, president of the company, said that the extra dividend "is justified not only by current business conditions, but by the progress of our company." He said "sales are continuing to show a satisfying increase over the same period last year."

The $1 dividend of Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, manufacturer of billiard and bowling equipment, is payable Sept. 16 to holders of record Sept. 5. The last previous payment was 50 cents, on June 15, 1940.

PLAN INSURANCE AID TO REJECTED TRUCK OWNERS

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5 (AP).—State Insurance Director Ernest Palmer announced today that insurance companies writing automobile liability policies in Illinois had agreed to join in an "assigned risk" plan to provide insurance for "deserving" persons who had previously been rejected.

Pointing out that some persons required to carry liability insurance under the financial responsibility law and the new Illinois truck act had been refused insurance, Palmer said the voluntary "assigned risk" plan "will answer much of the criticism" of the laws.

When the truck act became effective last spring, state officials received many complaints from truckers who said they had been denied insurance by insuring companies.

The director said he expected the plan would be effective before Oct. 1.

SOME EXPENSE ACCOUNTS GIVEN STATUS OF WAGES

Martin P. Durkin, Illinois director of labor, said yesterday that payment made to workers for expenses incurred in connection with their jobs are considered as wages subject to the state unemployment compensation law, unless a regular accounting of such expenses is required by the employer.

Many employers make a flat weekly or monthly allowance to certain employés, Durkin said, and in some cases these employés do not have to itemize the expenses. In such instances, these expense payments are held to be a part of regular wages. Employers must include them in their quarterly reports of wages paid and contributions must be made on the amount of the payments. Only when the employé currently reports his expenses to his employer may they be deducted from wages subject to unemployment contributions.

Named by Bankers

Paul H. Davis, Chicagoan nominated for re-election as Investment Bankers' association vice president.

DAVIS NOMINATED FOR RE-ELECTION AS I. B. A. OFFICER

Paul H. Davis of Chicago, senior partner of Paul H. Davis & Co., is one of three vice presidents who have been nominated for reëlection by the Investment Bankers' Association of America, Emmett F. Connely, president, announced yesterday. Nomination is considered tantamount to election since the convention has always approved the selections of the board of governors.

Connely, as previously reported, has agreed to run for the presidency again to assure continuity of the program of public information started this year. He has taken a leave of absence as president of the First of Michigan corporation, Detroit, to serve as full time chairman of the public information committee.

Davis, the nominating committee of the board said in naming him, has been one of Connely's "cabinet" in carrying out the program. The others nominated for reëlection are Edward H. Hilliard, of J. J. B. Hilliard & Son, Louisville, and Joseph P. Ripley, of Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc., New York.

New vice presidential nominees are John S. Fleek, of Hayden, Miller & Co., Cleveland, and John O. Stubbs, of Whiting, Weeks & Stubbs, Inc., Boston. The election will be held during the annual convention, Dec. 9 to 13, at Hollywood, Fla.

BUSINESS DONE BY CHECK DIPS IN MIDWEST AREA

Business done by check in the week ended July 31 in the seventh [Chicago] federal reserve district, declined 3 per cent from the preceding week, and 10.6 per cent from the corresponding week last year, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

Debits to deposit accounts [except interbank accounts] as reported by 158 banks in 41 leading clearing house cities in the district aggregated $1,133,919,000, compared with $1,169,355,000 in the preceding week and $1,268,106,000 in the corresponding 1939 week.

Business done by check during the 13 weeks ended July 31 amounted to $15,591,684,000, a gain of 5.7 per cent above the corresponding period a year ago when debits totaled $14,749,030,000.

Debits to deposit accounts in Chicago last week amounted to $605,405,000 compared with $740,851,000 in the corresponding 1939 week.

Proposal to Cut Rail Coal Freight Rates to Be Studied

The Illinois Freight association will meet today at the Union station to study a railroad proposal to reduce freight charges on coal to certain Illinois points. The railroads, said to be the Alton, the Burlington, the North Western, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the Illinois Central, the Rock Island, the Santa Fe and the Wabash, were reported to be concerned over the amount of such hauling they have lost to barge lines in recent years.

Northwest Airlines Speeds Chicago-Oregon Schedule

Northwest Airlines, Inc., announced yesterday it has cut 1 hour 5 minutes from the company's fastest existing schedules between Chicago and Portland, Ore. The new flights will be 3 hours 14 minutes faster than the previous late evening flight, which was the slowest of the line's Chicago to Portland schedules.

4,500,000 NOW IN GOVERNMENT JOBS IN NATION

Federal, State, Local Pay Tops 6 Billion.

Approximately 4,500,000 persons in the United States are employed in government service in federal, state and local offices on an annual pay roll in excess of $6,000,000,000, the Civil Service Assembly of the United States and Canada reported yesterday in its census of the merit system.

About 1,200,000, or more than one-fourth, of these employes are in public education, the survey found, and more than half of the total are engaged in other nonmilitary services.

Federal Group Largest.

At the first of this year, nearly 29 per cent of all government employes were carried on the federal pay roll; 12 per cent on state rolls; about 21 per cent in city government, and the rest on county and township pay rolls, altho many in the latter group are temporary or part-time.

The census disclosed that, compared with 10 years ago, the total of employés of government at the beginning of 1940 was 43 per cent higher. It was found that the number gained from 1929 to 1931; decreased the next two years, then rose uninterruptedly.

The greatest numerical increase has been in the federal service, which in 1929 employed 862,000 and at the first of this year was employing 1,296,000, the report showed.

States Expand Pay Rolls.

The largest proportional gain, however, was found in the number of state employes. State governments boosted the number of their employes during the last 10 years from 297,000 to 540,000.

Altho educational employés have remained practically unchanged in number, during the 10 year period city employes showed an increase from 718,000 to 940,000, and those of counties and other governmental units from 269,000 to 500,000.

Salaries and wages paid those in federal, state, and local service from 1929 to 1939 have climbed from $4,938,000,000 to an estimated maximum of $6,180,000,0,00, according to the survey.

SHIP SYNTHETIC RUBBER TIRES TO CHICAGO BY AIR

An air shipment of four automobile tires made entirely from American materials by a synthetic process will arrive at Chicago airport this afternoon on a United Air Lines plane from Akron, O. The shipment will signalize the start of commercial distribution in the middle west of such tires by the B. F. Goodrich company, a leading rubber manufacturer.

The tires will be mounted on a new car which will be driven to Goodrich's distributing office at 333 West Lake street, according to A. C. Kelly, district manager.

The synthetic rubber from which the tires were molded is compounded from butadiene gas obtained from oil refineries, soap, acetic acid and air. The soap is bought from a Chicago manufacturer.

A demonstration of the rubber making process developed by Dr. Waldo L. Semon of the Goodrich laboratories will be given tomorrow by James W. Schade, director of research, at a luncheon in the Palmer House. The product is called Ameripol.

The synthetic tires will retail for $19.95 each for low priced cars compared with $13.95 for the company's first line natural rubber tires.

586,737 DOZEN PAIRS OF NYLON HOSE SHIPPED

About 3 per cent of total shipments of all types of women's full fashioned hosiery in the first six months of 1940 were nylon hose, the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers reported yesterday.

Shipments of nylon hosiery, made from a synthetic material produced by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. totaled 586,737 dozen pairs, while total shipments of full fashioned hosiery amounted to 19,469,717 dozen pairs against 20,414,086 in the first half of 1939. Production of nylon hosiery did not begin on a large scale until early this year.

Shipments of all types of hosiery for the first six months totaled 63,110,134 dozen pairs, compared with 65,648,910 dozens in the corresponding 1939 period, the association reported. Seamless hosiery shipments were 43,640,417 dozen pairs, against 45,234,824.

The association reported June shipments of full fashioned hosiery were the lowest for any June since 1936 and total shipments of all hosiery in June were the lowest for the month since 1935.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES
For the Southern District of New York

In the Matter of
THE PEORIA AND EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY, Petitioner.

In Proceedings for a Railroad Adjustment under Chapter XV of the Bankruptcy Act.
No. 76016.

TO THE HOLDERS OF THE FIRST CONSOLIDATED MORTGAGE BONDS OF THE PEORIA AND EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY, OR OF CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT IN RESPECT OF SUCH BONDS:

The Special Court on the 29th day of July, 1940, entered its Decree in the above entitled proceedings, approving and confirming the said Plan of Adjustment, subject to a slight modification thereof relating to representation on the Board of Directors of The Peoria and Eastern Railway Company, herein called the Peoria and Eastern, by the Income Mortgage Bondholders.

Such Decree provides in general that as soon as practicable following the expiration of sixty days from the date of entry of the Decree, steps shall be taken as provided in Article III of the Plan of Adjustment to carry the same into effect. The Decree also provides that in case The Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company, herein called the Big Four, should pay the sum of $5,000,000. in satisfaction of the Purchase Money Lien upon the Springfield Division of the Big Four to the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, as Trustee, prior to the expiration of said period of sixty days, then the payments hereinafter in this notice provided for shall be made. The Big Four has now paid to the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, as Trustee, the sum of $5,000,000. in satisfaction of the Purchase Money Lien as aforesaid.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to said Decree you are required forthwith to present to the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, as Trustee under the First Consolidated Mortgage, at the office of the Trustee at 70 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York, the First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds of the Peoria and Eastern owned by you or the Certificates of Deposit representing such Bonds, for the purpose of receiving payment of $450. on account of the principal of each $1,000. Bond.

Accrued interest will be paid at the time of the principal payment on the amount of principal so paid at the rate of 4% per annum from April 1, 1940, to the date of such payment, or to August 21, 1940, whichever date shall be the earlier, and pursuant to said Decree, interest will cease as to the portion of the principal so to be paid upon the date of payment or upon August 21, 1940, whichever date shall be the earlier.

The Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, as Trustee, upon making such principal payment, together with accrued interest on the amount so paid as aforesaid, will make notation of such payment upon the Certificates of Deposit for such Bonds where Certificates of Deposit shall have been presented and upon such Bonds where the Bonds shall have been presented, and will return the Certificates of Deposit or Bonds, as the case may be, to the owners thereof.

Dated, New York, N. Y., August 6, 1940.

THE PEORIA AND EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY,
By J. M. O'MAHONEY, Secretary.

People and Events

H. H. Lumley

Harry H. Lumley, manager of Duluth district operations of the American Steel & Wire company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, has been transferred to the Chicago district as assistant manager of operations.

Milwaukee railroad employes who have spent a quarter of a century or more in the road's service will hold a reunion Aug. 14 and 15 at the Hotel Sherman. Three thousand workers from a dozen states are expected to attend. Speakers will include H. A. Scandrett, trustee of the railroad; J. T. Gillick, chief operating officer; and H. H. Field, special counsel.

Robert F. Weinig has been appointed vice president and general manager of the Wincharger corporation, a subsidiary of the Zenith Radio corporation. He has been in charge of Zenith farm radio sales.

Expansion of Boeing Plant Held Up.

gestion of President Roosevelt to expedite the signing of defense contracts, congressional leaders today indicated that a bill combining repeal of the Vinson-Trammell act profit limitations with an excess profits tax and an amortization speed-up provision would be introduced this week.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.] of the house ways and means committee said he hoped to start hearings before the committee on Thursday.

Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the senate finance committee, said his group would accept an invitation to sit jointly with the ways and means committee. Doughton said the invitation would be extended.

Knudsen Attends Conference.

Others attending the conference were William S. Knudsen, production chief of the National Advisory Defense commission, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, Colin F. Stam, chief of staff of the joint committee on internal revenue taxation; Senators William H. King [D., Utah] and Walter F. George [D., Ga.], Representative Jere Cooper [D., Tenn.], chairman of the ways and means subcommittee working on the bill, and Representative John W. McCormack [D., Mass.].

Earlier, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. said the conference was "the result of my meeting with the President yesterday." He said he and Mr. Roosevelt had discussed the proposed legislation at length.

ADVOCATE SPEED IN AMENDMENTS TO WAGNER ACT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5 (AP).—The National Association of Manufacturers urged the senate labor committee today to hasten amendment of the Wagner act in view of increased powers which would be given the labor board under the National Guard and conscription bills.

The committee will meet tomorrow to consider amendments sponsored by Representative Smith [D., Va.] and passed by the house on June 7.

They would abolish the present labor board, set up a new three member agency to exercise only judicial functions, and confer the present board's administrative duties on an administrative officer to be appointed by the President. They also would revise labor board procedure to bring it more nearly in line with court procedure.

Average of 99.999 Bid for Treasury Bill Issue

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5 [Special].—Secretary Henry Morgenthau Jr. announced tonight that bids were accepted for $100,372,000 of 91-day treasury bills which were offered on Aug. 2. The average price was 99.999, equivalent to a rate of about 0.004 per cent. Bids ranged from par to 99.998, at which price 53 per cent of the amount bid was accepted.

16 GROUPS UNITE TO SPEED CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS

Downtown Council Backs Highway Program.

Fifteen civic and trade associations have joined with the Downtown Council to create civic interest in major improvements now before the city, it was announced yesterday. Some of the big civic betterments to be considered by the 16 organizations will be the traction ordinance, completion of the subway, and an immediate start of the superhighway program.

Organizations Back Campaign.

Organizations which are now working with the Downtown Council are: Building Managers' association; State Street council, Greater Central District association, Chicago Wholesale District Property Owners' committee; South State Street Improvement association; Wabash Avenue District association, Van Buren Street association, La Salle Street Property Owners' association, and Style Creators of the Chicago Ladies Apparel Manufacturers.

Others are: Chicago Association of Commerce, Greater Chicago Hotel association, North Central association, West Central association, South Central association, and the Citizens' Association of Chicago.

Richardson Names Chairmen.

George Richardson, trustee of the Marshall Field estate, and president of the Downtown Council, an organization of 100 business men, named the chairmen of several committees.

They are: Philip F. W. Peck, transportation committee; Frank M. Whiston, loop improvement; John T. Pirie Jr., downtown business; Wallace J. Stebbins, blighted areas; Emil A. Stake, publicity, and Walter L. Gregory, city-wide coöperation.
